Broncos Play Second 1944 Game Friday

Meet Garner Bulldogs On Home Floor

After a three weeks' break in the home basketball scedule, the Broncos will make their first appearance of 1944 before local fans tomorrow night, meeting the Garner Bulldogs.

The Belmond team had several practice seasons during Christmas vacation, and played a game on Wednesday night at Nevada. They have been rounding up well in practice and should be in good shape for their strong Garner opponents.

The Garner team has been coming fast and has lost two games so far: One of these to the powerful Forest City quintet by the close score of 38 to 36, the other to Alden in a holiday game which ended 3 to 21.

Coach Lansing has been trying several new combinations in the hope of finding more speed and better team work. He has been using Larry Dorr at forward instead of guard and has teamed Les Classick with Orland Finn at the guard positions, thus greatly adding to rebound potentialities.

Garner will bring a second team for a curtain raiser, starting promptly at 7:15.

The scarcity of officials in this vicinity made it necessary to go to Des Moines for a referee. He is Wayne Smeads, physical education Instructor at the Amos Hyatt Junior High of that city.

Farmers Urged To Buy 1943 Fertilizer Early

Farmers who plan to use commercial fertilizer in 1944 are urged by County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman to place their orders with local dealers as soon as needs are determined.

According to W. H. Pierre, head of the agronomy department at Iowa State College, field tests indicate that Iowa farmers in general can profitably use six times as much commercial fertilizer as they used in 1943. The supply is estimated at 33 per cent more nitrogen, 2[illegible] per cent more phosphate, and about the same amount of potash as was used last season. If sufficient orders are placed early, production may be increased.

Delivery should be accepted promptly to relieve crowded warehouses. Fertilizer should be stored in a dry place, off concrete, and not more than eight sacks high. This will avoid caking.

While application of fertilizer has been profitable for years on much of Iowa's legume and small grain acreage, its application is considered also profitable under present conditions on much of the state's corn acreage.

Since legume seed will be high in price and since less acreage is anticipated, it is more important than ever to apply commercial fertilizer for this crop. Lime must be applied just when the soil is acid if satisfactory results are to be obtained.

Farmers are entitled to use fertilizer whether or not they have used it before. Application is made on Form FPO revised.

Norris Nelson Fighting In Italy

Wants To "Thank God"

Miss "Little Things In Life"

A picture of Pvt. Norris Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nic Nelson of Belmond, appeared in the January 1st issue of the Des Moines Tribune as well as comments about an interview with him by Gordon Gammack, Tribune Staff Writer in the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations, who had been asking some of the men with the 34th Division in Italy this question, "If you should suddenly find yourself home tonight what's the first thing you'd want to do?"

Gammack wrote about Nelson as follows: "One evening I was with a group of Iowa soldiers at the front. They answered my questions. Then the gathering broke up. But one soldier lingered. I guess he wanted to answer the question without the others standing around.

He was Private (f. c.) Norris P. Nelson of Belmond and he said quite simply: 'I'd like to go out to St. Olaf Lutheran church in the country, sing hymns, and thank God that I was permitted to come home safe.

"Gammack writes further 'The little things in life are what the soldiers miss. They want to sit in soft chairs again, sleep on soft beds with sheets, meet their friend in the barber shops and drug stores, see the lights on the streets again and hundreds of other things like that.'"

A picture of St. Olaf church also appeared in the Tribune in connection with the story

Edith Jensen Resigns Music Position Here

Marie Schroeder Takes Over Work Second Semester

Miss Edith Jensen, vocal and instrumental music instructor in the Belmond schools, has resigned from her position effective Jan. 21, according to an announcement by Superintendent Johnson.

She will be succeeded by Miss Marie Schoeder of Dubuque when the new semester starts Jan. 24.

Miss Jensen came to Belmond in the fall of 1942 as vocal instructor and English teacher in the junior high. At the time of band leader Pascuzzi's induction into the army in the middle of the semester, she was relieved of the English classes and given the entire music program.

Under her supervision the band has given many successful concerts and has provided the music for many local events. Her girls glee club, small groups, soloists and junior high courses have been presented in many programs and in several fine operettas.

Last summer Miss Jensen remained in Belmond and conducted the school band in its series of summer concerts. During that time she started approximately 20 beginners on instruments as training for future work in the band. Her marching band which appeared at all home football games last fall was one of the best drilled in this section.

Miss Schroeder takes over Miss Jensen's duties as a graduate of the University of Dubuque and has had considerable musical training and experience. At Dubuque she was contralto soloist and director of the choir in the English Lutheran church. She did considerable vocal work in college, is an experienced pianist and organist and plays several instruments.

Miss Scroeder has been teaching all of the vocal and instrumental music in the schools of Riceville, Iowa, but has been given a release effective at the end of the first semester.

Meat Points Will Remain At Low Levels In January

Point Values On Some Vegetables Cut Sharply

Except for fresh hams and a few other items, point values to consumers for all beef, veal, lamb and pork cuts will remain at present low levels during January, C. C. Benson, chairman of the local War Price & Rationing Board announced. The new point charts become effective Jan. 2. Because of printing delays the official tables will not reach the trade until Jan. 9 so retailers are asked to clip the new charts from their newspapers for use in the interval. Pork point values remain at the reduced levels fixed on Dec. 15, with the exception of fresh hams, which are increased one point a pound back to the same value as other hams, cured or smoked. Fresh hams were cut two points, December 13, and the other hams only one point. Sliced dried beef is cut two points to twelve points. Beef tongue (short cut) is sliced at three points, a reduction of one point, and ready-to-eat sliced tongue at six points, down two points. Group Three sausage (not less than 50 per cent meat, block sausage included regardless of higher meat content), is reduced one point per pound to two points.

The January point values for canned snap beans, peas, tomatoes, and frozen fruits and vegetables were cut sharply effective Jan. 2. At the same time, jams, preserved and rationed (non-citrus) marmalades were increased to two points to a total of eight points a pound. Canned green or wax (snap) beans are given a zero point value for all sized cans, as against a December point value of five for the No 2 can. Canned peas, No. 2 can, are reduced from 18 to 15 points and other sizes proportionately. No 2½ cans of tomatoes are reduced from 21 to 16 points. Except for frozen corn, peas and lima beans which remain unchanged, all frozen vegetables are made point free

Expect Plant To Begin Processing Beans By July 1

New construction and remodeling of the General Mills soybean plant here has progressed rapidly since work was begun two months ago, inspection of the plant revealed yesterday.

At present 72 men are employed on the job under the supervision of L. J. Ashley, superintendent for the Cereal Engineering and Construction Company, which has the contract for the complete job. Sub-contractors include the Twin Cities Plumbing and Heating Company of Minneapolis and Rye and Henkel of Mason City.

Work at present has been confined to tearing out all old machinery and the construction of two fire walls extending through the roof that will divide the main building into three sections. Nearly 200,000 bricks have been used. The main building has also been insulated and the ceiling fireproofed with asbestos sheeting. Fireproofing will be so complete that a fire in one section will not endanger either of the other two. When completed the south section will contain the oil refinery beans will be received and prepared in the middle room and the north section is for the solvent plant.

Plumbers have installed temporary heat lines and permanent sewage lines and are working on the heating plant in the main boiler room.

Excavation and construction for the first six storage bins by the McKenzie-Haig company of Minneapolis will begin very soon, Mr. Ashley informed the Independent yesterday and will employ about 25 more men. The bins will be erected in the area between the main building and the highway just north of the main road to the factory. When completed they will be 27 feet in diameter, 105 high and supported by 1500, 24-foot piling. The elevating shaft will be 130 feet high from the ground to the head house. A drying building will also be constructed.

Although it now has a feeder spur on the factory property, the Great Western is expected to improve its track ballast and lay additional spurs. It was also learned the M. & St. L. will lay track into the plant on the east side.

Plans for adequate water supply call for one 16 inch well to be drilled to a depth of approximately 600 feet. This work will be done by the Layne-Western company of Ames.

Storage of the soybean meal will be in 5 large silos, four to be erected in the warehouse at the south end of the main building and one in the plant.

Mr. Ashley stated that he estimated the plant would be ready to operate, according to the company's plans, about the first of July.

Seed Oats Must Carry Certified Statement

Grain sold on the producers' farm for seed must be accompanied by a placard or written statement certifying the quality for the purchaser. According to County Extension Lirector Aaron R. Bowman, Iowa's seed law requires that such seed be accompanied by the following information.

1. Number of secondary noxious weed seeds per pound.
2. Percentage of germination.
3. Freedom from primary noxious weed seeds.

There is no law requiring sellers to have the seed tested or examined at any particular laboratory. R. H. Porter, director of the Iowa State College seed laboratory, has stated that the seller may make his own examination and test, provided it is accurate. However, most producers hire this work done for them, and Porter states that numerous seed companies are well equipped and qualified to make an official examination and test. A small fee is charged for the service.

The Iowa State College seed laboratory maintains a testing service for farmers. Samples of one pint of the large-seeded crops, or one-half pint of small seeded crops, should be sent direct to the laboratory at Iowa State College, Ames, or may be forwarded through county extension office.

BELMOND CAN SKATE—

The new ice skating rink at the school grounds will provide a fine, healthful, enjoyable winter sport for many Bemond children and young people. A few Belmond youngsters have skated on the frozen surface of the Iowa river in the past, but the new rink will provide a much larger capacity and much more safety than the river.

The new rink was made possible with a minimum of expense and effort, and it might be suggested therefore, that with just a little thought an interest on the part of both school and city, other recreational facilities might be developed in a similar manner for Belmond's youth.

At this writing the daily papers are ouoting statistics, showing that the flu epidemic is "on the wane". Everyone should be very happy at this announcement. The flu epidemic this year — although it has not brought tragedy with mortality cases as was the case during the last war—has put an additional strain on businesses, industries an professions that are already overworked.

VICTORY IS SLOW—

The slow advance of the allied armies in Italy since our invasion is evidence that the end of the war is still a long ways in the future. However, before too long we may see new develoments, rising out of the Roosevelt - Churchill - Stalin conference, which may make the picture for the allies look brighter.

EDITORS DISCUSS FARM PROBLEMS—

There is a lot of talk about the farmer, his individual present-day problems as well as the general problems of agriculture which affect the all-important food production program now and which will also have a very definite effect on the prosperity or adversity of the farmer in years hence.

"Ownership of land by individual resident farmers is the most ideal economic and social condition possible. To own land should be the ambition of every man who lives on the land. But to own land comfortably it should be bought on the basis of its normal, not its wartime, production."

Wallace's Farmer warns that production problems now should not overshadow completely plans to maintain post-war farm income."

"Test your farm leaders and your congressmen this way: Are they worrying about farm income now or what farm income will be after the war is over?

"Farm income now is the highest in history, will stay high thru the war, is likely to go into a tail-spin after the war The statesmen in the farm groups are trying to plan how to boost production now, how to maintain farm income after the war.

"But some men in the farm groups are trying to boost farm income now, are overlooking ways to get greater production today, and are avoiding the terrific problem of maintaining farm income when the war is over.

"Eighty per cent of ordinary farmers are satisfied with present farm income, but are apprehensive about post-war income. Not all their leaders have as much sense."

"Argument is advanced that food subsidies should work here because the British have had a measure of success with them. A member of the British parliament on a recent visit to the United States expressed astonishment at this reasoning.

"England, he pointed out, cannot produce what she eats. Her food must be imported. War has imposed wholly artificial obstacles to normal imports, such as ship sinkings, high insurance costs, spoilage and the like England's subsidies are designed to absorb this cost, not to increase food production.

" 'But here in the United States,' said the M. P., 'you propose to bribe your own people to produce food for you. It would never occur to the British to do such a thing.' "

The Eagle Grove Eagle gives some statistics about Iowa's food production:

"The record of Iowa's food production in 1943 was printed in last week's Eagle. It is worth clipping and sending to some of our friends down east. Iowa is the nation's largest food factory, which really went into mass production this year. Iowa raised 55% more hogs in 1943 than in 1939. Iowa produced 34% more corn this year than in 1939. Other food products were increased As director R. K. Bliss stated in making this report:

"The foregoing production has been acccomplished with older machinery and fewer workers. It will, I am sure, stand as one of the outstanding production accomplishments of the war period. I doubt whether there is a shipbuilding yard, a tank factory, or an airplane plant that can show as large an increased production per man as can the Iowa farmer. It can truly be said that Iowa is the 'Front Line in the Battle for Food'.

The Lake Mills Graphic wonders how long war boom will keep farm income high:

"Farm income in 1943 is the highest in history. Farm income in 1944 may be even higher. But farm income in 1945—who knows? After the peak of 1919—not so high as now—prices dropped in the summer of 1920. And it took 22 years and another war to bring them back to 1919 levels. War booms don't last forever"

—V—

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin gave assurance in their recent overseas conference that a democratic form of government will be guaranteed every nation after the war. That suits this writer. If it can be carried out maybe the world will be better, BUT—what if some of the nations do not want democracy—what then? Shall we make them take it?—Northwood Anchor.

—V—

It is reported that a survey made recently in Los Angeles reveals that 75 per cent of the women now engaged in war jobs do not want to return to housework after the war. Well, some of them will have to, as there will not be enough other jobs to give them employment. A very large percentage of men, too, working in war plants will have to seek other employment whether they like it or not.—Webster City Freeman.

Prittle... Prattle....

Always thought Belmond had about the oldest depot in the United States, that at the Great Western, until I learned the other day that down in Chattanooga, Tenn., one of the depots in that city was captured by the Union troops in the Civil War The building is still in use. Guess I was mistaken, the Great Western depot is just the oldest looking depot in the U. S.

There are three depots in this town owned by railroads that are all making money. The Rock Island's looks like it. Even though it is rather an aged structure it's kept painted regularly. Now that the M. & S. L. is out of the hands of the receivers and back on their own feet we're looking forward to a new coat of paint at least. That building has been kept up in pretty good shape.

P—P

But the Great Western depot is something else as it gives the impression the company is poverty stricken. . . which is far from true. A neat well-painted box car would do much to boost the moral of every passenger who gives an individual shudder of revulsion to the hanging paint and plaster and the rough and splintery floor as they enter the waiting room door. There is no time like the present for the CGW to begin making postwar plans to rebuild this tumbledown eyesore that no self-respecting businessman would care to call his own. Maybe they have, if so maybe this column will find out.

P—P

Ann Goplerud, a former Belmond teacher now a Red Cross worker in Africa has again appeared in the print of the daily papers. The occasion this time was her election as 'Miss Casablanca', one of the five queens at the Arab Bowl football game played between army and navy elevens in Oran, Algriers on New Year's Day.

P—P

Unknown to each other Dr. Leinbach and Earl Huntington traveled overseas in two different ships in the same convoy. Earl suspected that Dr. Sam was somewhere close by during action in the North African area but censorship of his inquiry for information as to the name of Dr. Leinbach's ship prohibited him from learning the name of the ship and Earl had to give up. Later he learned that each other's ships were tied up side by side in the same harbor for several days.

GETTING OUT A PAPER

(From "Fleet City News")

Getting out a paper is no picnic.
If we print jokes, people may say we are silly.
If we don't, they say we are too serious,
If we publish original matter, they say we lack variety.
If we publish things from other papers, we are too lazy to write.
If we don't show contributions, we don't show proper appreciation.
If we print them, the paper is filled with junk.
Like as not some fellow will say we purloined this from another paper.
We did—and thank him.

Miss Ida Mae Quandt spent the week end visiting friends in Des Moines.

ORCHIDS for your Standard Oil Dealer? Well, he wouldn't expect them. And yet the vital character of his job and the steadfast way he is doing it are worthy of real recognition. Without his services on the home front, the war effort would be impeded . . . For instance—millions of war workers have no way of getting to work except by auto . . . At some plants 90% of employees get to and from their jobs by car . . . 2,211 U. S. cities with 11,162,000 population have no trolleys, buses, or other transit facilities—depend on private cars.

Broncos Won Two Victories Last Week

Defeated Garner And Nevada Teams

With only one day's rest after their 33 to 20 victory over Nevada Jan. 5, the local netsters roared past Garner here last Friday night, Jan. 7, 42 to 23.

Greatly improved defensively since before the holidays, the Broncos threw up a shifting zone that completely stopped Garner in the first half of the N. I. C. game Friday night. The opposition scored only five points during the half while Belmond marked up 16.

At the start of the second half the Garner team put on a mild rally that put it within six points of Belmond, but it stopped there and the locals continued to pull away.

Larry Jones, acting captain, led the scoring with 16 points and put on a fine exhibition of faking and cutting in doing so. Time and again he faked his guard out of position and drove past him for a shot.

Bob Nelson, the opposite forward, was not far behind with 14 points, scoring most of his points with tip-in shots. Belmond's two big guards, Orland Finn and Les Classick, gobbled up most of the rebounds on defense and in general made life miserable for the Garner players.

Because of an attack of tonsilitis following the flu, Doug Walrod was not in uniform, Larry Dorr playing the center spot. As usual, he was one of the best ball-hawks on the floor.

Stille, guard, led Garner's scoring with six points.

Garner's second team defeated the Belmond reserves by a score of 19 to 16. Daryl Beaver and Ronnie Hunter each made 2 field goals for Belmond.

Going out of their conference on the longest trip of the year, the Broncos won a decisive victory over Nevada 33 to 20, Wednesday, Jan. 5.

The first quarter ended 5 to 5 but thereafter the Belmond team pulled away from their opponents and the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

Bob Nelson led Belmond's scoring with 12 points, as he gave his guards a lesson in rebounding. Nevada's star forward, Riney, also scored 12 points, while Larry Jones chalked up 9.

Defensively Dorr, Finn and Classick in the back court were more than their opponents could cope with. Though Doug Walrod was able to play only a short time, his great height made Belmond's defense even more impenitrable.

Belmond's Per Capita Tax Under Average Of 71 Iowa Cities

The 71 cities in Iowa of less than 5,000 population, according to official reports to the Auditor of State, expended $1,406,821 for cost of operation during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1943. This is a decrease of $30,937 or 2.2 per cent from the $1,437,758 reported for the previous year.

This cost is divided as follows: General government, $21,558; Protection of life and property, $285,049; Conservation of health, $2,572, Sanitation and waste disposal, $104,412, Street departments, $334,914; Parks, swimming pools and playgrounds, $42,498: Miscellaneous costs, $426,818: Total $1,406,821. Capital improvements are not included.

The average cost of city government for all 71 cities was $6.41 per person as compared with $6.58 in the preceding year.

Belmond's per capita cost for 1943 was $6.06 as compared with $5.23 in 1942, and total cost of operation was $12,778.00.

The five cities having the highest per person costs were: Bettendorf, $10.40; Spirit Lake, $9.87; Rock Rapids, $9.45: Audubon, $9.21: Cresco, $8.85. Average $9.54.

The five cities having the lowest per person costs were: Mystic, $1.67; Seymour, $2.95; West Des Moines, $3.16; Glenwood, $3.53: Colfax, $4.01. Average $3.19.

Several cities— Glenwood, Vinton, Anamosa, and Toledo — have state institutions within their corporate limits whose inmates are counted in the population, thus lowering per person costs. Independence, Mount Pleasant and Eldora have major state institutions just outside the city limits which tend to increase per person costs

Urge Farmers To Repair Farm Equipment Now

The Wright County Machinery Preparedness Program for 1944 was launched Wednesday evening, January 12th at Clarion with C. H. Van Vlack, agricultural engineering specialist of Ames, explaining the continued need for repairing the farm equipment this winter.

H. B. Vanderlip, County AAA chairman, gave information on machinery rationing regulations and allotments for Wright County.

Over 600 farm machines, mostly tractors, were reported repaired during the repair campaign conducted during the winter of 1943, through the county extension office in cooperation with implement dealers and machinery repair men.

The 1944 feed production goals for Wright County will place an even greater strain on farm machinery than last year. Iowa expects an increased allotment of new machines for 1944, yet it is estimated there will be only one new machine for about every 50 old machines.

Farmers were asked to help the repair program by:

1. Sharing machinery, tools, vehicles and other production equipment with other farmers.
2. Checking their equipment and order replacement parts early and by making timely arrangements for necessary repair services.
3. Keeping equipment in constant adjustment to secure maximum efficiency and minimum wear and breakage.
4. Servicing their equipment and vehicles regularly.

Cooperating with the machinery repair program conducted by the County Extension Service are the implement dealers, machinery repair men, blacksmiths, welders, machinery rationing committee, vocational agricultural instructors, garage operators and newspaper men.

Judgment Asked Against George Wright

Sum of $1459 Claimed By Plaintiff

Katherine Flynn, who for some time prior to September 29, 1942, operated a "Duck Pin Alley" at Eagle Grove, asks judgment against George Wright, County Attorney, who was acting as her agent, in the sum of $1459.00.

The plaintiff on September 29, 1942, made a complete settlement of all rentals due the owner of said building, with the defendant, George Wright, acting as agent for said owner.

The plaintiff received no notice to remove his alleys or any of his equipment, and did not remove the same from the building. About September 23, 1943, the plaintiff was informed that the defendant, George Wright had converted all of the plaintiff's property, hereinafter set out in detail, to his own use and benefit without the knowledge or consent of this plaintiff.

Then when demand was made upon the defendant, George Wright, by this plaintiff and her attorney, for these alleys and this equipment, this defendant told them that they were not available and refused to state where either the alleys or any part of the equipment was, or to compensate the plaintiff and his property.

The conversion took place some time subsequent to September 29, 1942 and prior to September 23, 1943, the exact date not known to plaintiff.

All of the alleys and all of the equipment named and set out belonged to the plaintiff and the defendant, George Wright, without any right, title or interest in or to said property has converted the same to his own use, illegally or unlawfully.

The fair and reasonable value of the alleys and equipment, at the time of the conversion by the defendent, was as follows:

4 maple alleys, $1200.00; 5 benches and elevation, $100.00; score tables, $20.00; stove and pipe, $25; pine knot partition, $12.00; plywood office and shelves, $20.00; 12 bowling balls, $60.00; miscellaneous articles, $ 5.00 and burlap curtains, $15.00; total, $1459.00.

By the foregoing, the defendant George Wright is indebted to the plaintiff and judgment is asked in the sum of $1459.00 together with interest at 5 per cent per annum from the date of the said conversion until judgment has been paid and also for costs of this action

FarmersCreamery Contemplating Drying Whole Milk

Survey Among Farmers Will Determine Practicability

Two representatives, Messrs. Thompson and Schmidt, of the Omaha Bank of Coops., met with the directors of the Farmers Creamery on Wednesday, January 5, to discuss the possibility of installing milk drying equipment at the local creamery, the project to be financed by the government and all of the product to go to Lend-Lease and the Armed Forces.

A survey is being taken to determine the amount of whole milk available in this territory. Cards are being sent to farmers on which they are asked to express themselves in regard to selling whole milk.

The whole milk would be purchased according to butterfat content at the present price, plus an additional allowance of 50 to 70 cents per hundredweight, according to the volume of business, for the skim milk. There is also a government subsidy of 30c per hundredweight for sales of whole milk.

Results of the survey will determine whether the project would be practical in this community.

Announcement has been made this week by Dave Erickson of the Farmers Implement Company that his firm is now open for business in the old Opera House building on Main street which they purchased recently.

Relate Experiences In Mediterranean Area

Huntington Describes Torpedo Hit on USS Savannah

Earl Huntington Quartermaster 3|c, in the Navigation Division, visiting here this week after 200 days duty on the Cruiser U S. S. Savannah in the Mediterranean, said, "There is nothing I would like better than to come back to Belmond and settle down for the rest of my life."

The U. S. S. Savannah will be remembered as the ship which made the headlines in daily papers early in September when one of its gun turrets was hit by a radio-controlled aerial torpedo which killed all the men on duty at that station. Huntington described this type of torpedo as having wings and a devise by which it is steered from the plane launching it. He narrowly escaped when the torpedo hit since he had gone to the wash room for about 30 minutes. He was on his way back to the deck when the torpedo struck and was blown out of the hatchway. He said, "The sensation I had was of a terrific pressure. I felt as if I were going to burst."

Huntington told of an incident when his hair actually stood on end, so straight that his hat fell off his head. He explained that this was caused by the vacuum created by all the guns on the ship being fired continuously.

Although the torpedo ripped an immense whole clear through the vessel, Huntington's ship got to a port at the Island of Malta where they stayed for three month's while the ship was being repaired. Earl describes the Maltese people as very friendly and hospitable. He said in large part they continue to live in caves and caverns, since very little of the island has been rebuilt. He also spent the summer months in Algiers and Oran in North Africa, and tells of the services of the Red Cross to the armed forces there as being very fine.

The U. S. S. Savannah, a cruiser, is strictly a warship, 680 feet long, next in size to a battleship. It carried five planes which could

Leinbach Tells Of His Duty On Auxiliary Hospital Ship

Lieut. S. P. Leinbach, (M. C.) U. S. N. R., who was home for a few days last week after several months' active duty in the Mediterranean area, spoke before an assembly at the school house on Friday afternoon and told about some of his experiences aboard an auxiliary hospital ship.

One of the things that Lieut. Leinbach stressed was how fortunate we are to have been born and reared in the best part of the best country in the world. After seeing parts of North Africa, Sicily, Italy, and even Great Britain, he says, "This is really God's country."

About the Arabs in North Africa, he said, "They are a sorry lot. I have never seen such disgusting people. They are dirty, lazy dishonest, degenate." He visited an Arab school which he could smell for two blocks, and found the school room quite barren, the children poorly dressed and poorly nourished, even though they had come from the best Arab families. Leinbach says that the United States is doing an excellent job of feeding these people and that is all they have to live on. "The only reason that they can survive is because we are kind to them", he remarked "and I think the future of the world depends on how we handle such people who haven't had their fair share of the riches of life."

Italy he describes as a very beautiful, mountainous country. He saw the historic, cultural city of Naples where the Germans had destroyed everything of value. The harbor of Naples was full of sunken ships, between two and three hundred, many of them scuttled by the Germans and the others sunk by bombing.

Another formerly beautiful city, Bizerte, Lieut. Leinbach saw in complete ruin and absolutely deserted by its 100,000 population.

"The Germans," he says, "are good fighters and worthy opponents, and with but few exceptions, are just as surly and inhuman as

"SHOULD BOTH PARTIES NOMINATE ROOSEVELT?"

It has long been our opinion that the political parties of this country could get along better with each other and do more efficient work for the voters who elect their candidates to office, if we had MORE "Conservative Democrats" and MORE "Liberal Republicans."

Quicky changing modern times, bringing constantly new and increasing problems demand progressive thinking by liberal, open-minded people. On the other hand, too much liberalism may be disastrous, not only in politics and government, but also in business, industry, society, religion —any phase of human life. One type of thinking and acting, therefore, acting as a check on another type, which may be quite opposite, is important and necessary to preserve well balanced living.

The ideas presented in a magazine article entitled "Should BOTH Parties Nominate Roosevelt?", written by Vincent L. Gallagher, Assistant U. S. Manager, Pearl American, N. Y. C., and brought to our attention recently, might be a long first step in the direction of closer cooperation between our two major political parties. if such an agreement or arrangement as suggested by Mr. Gallagher could be worked out, it would certainly meet with our approval and we are sure it would also meet with the approval of thousands of other American citizens who believe in politics as a means to an end rather than the end in itself.

Mr. Gallagher's article is as follows.

"Few honesty dispute Mr. Roosevelt's capacity for leading us successfully through the war. However, there are many who are sincerely of the opinion that the country's domestic well-being would be benefited by a change of administration. Thus, in 1944, assuming Mr. Roosevelt's intention to run for the Presidency again, there will be the regrettable pull in the hearts and minds of many voters between the man best quaified to be Commander-in-Chief during the war years and the other candidates whose program for domestic administration and economy they may deem preferable.

Can we arrange affairs so that Mr. Roosevelt can apply himself completely to the job of running the war without spending time in a campaign for re-eection?

With the cooperation of both political parties, I think the country can have a "free" election, free in the sense that inasmuch as we stand united on the war effort, our votes shall be cast on the only real issue, the type of domestic economy and administration the majority of us prefer.

"Let President Roosevelt execute a solemn and public pledge that within six months following the cessation of hostiities in Europe, if he be elected President, he will resign.

"Then both parties. Democratic and Republican, nominate him for President in 1944.

"Each party nominate its own candidate for Vice President who, if elected will automatically become President when Mr. Roosevelt resigns.

"The tickets might thus be Roosevet and Byrnes against Roosevelt and Dewey or Roosevelt and Bird against Roosevelt and Willkie.

"Thus, the Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy would remain Commander-in-Chief until the war is over. Mr. Roosevelt's undisputed genius for military strategy need not be sacrificed.

"Mr. Roosevelt would retire from office amid the plaudits of the country freely given to a successful leader. No ugly mud-slinging would smear his career at its cose.

His successor, the elected Vice President, would succeed to the office of President with the background of training and experience gained as Vice President."

EDITH JENSEN RESIGNS—

The personnel of the Belmond Independent wishes to express appreciation for the fine work done by Miss Edith Jensen in the Music Department of the Belmond schools.

Miss Jensen's work has been particularly outstanding because in addition to her regular duties as vocal music instructor, she took over and handled with success the instrumental music and band which had previously been regardeed as a man's job, when Belmond's band man was inducted into the armed services. Not only did Miss Jensen maintain the work in the latter department with satisfaction, but she built it up during the summer months by training many new members.

We feel that we can speak for the whole town of Belmond when we say that we shall miss Edith Jensen's presence here and regret losing her fine services to the school and the commnity.

EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY—

Another evidence of general prosperity in Iowa is the announcement in a daily paper last week to the effect that several hundred Iowans had paid federal income taxes or balances due March 15 and state income taxes due March 31 during the first few days of the year.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

The president suggests junking the Nudeal and the nation applauds, excepting the legions of job holders and yes men. The president's senior secretary, Steve Early announces the scuttling in the following statement:

"The phrase was born back in the days of the 1932 emergency, and it was the slogan thru the campaign."

"This is now 1943."

But the country, not the president, made up the chief executive's mind. The country long ago repudiated the Pendergast, Hague, Kellv. Nash domination of the country in the name of "reform". The president at long last has recognized the obvious. What a blessing for the country! —Eagle Grove Eagle.

Wonder what the south will do in the matter of allowing negro soldiers to vote? Not many of them can vote in the south during time of peace and it is unlikely that many of the colored soldiers will be allowed to vote next year. We often hear that "if he is old enough to fight he is old enough to vote," but we seldom hear that "if he is old enough to fight he is good enough to vote", if he happens to be colored.—Webster City Freeman.

There is a move to repeal the state income tax law. Income taxes always come out of the ultimate consumer or he who buys and keeps the goods the man who pays the tax manufactures. It can be no other way. As example: When a new tax is placon autoes it is added to the price of the car. The same with everything that is produced.

The people would be better of if all income taxes were repealed and those paying them forced to sell their products at an equally lower pri[illegible]. That would cheapen productor for the consumer. It wouldn't give [illegible] politicians he vast amount of [illegible] to spend—which is the reason [illegible] is not done.—Humboldt Repul[illegible]

Sunday morning was the coldest snap of the season, 28 below, yet it did not seem as cold as it was when the thermometer was way above zero. It is the condition of the atmosphere to a large extent that makes one chilly or not. There the many times in country south of Iowa when the mercury stands well up and the wet chill is much worse to bear than a clear, frosty morning with a good many degrees of cold.

Prittle... Prattle....

Guess it's about time I was getting off another letter to you fellows in tht service after procrastinating for the last month, which has been a busy month here in the office. Have been thinking since last Friday night when Belmond and Garner played basketball here that the best part about it was is seeing you men come home. What brought that to my mind was seeing men like Dr. Leinbach, there, who hasn't been home for more than a year, Doug Klemme and Leonard Johnson, two more who haven't seen the inside of their homes for months.

P—P

Hardly a week goes by but some of you men drop in on the folks, and are they tickled. There are a good many of you though who haven't been that fortunate. Jim Waddington to mention one who was shipped out as soon as he finished his training. Ursel Nolte, Larry Gunderson and Walter Butterfield, three more who haven't been back.

P—P

Quite a lot of the boys were able to get back for a few days after finishing their basic training but it was only once for them in almost a year. Have seen Merle Obrecht, who is now overseas and "Wally" Cramer, Earl Huntington, who has been back a couple of times and has seen plenty of action in between leaves, Curt Chamberlin now overseas made it and so did Merle Bonte who is also across.

P—P

I know the list of names above and those below aren't anywhere near complete, but with so many of you gone it's hard to keep a record of everyone in the file I have tucked away in the old bean.

P—P

Gordon Buchanan who sold Mercurys for Belmond Auto Co is now at Camp Peary, Dwight Boughton and Don Beneke are overseas. Luin Cox was here for a day last Saturday and is being sent to a school in New Orleans. Luin has been stationed somewhere in Canada. If you read the service column most of you know that Ray Davis and Martial Holtzbauer got together in England not long ago and I'll bet they had a swell gab fest as any two fellows from the same town and thousands of miles from home would have.

P—P

Two more who haven't been around for a long time and now separated from this country by plenty of water are Earl Finn and Lowell Hass, a couple of boys who liked to play kittenball and probably do now if they ever get the chance. Although he left from Lake Mills where he was practicing, Dr. Paul Johnson is still from Belmond. Paul has been "down-under" for a mighty long time. Incidentally we're pretty happy around this office because the chances are pretty good that George Hansen will be dropping in on us the latter part of this month.

P—P

Among the younger fellows in this country and overseas are Don Benson, Bob Burrows, Clark Chamberlin, Roger and Eugene Johnson, Reynold Kinseth, jr., Don Norris, Curtis Rise and Norris Wilson. I know that list is far from complete but the boys I haven't mentioned in that age group you can just consider as being in.

P—P

Still on maneuvers and being shoved from here to there and getting d—— tired of it are Bob Smith and Gordon Kessler. They's just about given up hope of their outfits ever seeing action, but I guess it is just one of those things that can't be explained until it is all over.

P—P

Well, guess this is it for the time being and to those of you who read this, don't hesitate to drop the Independent a line when you get the chance. We enjoy hearing from you and about your experiences

:-The "Crow's Nest"-:

By George C. Hansen, Prtr. 3-c

Rescuing The Navy

A sailor attended divine service in New York. Coming out of the church, he saw an enthusiastic, middle-aged lady bearing down on him. Before she got within hailing distance, however, a third worshiper, an old gentleman sidled up to him and muttered, "She's going to ask you to Sunday dinner. Don't go, she'll talk your head off" Sure enough, the lady did ask him. He refused (he had another engagement anyhow.) As he strolled away, the old gentleman overtook him. "That's my contribution to the war effort," he said. "I warn service men about that woman."—The New Yorker

OBITUARY

CHARLES J. BAXTER

Charles James Baxter, eldest child of Henry and Margaret Lukas was born July 13, 1876, near Jacksonville, Ill., and departed this life Dec. 31, 1943, at the age of 67 years, 5 months and 18 days. For the past two years he has been in failing health having a chronic heart ailment. After weeks of hospitalization he was happy to be permitted, as he had wished to do to return to his own home and loved ones. It was there he peacefully passed away.

In 1882 the Baxter family moved to Wright County, Iowa, and settled on a farm northwest of Belmond. In this vicinity Charlie spent his entire life. He was a faithful attendant of Sands Memorial Congregational church and a member in good standing of King Solomon's Masonic Lodge No. 210 and of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

He leaves to mourn his passing his two daughters, Margaret Helen and Florence Elizabeth; one step son, Alvin Allen and his wife Ruby and son Arnold; three sisters, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Fred Gillett and Mrs. A. C Lieuwen, and one brother, George, all of Belmond.

Dear Poultry Raiser:

Our job for 1944 is to meet our government's request for an increase in egg and poultry production over that in 1943, and it's time to place your chick orders as many of our customers have already done.

The purpose of our opening day is to bring this matter to your attention as well as give us an opportunity to visit with the many customers and friends who come in.

During the present year we will produce two grades of chicks...AAA and AA. The AAA grade chicks are hatched from eggs from the flocks of J. O. Coombs and Son's contest winning Pedigreed ROP Leghorns. We will also have the White Rock and New Hampshire Red breeds in the same grade. You may be sure that our prices and quality are in line with those of the other leading hatcheries.

As a special inducement to order early, a $1 bottle of Russell's "Korum" Remedy will be given free for all orders of 500 chicks, incuding deposit, on Wednesday, Jan. 19th opening day. Last year this hatchery prouced 150,000 chicks and even then some of our former customers who waited until the last minute to order were disappointed. We will also have sexed chicks again this year.

If you are unable to be in Alexander on our opening day and wish to take advantage of our free offer, your attention is called to the convenient order blank below. Thank you for past orders and we hope to see you on Wednesday.

Sincerely
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hensel.

Faculty Members To Furnish Pre-induction Data To Examiners

Data prepared by high school faculty members will be used in the future to help selected service examiners decide whether to accept or reject boys being inducted into the annual service.

This fact was announced at a meeting of superintendents at Algona early this month which Mr. Johnson attended. Two officers from state selective service headquarters explained the reasons for calling on the schools and explained in detail how to fill out the necessary forms.

A questionare on each boy over fifteen years of age leaving school for any reason will be filled out by at least five faculty members then filed at the local draft board. The main purpose of data given on this form is to help the scientists determine whether or not the inductee is emotionally stable enough for military service

Educational experience and work summary will also be filed with the draft board. This will show selective service officers the scholastic ability of the inductee as well as his interests and hobbies.

Also explained at the Algona meeting was a plan of providing tours of Camp Dodge for high school boys soon drafted. These tours are arranged on a county wide basis, each school in county being represented. The boys participating spend three days in Camp Dodge with no expense for board and room and are given opportunities to observe all phases of induction. The date for Wright county tour has not yet been set.

A vocal music assembly program will be given January 14th by the Girls Glee Club.

Their program will include excerpts from the cantata "Chimes of the Holy Night," one of their favorite tunes, "Old Man River," and "This is Worth Fighting For." Lorraine Quigley will sing some popular songs.

School Enrollment Is Same as 4 Pupils Leave And 4 Enter

The pupils who have left here are: Beverly Madsen, who is a Junior in high school; Keith Madsen, who is in second grade; Allen Madsen, who is in third grade; and Marilyn Madsen, who is in sixth grade.

The new pupils in the Belmond school are: Verda Mennenga, who is in fourth grade; Kilo Mennenga who is in second grade, and Dean Pruseiman, who is in Kindergarten. Patsy Champlin is in ninth grade and was transferred from Fort Dodge. She is well known here as she has attended school in Belmond before.

There were four pupils who have left Belmond since vacation. Four new pupils have come here to school, so we broke even in the loss and gain in the number of pupils.

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome these new students into the Belmond Public School.

Miss Neff Still Absent From Duties Because Of Father's Illness and Death

School was in full swing Monday morning after three weeks vacation. Everything was normal except two staff members.

Miss Wendlandt decided three weeks vacation wasn't enough, so she came down with the flu and stayed home three more days. Mrs. Hildebrand took her place in teaching the history classes and economics class for that time.

Miss Neff will be delayed at least three or four more days because of her father's death. Mrs. Hoyt Klemme has taken her classes.

Editorial Comment

Well, here we are back at the old grind again after a three weeks vacation. Just one semester left but that isn't enough time in which to accomplish all that we should have accomplished from our high school days.

Take itt from any older person, underclassmen — study diligently, work hard, and get a store of knowledge plus enjoyment from your studies because once you're out on your own it's too late to go back and start over again.

Many of you should take school more seriously than you have been That's the way our parents want it, so let's have it that way.

Pupils Exceed Goal In Jeep Drive; Buy Five Jeeps in Six Weeks

Final report on the Jeep Drive which was held from October 20, to December 7, shows very successful cooperation from everyone.

The total amount of bonds and stamps bought by the entire school was $5,818.97 or enough to buy five Jeeps. One Jeep costs $1165.

Elementary school total was $1,589.66. First grade bought the most in this group, or a total of $324.70.

Junior high bought $440.15 in bonds and stamps while high school jumped up with a total of $3789.16. The freshmen outdid everyone else in school when they bought $1569.64 in bonds and stamps. Although the sophomores did not get as high as the freshmen they deserve honorable mention however. Their total amount was $1338.51.

As a reward for the class buying the largest amount of bonds and stamps, the student council has decided that they shall be given the last two periods of some Friday, to be designated by Mr. Faris, to spend as they wish.

The high school faculty as well as grade teachers seemed pleased with the report. Everyone willingly did their part and let's still keep on buying War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

In The Bronco Corral

Back to School Again!!. Well, it seems mighty good after three weeks away. I do believe it did everyone, teachers, too, loads of good.

I want to take this opportunity to wish everyone a "Happy New Year." We all hope it will be a victorious one, and what could bring more happiness!

The Senior fellow to grasp the spotlight for the first time in 1944 is,—Well, he's 5'11" tall, has brown hair, (I haven't noticed hiseyes, but maybe B. U. could tell you what color they are) and he "comes out" with a different necktie every day. He spends most of his time around the theatre and at the Uhlenhopp residence. Oh, oh, I gave it away now!

The girl at the top of the list this week didn't get there because of her height. Cause she's just 4'10". She has light brown hair and hazel eyes. When seen with her favorite of the opposite sex, one immediately thinks of "Mutt and Jeff". (How tall are you Dick) When through school, she plans to join the world's proudest profession and be a U. S Cadet Nurse. She's none other than our editor.

I hope Santa was good to everyone! And that reminds me of the little moron that cut off his arms because Santa gave him a sleeveless sweater.

Let's all make the New Year's Resolution to keep on buying those war stamps. If we're going to have a Victorious Year, it's up to us to make it that way!

Broncos Meet Britt Team In north Iowa Conference Tilt Tomorrow Night

Belmond Bronchos will meet Britt in a North Iowa conference game at Britt tomorrow night, January 14.

Belmond's big team is a heavy favorite to win over the weakest five that Britt has had on the floor for many years. Co-champions last year Britt was hit hard by graduation, has not yet won a conference game.

Coach Lansing will probably have the opportunity to give varsity game experience to several reserves, including Roger Pals, Paul Dempsey and Daryl Beavers, otherwise the line up will consist of the regulars who have been carrying the load in previous games.

The Bronchos will play another out-of-town game next Tuesday, January 18. This will be against the Klemme team which lost to the local team earlier in the season by a score of Bob McBride.

Band Will Appear In Last Performance Under Miss Jensen's Direction

The thirty-two members of the concert band will play their last concert under the baton of Miss Jensen on January 21st in an all school assembly. Their program will include two overtures, several snappy marches, and one or two novelty numbers.

The woodwind and brass ensemble will add a bit of flavor with such student favorites as "Shorten-'in' Bread", "Little Brown Jug," "Oh Suzanna' and several others.

Since we have a home basketball game, several pep girls will present a short skit, and the students will join the band in their school song "On You Broncos"

WEIGHED IN THE BALANCE...

and found Ready and Able!

The new year is under way. What achievements are to be recorded on its pages no one can say.

In looking back on '43 there is great satisfaction in the transportation job that has been done. America's railroads performed brilliantly. Millions of fighting men were moved with clock-like regularity . . . millions of tons of war materials were transported with amazing precision.

But America's railroads live in the present and plan for the future. The achievements of '43, however noteworthy, are history. Laudable, yes, but useful now only insofar as they provide the railroads with the experience necessary for greater and still greater achievement.

And so we have moved into another year, to face with confidence the war job still to be done. It's a big task . . . a tremendous task. But every ROCK ISLAND employe is determined to do his part to see it through. This war for Freedom is our war, too.

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

NOT A BOBCAT

An animal originally described as a bobcat in the Grinnell Herald Register was later claimed by Game Warden Lemke to be a domestic cat turned wild. The animal is known as a "Timber cat", sometimes called a tiger cat, striped black with gray with apparently some Persian blood in it which made the fur very fluffy. Lemke stated that many times the domestic cats revert to the wild and make their homes either in the ground or in trees. The "wild cat" was killed by Warren and Merle Broders.

"I'd Quit Farming If I Didn't Have Electricity" Says.....
G.H.Ruehmann
Scott County
Dairyman

HERE is Mr. Ruehmann's story in his own words:

"On this 176-acre farm we have been increasing our use of electricity since the highline was installed in 1929. My acceptance is as complete as your service — and that is about 100%.

"As owner and operator of the White Rose Dairy, near Davenport — using 34 electric motors, electric shop equipment, electric lights, an electric milking machine, an electric water heater, an electric range, an electric water system, and most every other electrical device, I would say that I'd quit farming if I didn't have electricity.

"My number one pet (if there is such a thing as splitting up convenience, dependability and savings) is probably our electric pressure water supply system. However, the electric four unit milking machine in our 58-stall dairy surely is a time, money and work saver. The more I think of it, the more convinced I am that my choice is simply electricity with a capital "E" — rather than any one specific type of equipment. On a farm there are 101 jobs to do, and if you have electricity you can get these jobs done." (Signed) G. H. Ruehmann

If your farm is not electrified, we suggest that you have the representative of this company call and explain how the WPB's new [illegible] line extension policy can help you increase production and cut costs without further delay!

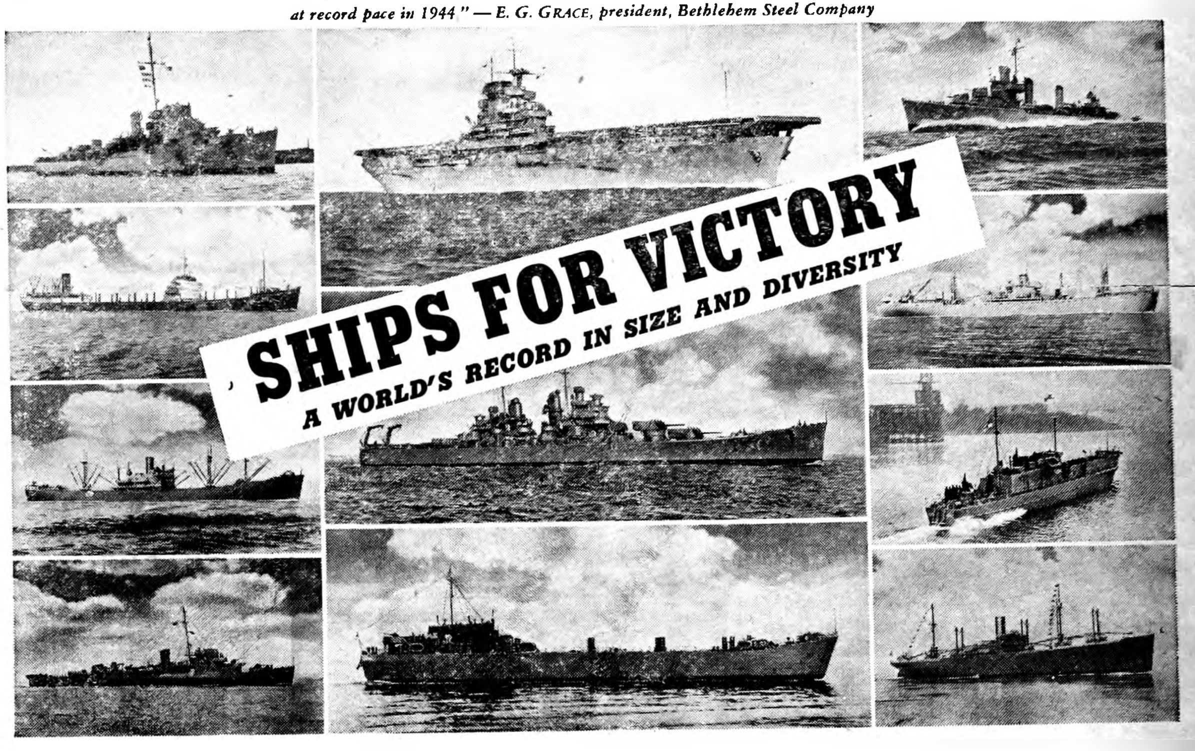
"Ships are essential to Victory, and we shall continue our job of building them at record pace in 1944" — E. G. GRACE, president, Bethlehem Steel Company



Bethlehem in '43 built 380 fighting and cargo ships.

Value of the year's program equivalent to 1,000 Liberty ships.

"A SHIP A DAY," with a number to spare, was the record production delivered by Bethlehem in 1943 to the United States Navy, the British Navy and the U. S. Maritime Commission. This program was the greatest in magnitude and diversity ever accomplished by a private builder in the world's history. It marked the fulfillment of a promise made by Bethlehem a year ago to build in 1943 an average of "a ship a day" of major fighting and cargo craft.

The list of ships includes aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers, virtually every type of fighting craft, as well as a large number of Liberty ships and other cargo vessels. In addition, Bethlehem ship repair yards converted, repaired, and serviced over 7,000 vessels, a vital contribution toward keeping the Allied fleets in fighting trim.

Measuring the program by Liberty ships, a battleship is equal to forty Liberty ships; and the value of the year's work in Bethlehem's shipbuilding division was the equivalent of over 1,000 Liberty ships.

Part of National Program — Bethlehem is permitted to publish these facts as part of our country's total program. Led by the U. S. Navy and the U. S. Maritime Commission, America's shipbuilding in 1943 has been a national triumph of production.

We salute our fellow shipbuilders and their distinguished records.

We thank our thousands of suppliers whose efforts have been essential to our contribution.

We congratulate the men and women in the Bethlehem organization, in shipyards, steel plants, factories, mines, and in every division, all of whom have had a part in this effort.

Harder Task Ahead — The year's work in Bethlehem's shipyards, steel mills and other departments has been done by 300,000 men and women. More will be needed. Already a larger shipbuilding task has been assigned to us for 1944. We shall undertake that job with the knowledge that it must be done, at maximum pace, to hasten the day of Victory.

★ 38 TYPES OF SHIPS ★

their feelings, as we have learned about them." He told, however, that the Germans have been conscientious about observing the rules of warfare under the Geneva treaty, and that he did not know of any hospital ship that had been deliberately bombed by them.

"The American soldier and sailor are tops," was another statement of Lieut. Leinbach. "I have taken care of many of them as casualties We learned that the people of Italy were not frightened when American bombers flew over their cities because of their great accuracy and because they only bombed military targets."

Leinbach said that the auxiliary hospital ship, on which he had duty, had one fine large operating room well equipped and two or three smaller operating rooms. There were five doctors and 18 corpsmen. The work of these ships is to receive wounded who are given first aid on the beaches. Then after immediate treatment, the casualties are moved back to hospitals on land bases. Lieut. Leinbach's ship had a capactiy to care for about 200 men. He regards the use of blood plasma as one of the most important things responsible for saving so many lives in this war and keeping the mortality rate low

Business Men To Solicit Every Individual For Purchase Of Bonds

$183,500 Is Quota For Belmond Territory

Roy A. Henderson, chairman of the Fourth War Loan Drive for Belmond announced today that his committee met on Tuesday evening to make plans for the campaign. After much discussion as to the most feasible pran for conducting the drive tor the sale of bonds in the city, the committee decided to ask all business places in Belmond to close on the afternoon of Thursday, January 27, from 1:00 o'clock p. m. until 4:00 p. m. for a "Bond Rally Day" during which time the business men will personally solicit every potential bond purchaser in the city.

"The responsibility for the success of the Fourth War Loan Drive rests not with one individual nor with one committee, but with the entire community," is the statement of Chairman Henderson.

The plan was approved by both Ed Kennedy, Mayor, and C. C. Christie, President of the Community Club. Mayor Kennedy states, "I know the citizens of Belmond will do their share in this drive and help put the Fourth War Loan over the top."

The decision to conduct the local Fourth War Loan in this manner was made after learning of the success of many other cities and even whole counties, which made their drives in a similar way. Mr. Christie, on behalf of the Community Club, says, "I am confident that I express the attitude of every Belmond business man in gladly accepting this responsibility. Your Community Club urges 100 per cent cooperation."

Belmond's quota in the Fourth War Loan is $183,500 and its territory includes the city of Belmond and the adjacent rural area served by the First State Bank of Belmond. The quota for the county is $892,000; for the state, $17/,000,000. 57 per cent of the Fourth War Loan is assigned to series "E" bonds.

A total of $3,881.25 in bonds was purchased at the First State Bank on Tuesday, Jan. 18, the opening day of the Fourth War Loan. If Belmond meets its quota, an average of $6,653.00 will have to be spent in the purchase of bonds per day by the closing date of the drive on Feb. 15.

Members of the local Fourth War Loan committee will meet again on Monday evening January 24, to complete plans for the "Bond Rally Day." They will divide the town—first into wards, then into districts, and finally will assign lists of the individuals to be interviewed by the various business men. Members of this committee include C. P. Luick and J. Greenlander, Ward 1; C. C. Christie and E F. Bailey, Ward 2; Ben Fetrow and F. D. Fulton, Ward 3.

FREDRIC BOHNING TELLS OF WORK IN ITALY DRIVING AMBULANCES

Fredric Bohning writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bohning on December 31, about his work somewhere in Italy. His letter says, "You asked me to tell you something about our work. There is not a great deal to tell except that primarily we drive ambulances carrying wounded soldiers from the field to the dressing stations and hospitals. The fighting right now is in the mountains, and the going is hard Many of the men are wounded up on the crest of the mountain and the ambulances can't get to them because of lack of roads. Stretcher bearers have to carry them down to the ambulances which some times is two or three miles. . .

"I think I told you that we are serving with the British. We wear British army uniforms, they feed us, etc. However, we carry the wounded of all nations. Some of our work is right at the front and sometimes between hospitals several miles back While operating at the front we don't sleep in our ambulances. It just isn't safe. The safest place is to dig a hole and sleep in it. I hope this [illegible] you some idea of what our work consists. It isn't exactly the most pleasant work, it's rather bloody business, but someone has to do it."

Plain Figures

The Fourth War Loan Drive is on. It started all over the U. S. A. on Tuesday, January 18. Iowa is asked to purchase $177,000,000 in bonds; Wright county, $892,000 and Belmond $183,500.

These figures may seem staggering at a first glance but they are not, really. And we can show you why in VERY PLAIN FIGURES.

The last statement, made in January, 1944, of the First State Bank of Belmond, which serves depositors in a wide radius of the city, showed individual deposits subject to check totalling $1,363,605.44.

Belmond's Foutrh War Loan quota of $183,500 is approximately 13½ per cent of the amount of money in checking accounts at the local bank.

Looking back to January1, 1941, before the United States was actually in the war, we found that local deposits subject to check were $516,828.80.

Taking into consideration the increased cost of living and the taxes we must pay, it should still be quite an easy matter to take 13½% or more out of local deposits to purchase bonds in the Fourth War Loan Drive and still have sufficient left over for current expenses, living costs and capital for business operations in the immediate future.

Broncos Defeat Klemme For Eighth Win

Game Ends With Score Of 54 to 30

The Belmond Broncos added another victory to their basketball season when they defeated the Klemme Shamrocks at Klemme on Tuesday night, with a score of 54 to 30. This made the eighth victory for the local team as compared with two games lost.

Bob Nelson was high point scoring man with a total of 19 points. Johnny Jones fouled out in the last quarter, but not until he had played a good game and added 18 points to the total score. Both Finn and Classick played a stellar defensive game.

Near the climax Coach Lansing sent in the second team with the exception of one player and even then provided stiff competition for the Klemme five.

The Broncos made a season's record in three throws Tuesday evening, making 8 out of 14

Pre-Induction Exams Given At Camp Dodge

Given 21 to 45 Days To Get Ready

Several Wright county men will be sent to Camp Dodge the latter part of January to take their pre-induction physical examinations, under the newly revised selective service set up, it was announced this week by the Wright County Selective Service Board. The men who pass the examination will be placed in a "pool" for calls to be made in February and thereafter.

Beginning February first there will be no local physical examinations, or screenings. Men will be given a five-day notice to report at Camp Dodge for their pre-induction physical examinations and if they pass these tests they will have from twenty-one to forty-five days before reporting for induction. Furloughs immediately after induction will be discontinued, however.

In filling pre-induction physical examination calls, the local board will first select volunteers, then non-fathers, and finally fathers.

Appeals for re-classification can be made after the pre-induction examinations. For example, a man re-classified from 3A to 1A and called for his pre-induction examination at Camp Dodge, might afterward appeal and be re-classified 2A or some other classification and deferred.

Beginning February first there will be separate calls for the army and the navy, the local board has been notified.

The board pointed out that in addition to the men who will be sent to Camp Dodge late this month for pre-induction examinations, there will also be a regular call, under the present system, and several men who have already passed their local screenings will be sent to Camp Dodge for induction into the Army or Navy service.

Earl Finn Home from S. Pacific

Carried Invasion Troops

His Barge Made 5 Landings

Earl Finn, Motor Machinist's Mate 1|c, arrived in Belmond this week on a 30-day leave after 13 months' overseas duty in the Southwest Pacific area.

Finn says, "we touched about every island of any importance in the Southwest Pacific as well as many ports on the eastern coast of Australia and we operated out of Milne Bay New Guinea for a period of nine months."

Finn's duty was with the Amphibious Unit on an infantry landing barge, a small craft 26 feet wide by 158 feet long with flat bottom and propelled by Diesel engines. These barges are used for the transportation of troops from bases to points of invasion. Finn's ship made five initial landings in the Bismark Sea area off the coast of New Britain, during invasions in the late summer and early fail, and was still afloat when he left for the States.

During landings they were under attack by strafing planes 15 times and were hit by incendiary shells which started fires on the barge.

Earl says, "During an attack one is too busy to be scared, but after it is all over and there is time to relax is when the bad effects start At times like that about all you have to depend on is your religious faith."

Finn explained that the men on the landing barges can't have the variety of food that is available in some divisions of the Navy since there isn't room for much refrigeration. 90 per cent of the time they lived on canned rations. He says, "After living so long on dehydrated food, I found on my return home that my stomach had shrunk so much I can't possibly eat all the tempting home cooked foods I have been dreaming about."

Finn described the Australians as very hospitable and friendly and their country's climate as being very much like ours except that their seasons are just the opposite. He had a chance to see many natives of the islands around New Guinea and he remarks about them, "They are very friendly, quite well educated in Christian missions, and most of them speak English."

Finn received a Good Conduct Medal from Washington and also a commendation from his commanding officer which read as follows: "The Commanding Officer gives commendation to this man for his courage and devotion to duty while under fire in the Amphibious Operations 12 miles east at Lae, New Guinea, September 4 and 6, 1943."

NATIONAL SERVICE LAW

The Traer Star-Clipper in its editorial column recently referred to a defense worker who squandered his wages and was asked how he expected to pay his income tax. "That's easy," he answered. "If they bother me I'll quit work."

Such an attitude as expressed by the above mentioned defense worker is about as unpatriotic as any we have ever heard. Doubtless there are hundreds and thousands of others with a similar attitude, and it is for this reason that we believe Congress should by all means support the president's request for "A national service-law—which for the duration of the war, will prevent strikes and, with certain appropriate exceptions, will make availabe for war production or for any other essential services every able-bodied adult in this nation."

ENTITLED TO A REST

We are told that in the 34th Division of the American Army in Italy there is such a great demand for "A furlough back home" that it constitutes a morale problem which has been acknowledged by War Department intelligence officers.

While we can understand that transportation of our armed forces to the various war fronts is not an easy one, it would seem that with several million American men now in the service it would be possible to repace the men in the one division that has seen longer overseas duty than any other unit.

Those boys are certainly entitled to a rest and a vacation and to the morale-building effect of spending some time with their folks back home.

MUST HAVE ACTION

For months now there has been much discussion all over the country of the juvenile delinqency problem which seems to get more serious with each passing week.

When juvenile delinquency reaches such a degree that murder, criminal murder, involves our very younr people, it is high time that some of the general discussions be replaced by specific action to control today's boys and girls by the necessary training, discipline and supervision. If parents won't do this, society will be forced to take a hand.

STAGGERING LOSS!

A news story last week told about a woman war worker who had been notified that her husband, a chief gunners mate on a torpedo boat had died in the line of duty. Previously she had been told of the death of her only son in action in Tunisia as well as the loss of two brothers in the service. And last year too she lost her parents, natives of Russia.

One of the largest printing and publishing concerns in the United States, the Times-Mirror, of Los Angeles, conducts an open shop—its employees not required to belong to unions.

In August of 1943 the company increased the wages of its pressmen, both journeymen and apprentices, but was required to get permission from the War Labor Board's newspaper panel before putting the raise into actual effect—the payment of the money.

November had come when the W. L. B. acted on the matter and then the action was a request that the Times-Mirror withhold still further the increased pay dating from August.

Can you imagine why? Here's the answer:

Because the International Pressmen and Assistants' Union objected to the pay raise on the ground that said raise MAY PREJUDICE EFFORTS TO UNIONIZE THE EMPLOYEES—the same employees who would benefit by the VOLUNTARY fair treatment of the publishing company.—Northwood Anchor.

It tied in with the conversation, although the speaker would hardly be listed as a New Dealer. His remark was that food stamps put every citizen in the same class. The millionaire and the highly paid defense worker received the same number of stamps as the citizen on a fixed income or the one working for a low wage.

There is fear in the minds of the voters about what will be proposed for the post-war period. It is regretable that neither party has made its program clear. There are no Republican candidates (excepting Willkie) who have developed their post-war plans. There should be programs presented by the candidates so that the voters can study them and decide which they will follow. Probably each candidate is afraid to tell what he has in his mind for fear it may not be in accord with public opinion. Such timid souls should have no place in power in such perilous times. — Wright County Monitor.

Our attention was called by a friend to the large number of young men whose homes are at Belmond who are away attending college. It speaks well for the town and vicinity and for the energy and push of our young men that so many of them are determined upon higher education.

Prittle... Prattle....

You don't have to crawl around in the rain and the mud for a couple of days while some bird fills the slack in your britches with tracer bullets when you buy war bonds You don't have to sweat in a jungle and bat snakes and Japs off while you sign your name and pay your money for a war bond. You don't have to gulp oxygen five miles above the earth while a Messerschmidt is pumping lead into your tail gunner while you count your change to buy a war bond.

P—P

Where in THAT PLACE did the treasury department or somebody get the idea it's superpariotic to buy war bonds, It isn't patriotic—it's such a mean small thing to do in the name of patriotism that we should be ashamed that we have to be appealed to as great lovers of the republic to save a litle dough. What are we—a nation of jerks? Are we who are too old or too young also indifferent and selfish?

P—P

Buy the bonds you can and feel good—not because you proved yourself a patriot—but because you proved yourself large enough to learn to be a good citizen some day.

P—P

When Duane Dewal wrote the above in his "Hodgepodge" column in the Kossuth County Advance he didn't pull his punches. Although Iowa ended up third highest in per capita purchases of bonds in the third war loan drive it was amazing how long it took to go over the top—how much we had to be pushed, pounded on the back and cajoled into lending our money on a cinch—our government.

P—P

The Fourth War Loan Drive is underway, some communities will meet and surpass their quotas in practically nothing flat, others will drag along riding on someone else's shirt tail. I hope Belmond continues to be one of the former. The retailers and that group of farmers who are sponsoring the War Bond ad you will see in this issue have done their part to bring the importance of purchasing War Bonds to your attention.

WITH PRODUCTION BRED CHICKS THAT ARE PROVEN

MONEY MAKERS

Why is it that poultrymen get such fast growth and heavy egg production from Alexander Hatchery Baby Chicks. The answer is scientific hatchery management. . .

Our AAA grade chicks are produced from flocks headed by J. O. Coombs and Son's contest winning Pedigreed ROP Leghorns.

Breeder flocks, chosen for heavy production, good health, uniform to standards, are rigorously culled several times a year by poultrymen who know how.

Pullorum-testing of these flocks protects your chicks and our modern hatchery does likewise. For fast growing meat birds, heavy laying hens, build a flock with Alexander Hatchery chicks.

Come On, America!
It's 1944!

THIS is what we've been working for all along. This is the year to hit and hurt the enemy. This is the time when everything you do counts double. If we all get together and do all we can, we'll be over this hurdle and well on our way to complete and crushing victory.

No question about the men in uniform—they'll go "all out." But can we count on you to back them all the way? Your quota is where you work—you've got to buy your War Bonds and then buy more, until every last loose cent you have is fighting. Tough? Of course, it's tough—unless it is a sacrifice you're simply not doing your share!

Make the sacrifice now—buy more than the extra $100 Bond your country counts on you for—winning the war is worth any sacrifice you make. Besides, you aren't giving, you're lending to America! You'll get back every dollar you invest in War Bonds, with interest.

An extra $100 War Bond now is the minimum for everybody—can't we count on you for more?

Breeder flocks, chosen for heavy production, good health, uniform to standards, are rigorously culled several times a year by poultrymen who know how.

Pullorum-testing of these flocks protects your chicks and our modern hatchery does likewise. For fast growing meat birds, heavy laying hens, build a flock with Alexander Hatchery chicks.

Come On, America!
It's 1944!

THIS is what we've been working for all along. This is the year to hit and hurt the enemy. This is the time when everything you do counts double. If we all get together and do all we can, we'll be over this hurdle and well on our way to complete and crushing victory.

No question about the men in uniform—they'll go "all out." But can we count on you to back them all the way! Your quota is where you work—you've got to buy your War Bonds and then buy more, until every last loose cent you have is fighting. Tough? Of course, it's tough—unless it is a sacrifice you're simply not doing your share!

Make the sacrifice now—buy more than the extra $100 Bond your country counts on you for—winning the war is worth any sacrifice you make. Besides, you aren't giving, you're lending to America! You'll get back every dollar you invest in War Bonds, with interest.

An extra $100 War Bond now is the minimum for everybody—can't we count on you for more!

Erdman and Neuhring Families Honored At Church Farewell, Jan. 14

St. John's church parlors was the scene of a pleasant gathering on Friday evening January 14, when about 75 relatives and friends gathered to express their sentiment and to enjoy the evening's entertainment which had been planned as a "farewell courtesy" in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erdman and family who are moving to a farm northwest of Renwick, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Neuhring and family who are moving to a farm near Mason City, Iowa.

These families will be greatly missed within the congregation as they have lived in this community approximately 23 years and have been regular and faithful members of St John's congregation.

Rev. Knoploh and others expressed the sentiment of the congregation and presented Mr. and Mrs. Erdman and Mr. and Mrs. Neuhring with a substantial purse as a token of remembrance.

The evening was spent playing games, stunts and visiting after which refreshments were served from well filled baskets brought by the guests.

Growing children need good food, exercise in the fresh air—and lots of sleep, but even the healthiest of youngsters do not escape the common cold germ that brings sniffles and rasping coughs. We recommend for your medicine cabinet—a bottle of

After the second week of school, everyone is well back to the "Old Grind" again. (Seems kinda good, too).

The assembly Friday was quite an event. Miss Jensen and the girls are to be congratulated on some fine work. I mustn't forget the boys. To say the least, it was different and very clever

The Senior fellow this week is about 5'8" tall, has black hair, and blue eyes. He plays cornet in the band, is a member of the Student Council, and is a swell dancer He is now in the Aviation Cadet Reserve Corps and will begin training upon graduation from High School this spring He is "Broad Beam" to those who know him.

The belle of the week is 5' 8" tall, has brown hair, and blue eyes She is the President of the Senior Class and also a member of Glee Club She plays the piano, and very well, too. I'm not sure, but I believe she plans to be a teacher when through school Her middle name is Nickoline That's a good clue!

I feel real sharp this week, so if you can bear with me here are two corny Moron stories One's about a little Moron that went to a fooball game because he thought a quarterback was a refund The other one is about the poor little Moron who was all "tuckered out" when April came, because he had just had 31 days of March Ohhhh! Enough.

The Juniors are really original when it comes to dances Saturday night they sponsored an old time barn dance with every one dressed for the occasion. It was swell, Juniors

Are you keeping your New Year's Resolutions? At least, one I hope, and that's to buy war bonds and stamps ALL YOU CAN!!

Broncos To Meet Northwood Team Here Friday Eve

Locals Out To Even The Score

After two weeks without a home game the Broncos will again appear before the home fans against the Northwood Vikings

The Belmond players will be out for revenge, having lost their opening conference to Northwood This game was lost by a score of 31 to 20, on December 3, a night when the Broncos were completely off form

Since that game Belmond has shown a great deal of improvement, having lost but one out of seven games

Northwood, in the meantime, has lost to two conference foes, Forest City and Garner

Since Christmas vacation the local basketball players have been showing constant improvements both as individuals and as a team Coach Lansing has been stressing such fundamentals as faking, dribbling, passing and shooting

Defensively the team has grown stronger the last three weeks as the zone has learned to shift with the ball

Next Tuesday night the Broncos meet Clarion on the Clarion floor

Joyce Anderson Takes Place of Mrs. Ross

Has everybody noticed that Mr Johnson has a new secretary. She is none other than Joyce Anderson, a member of the class of 1942

The regular secretary, Mrs Ethel Ross, who will return in about a month, has gone to California to be with her husband who is in the Army. Joyce will substitute till Mrs Ross comes back.

The recreation rooms were decorated in a "Friendly Tavern" style Those who were on the decoration committee were Donald Hewlett, Merlin Braun and Dewain Kalkwarf.

All the high school students present were given the opportunity to learn how to do the "Square Dance" Mr. Dempsey honored the students by being present to teach them the steps and call a few "Square Dances and Circles" Everything was strictly barn dance style including the music which was very opposite for such a dance Mr. Johnson did the fine task of being master of ceremonies. Jean Petrow Ruth Zeiger and Betty Tracy were the members of the Junior class who were on the entertainment committee:

The refreshment committee which included Eleanor Soma, Eunice Mehl and Wilma Johnson served a lovely lunch which consisted of hot chocolate and cookies.

Miss Delaplane, the Junior class's sponsor, directed the entire Junior class in giving the party.

There was a good attendance and everyone seemed to enjoy dancing the Square Dance very much.

Examinations In Order As First Semester Ends

Pupils Exceed Goal In Jeep Drive; Buy Five Jeeps In Six Weeks

Final report on the Jeep Drive which was held from October 2 to December 7, shows very successful cooperation from everyone

The total amount of bonds and stamps bought by the entire school was $5,818.97 or enough to buy five jeeps One Jeep costs $1165

Elementary school total was $1,-500 66 First grade bought the most in this group, or a total of $324 70

Junior high bought $440.15 in bonds and stamps while high school jumped up with a total of $3789.16. The freshmen outdid everyone else in school when they bought $1,560 64 in bonds and stamps Although the sophomores did not get as high as the freshmen they deserve honorable mention however Their total amount was $1,338 51

As a reward for the class buying the largest amount of bonds and stamps, the student council has decided that they shall be given the last two periods of some Friday, to be designated by Mr Faris, to spend as they wish

The high school faculty as well as grade teachers, seemed pleased with the report. Everyone willingly did their part and let's still keep on buying War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

Faculty Members To Furnish Pre-Induction Data To Examiners

Data prepared by high school faculty members will be used in the future to help selected service examiners decide whether to accept or reject boys being inducted into the armed service.

This fact was announced at a meetings of superintendents at Algona early last month which Mr Johnson attended. Two officers from state selective service headquarters explained the reasons for calling on the schools and explained in detail how to fill out the necessary forms.

A questionaire on each boy over fifteen years of age leaving school for any reason will be filled out by at least five faculty members, then filed at the local draft board. The main purpose of data given on this form is to help the scientists determine whether or not the inductee is emotionally stable enough for military service.

Educational experience and work summary will also be filed with the draft board. This will show selective service officers the scholastic ability of the inductee as well as his interests and hobbies.

Also explained at the Algona meeting was a plan providing tours of Camp Dodge for high school boys soon drafted. These tours are arranged on a county wide basis, each school in county being represented. The boys participating spend three days in Camp Dodge with no expense for board and room and are given opportunities to observe all phases of induction. In The Bronco Corral

After the second week of school, everyone is well back to the "Old Grind" again. (Seems kinda good, too).

The assembly Friday was quite an event. Miss Jensen and the girls are to be congratulated on some fine work. I mustn't forget the boys. To say the least, it was different and very clever.

The Senior fellow this week is about 5'8" tall. has black hair, and blue eyes. He plays cornet in the band, is a member of the Student Council, and is a swell dancer. He is now in the Aviation Cadet Reserve Corps and will begin training upon graduation from High School this spring. He is "Broad Beam" to those who know him.

The belle of the week is 5' 8" tall, has brown hair, and blue eyes. She is the President of the Senior Class and also a member of Glee Club. She plays the piano, and very well, too. I'm not sure, but I believe she plans to be a teacher when through school. Her middle name is Nickoline. That's a good clue!

I feel real sharp this week, so if you can bear with me here are two corny Moron stories. One's about a little Moron that went to a fooball game because he thought a quarerback was a refund. The other one is about the poor little Moron who was all "tuckered out" when April came, because he had just had 31 days of March Ohhhh! Enough.

The Juniors are really original when it comes to dances. Saturday night they sponsored an old time barn dance with every one dressed for the occasion. It was swell, Juniors..

Are you keeping your New Year's Resolutions? At least, one I hope, and that's to buy war bonds and stamps. ALL YOU CAN!!

Broncos To Meet Northwood Team Here Friday Eve

Locals Out To Even The Score

After two weeks without a home game the Broncos will again appear before the home fans against the Northwood Vikings.

The Belmond players will be out for revenge, having lost their opening conference to Northwood. This game was lost by a score of 31 to 20, on December 3, a night when the Broncos were completely off form.

Since that game Belmond has shown a great deal of improvement, having lost but one out of seven games.

Northwood, in the meantime, has lost to two conference foes, Forest City and Garner.

Since Christmas vacation the local basketball players have been showing constant improvements both as individuals and as a team Coach Lansing has been stressing such fundamentals as faking, dribbling, passing and shooting.

Defensively the team has grown stronger the last three weeks as the zone has learned to shift with the ball.

Joyce Anderson Takes Place of Mrs. Ross

Has everybody noticed that Mr. Johnson has a new secretary. She is none other than Joyce Anderson, a member of the class of 1942.

The regular secretary, Mrs. Ethel Ross, who will return in about a month, has gone to California to be with her husband who is in the Army. Joyce will substitute till Mrs. Ross comes back.

The recreation rooms were decorated in a "Friendly Tavern" style. Those who were on the decoration committee were Donald Hewlett, Merlin Braun and Dewain Kalkwarf.

All the high school students present were given the opportunity to learn how to do the "Square Dance." Mr. Dempsey honored the students by being present to teach them the steps and call a few "Square Dances and Circles." Everything was strictly barn dance style including the music which was very opposite for such a dance. Mr. Johnson did the fine task of being master of ceremonies. Jean Fetrow. Ruth Zeiger and Betty Tracy were the members of the Junior class who were on the entertainment committee:

The refreshment committee which included Eleanor Soma. Eunice Mehl and Wilma Johnson served a lovely lunch which consisted of hot chocolate and cookies.

Miss Delaplane, the Junior class's sponsor, directed the entire Junior class in giving the party.

There was a good attendance and everyone seemed to enjoy dancing the Square Dance very much.

Examinations In Order As First Semester Ends

Tumbling Club To Appear Friday Night at the Half

A "Tumbling Club" has been organized by Miss Delaplane, the P. T. instructor. They have worked up a routine which will be presented to the public January 21 at the high school gymnasium.

Ten high school girls and two junior high girls make up this club. They are Kathryn Holgate, president, Genevieve Nelson, vice president, Arlene Sheriff, Imogene Halfpop, Marjorie Helland, Rose Zeiger, Esther Rose Finn, Cleo Trees, Donna Waddington, Patty Parker and Helen Sharp.

The Tumbling Club holds their practice on Monday nights from 7:00 to 7:45. They will have a great show in store so be sure to come and back the girls and the team.

Pupils Exceed Goal In Jeep Drive; Buy Five Jeeps In Six Weeks

Final report on the Jeep Drive which was held from October 20, to December 7, shows very successful cooperation from everyone.

The total amount of bonds and stamps bought by the entire school was $5,818.97 or enough to buy five jeeps. One Jeep costs $1165.

Elementary school total was $1,589.66. First grade bought the most in this group, or a total of $324.70.

Junior high bought $440.15 in bonds and stamps while high school jumped up with a total of $3789.16. The freshmen outdid everyone else in school when they bought $1,569.64 in bonds and stamps. Although the sophomores did not get as high as the freshmen they deserve honorable mention however. Their total amount was $1,338.51.

As a reward for the class buying the largest amount of bonds and stamps, the student council has decided that they shall be given the last two periods of some Friday, to be designated by Mr. Faris, to spend as they wish.

The high school faculty as well as grade teachers, seemed pleased with the report. Everyone willingly did their part and let's still keep on buying War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

Faculty Members To Furnish Pre-Induction Data To Examiners

Data prepared by high school faculty members will be used in the future to help selected service examiners decide whether to accept or reject boys being inducted into the armed service.

This fact was announced at a meetings of superintendents at Algona early last month which Mr. Johnson attended. Two officers from state selective service headquarters explained the reasons for calling on the schools and explained in detail how to fill out the necessary forms.

A questionaire on each boy over fifteen years of age leaving school for any reason will be filled out by at least five faculty members, then filed at the local draft board. The main purpose of data given on this form is to help the scientists determine whether or not the inductee is emotionally stable enough for military service.

Educational experience and work summary will also be filed with the draft board. This will show selective service officers the scholastic ability of the inductee as well as his interests and hobbies.

Also explained at the Algona meeting was a plan providing tours of Camp Dodge for high school boys soon drafted. These tours are arranged on a county wide basis, each school in county being represented. The boys participating spend three days in Camp Dodge with no expense for board and room and are given opportunities to observe all phases of induction. The date for Wright county tour has not yet been set.

Mechanical Division Of General Mills In War

Produces Machinery For The Navy

General Mills Mechanical Division today employs over 1500 persons. It had its origin in a small mechanical shop in the company's utility building in the milling district, under the direction of Mr. A. D. Hyde, then in charge of manufacturing. Shop engineers, artisans, draftsmen and experts in various mechanical lines were brought together to help work out company problems in packing machines, as well as various other milling machines. During the period of years, these men separately and now as a unit have invented many devices and machines that have made possible better General Mills products. In all, 28 patents were issued to the company in the years since the department was created. Here were the seeds of talent from which a large modern ordnance plant grew.

In 1940, the company was already working on a contract for the Navy to machine and finish slides, cylinders and plungers for recoil mechanisms. This work was now moved to the new plant.

In January of 1941, General Mills purchased a recently-built structure that the Northern Pump Company let go when they took over their new quarters at Fridley. The plant itself covered over 300,000 square feet. Several additions have been made and adjoining properties purchased until now the plant is considerably larger. That year, the company purchased large quantities of machine tools without actually having a contract in hand and without really knowing to what use they might eventually be put. The men responsible for this foresaw that the gathering clouds of war would find them ready to take on any kind of a job. Most of the machinery was high precision instruments.

They received a letter of intent from the Navy in April of 1941 to produce torpedo directors and indicators. Production actually began in September of that year. In June of 1941 another letter of intent was received to produce 8-inch gunsights.

So, by the time of Pearl Harbor, General Mills employed nearly 400 men in the production of what were then called defense contracts. Pearl Harbor found General Mills ready to take on some of the most intricate technical production jobs the Navy had to offer.

Since the three contracts (recoil equipment, torpedo directors and gunsights) the company has taken on a job for the British Navy producing roll correctors and a confidential job producing a computer.

The first of these jobs that the company worked on in the old utility building was the finishing and machining of the plunger and sleeve of the recoil mechanism. This was practically a sub-contracting job because we did not make a complete finished assembly although the contract was direct with the Navy. We are still producing these units today.

The next undertaking was the torpedo director and indicator which as mentioned before began with a letter of intent in April, 1941 and was confirmed with a contract in September of that same year.

This instrument consists of two parts: One usually located on the bridge into which are put the course and speed of our own vessel, the course and speed of the target and an imaginery point at which it is judged the target will be in a given time. The machine instantly makes the necessary calculations which are electrically relayed down to the indicator mounted at the torpedo tube station giving the necessary computation to aim the tubes and set the course of the torpedo. This almost unbelievable performance makes it possible to use torpedos that can be set to follow unusual patterns of trajectory. They may be fired directly at the point "X" or at a right angle from it or even shot from the opposite side of the ship in the opposite direction and made to turn around and arrive at the point "X" at the correct time. To make possible such super-accurate timing requires delicate precision instruments with practically no margin of error allowed. In the computation of such calculations the wheels and gears, unlike a watch which only goes in one direction, have to be so set that they can reverse and can go the opposite direction with complete freedom and without any slack in either direction. To get gear cutting of this extremely high calibre was at first left to the laws of chance and by trial and error gears would be tried until one was found that was perfect. This was slow and expensive. After much research and training or personnel, the company perfected these operations so that gears were cut to the fineness of ten thousands of an inch. Here was a delicate instrument, finely balanced and yet that had to be made sturdy enough to withstand the shock of battle conditions on a fighting craft, and to withstand severest weather conditions.

The torpedo directors are being turned out on an assembly line basis, something which company officials say is not being done elsewhere in this country. These directors have already reached battle fronts, one of them sharing in the credit for destruction of a Japanese cruiser in the South Pacific.

A VOICE FROM OVERSEAS

(Somewhere aboard a warship in the South Pacific a sailor wrote to his home-town paper expressing his reaction and that of many of his shipmates to the strikes going on in America.

The writer was Kenneth (Irish) Walsh, and he wrote to the editor of The Muncie (Indiana) Evening Press. Along with the article came a letter telling how the sailor came to write it. His ship had put in at an island port and he attended a movie in the heart of the jungle. During the program it rained, "but not a single man left his seat to find shelter, for entertainment is a rare thing in these parts." A newsreel showed pictures of the coal strike back home. The men cursed bitterly. Young Walsh went back to his ship and did something he had never done before—he tried "to put on paper the whirling thoughts that came to my mind." He said:

" I should like very much to convey my feelings and those of the thousands upon thousands of service men on this same subject to the ones back home."

The article is reproduced in full below.—David Lawrence in United States News.)

By KENNETH (IRISH) WALSH

I want to show you a bit of hallowed ground—it is the Arlington Cemetery of the South Pacific; it is the Valhalla of American service men. I'm going to show you this bit of ground, but it will be done the hard way. Come with me up Sealark Channel on that dawn of August 7, 1942. The feeling of living in a vacuum tells you that this is the thing that these men have waited for so long. Like actors that have rehearsed well their lines, the marines and sailors stand there in the hush of the opening curtain.

Yes, Mr. Striker, I want you to stand at the rail with these men, nerves drawn as taut as a violin string—mouth dry, eyes strained to the breaking point, breath coming in short gasps of fear—that awful feeling of nothingness in the pit of your stomach. The objective comes into view, the time has come for these men to step out on the stage and they know full well that death plays the leading role in this theater. There they go over the side of the transport, Tom Jones, Dick Brown, Harry Smith, hand-over-hand they crawl down the cargo nets into their small craft that is to take them to a rendevous with that death. You know it's death—it is the destiny of these men. An attempt at a small joke, a few scattered laughs, as the small craft pull away from the protection of the mother ship.

The first objective is reached—the cocoanut grove at the water's edge. Men are down never to rise again, but like some great tidal wave, other men move up to take the places of the fallen. The main objective is an airfield beyond that fringe of cocoanut trees, and as though God Himself has pulled the curtain on this brutal stage, their movements become vague and finally oblitefated and these movements became lost to you. The uncertainty, the utter feeling of helplessness leaves the element of time suspended in the hellish hot sun of the tropics.

Close your eyes, Mr. Defense Plant Worker, close them tight; it is another day, in another month; your hands are gripping another rail, the inevitable cocoanut tree rail that separates the living from the dead in these areas of war. You can open your eyes now Mr. Coal Miner, open them wide. Yes, the seeds that have been planted have grown into bloom; the bloom is the row upon row of white crosses that meet the eye. These men have paid the price in full for just seven small acres of ground, but seven of the most importnat acres of ground ever owned by Uncle Sam. Restful, isn't it, peaceful and quiet—yes, quiet with eternal peace. Read the epitaphs, Mr. Labor Leader, they tell a story in themselves—America, the Land of the Free. One sees the Star of David beside a pair of rosary beads owned by some Irishman. A captain of marines and a colored boy from Georgia sleep side by side—a lieutenant from Indiana, a sailor from North Dakota, an aviator from Ohio, from here from there, from every star in the flag, a cross in the ground. Tom Jones, Dick Brown, Harry Smith. It's their home now, some 7,000 miles from home. These men were making $50 a month, Mr. Striker, $50 a month, room and board.

Mr. John L. Lewis, look up into the misty blue of yon mountain top that frames this cemetery. Is that a vision I see? Is that the murmuring of the trade winds, or is it some message He is trying to convey to you and yours? I believe I hear it, I think it is a message, and the murmuring seems to say, "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do."

"For the want of the nail the shoe was lost, for the want of the shoe the horse was lost, for the want of the" . . . We got some news out here the other day, Mr. Labor Leader, the kind of news that hurts, the kind of news that makes a man wonder if this thing is worth the price. No! Not in money, Mr. Defense Worker, but in something that you seem to have lost.

When you were a kid you studied about the American heritage of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Read it again and then again; study it; delve back into the pages of American history and show me anything in the American creed of living that will justify your wartime strikes. Come out here with us in these South Pacific waters and stay awhile. Eat our chow, sleep in our sacks, watch us work, help us fight these jungle flies, help us kill dangerous, maleria-bearing mosquitoes. Walk with us through the mud and the slime of the swamps of these jungle islands; walk with us in the sweltering, sultry, steamy heat of a noon-day sun. There isn't any air-conditioning out here, Mr. C. I. O., and there isn't any way you can strike for it, either. You haven't even the time to think about it.

Come with me to the bridge over the jungle river. I want you to see someone who would make you ashamed of that extra 50 cents an hour you get in your pay envelope. He's just a seventeen-year-old kid that the brass hats put on duty at this infrequent bridge for the simple reason that he isn't sure of himself any more. Did I hear you ask what's wrong with him? He was on a destroyer that took three "fish" amidships and blew up, Mr. Twenty-Dollars-a-Day-Man. His brother was on that ship, too. There were but a few survivors from a crew of 300, and his brother was not among them. He's plainly shell-shocked. Talk to him a while, watch him; he'll break your heart, man, if you have one. Did you ask how much money he makes—$50 a month Mr Welder, $50 a month, room and board

Here's a guy I want you to meet—a left-handed marine. What's so remarkable about that, I should make myself clear. He's learning to be a left-handed marine. A Jap slashed off his right hand at the wrist as he was climbing out of a fox hole on Guadalcanal. He is making $50 a month, room and board. His room, since last August, has been a stinking, muddy hole, and his board has been canned, untasty food—when he has time to eat it. Ask him how near-sighted the Jap is reputed to be. He'll tell you that in a morning check-up no less than twenty-five of his buddies were found dead at their posts, shot through the head, Mr. Slacker. Found 7,000 miles from home in a God-forsaken hole on a God-for-saken bit of land. Not very nice to hear about, is it? But it's the brutal truth. Think about it the next time you sit over a big steak dinner in your comfortable home

See that boy sitting over there on that hatch cover, Mr. A. F. of L? He's only twenty-two—just a boy, maybe the one that lived down the street from you. He looks down in the mouth, doesn't he? Why shouldn't he? Some time this week his wife is going to have a baby, but he's not going to be there when it happens. He has to stay out here for the duration. Don't you suppose he is thinking like this: "1945—now if this damn thing is over by then my kid will be almost three years old. Hell, I'll be a stranger, not only to my kid but the wife will hardly know me any more. But one thing about it, the Government will give me an extra twelve a month for the little shaver. Wonder if it's a boy or a girl; hope it's a boy. I wonder if my wife is well. Please, God, she doesn't die—she can't die—I've got to get home." Fifty dollars a month, Mr. Coal Miner, $50 a month, room and board.

What are you going to do, Mr. Railroader, when the eerie sound of the air raid siren sends out its warning cry over Los Angeles, Frisco, Seattle, Middletown, Peoria—the small and the large, they're all bomb sights. Those eggs the Japs lay weigh 500 pounds apiece. Be sure one isn't laid in your front yard—your children may be out there. What are you going to send up in the sky, Mr. Striker, to fight off those madmen from Japan—dollar bills? Don't think it can't happen over there.

A ship is bringing in a cargo today that you might be interested in, a cargo of human suffering. Come down to the quay with me and witness the transition of young America. Yes, there is the familiar little locomotive and her white-painted coaches, each carrying the red cross of mercy on its side. She is here to take away these human derelicts, it's an old story to her. A little to the left of the train is a great army band standing rigidly at attention. The big hospital ship slowly comes into her berth and as the ground-crew makes her fast to the wharf, one hears the band softly playing the music these men loved so well. "My Old Kentucky Home," "Beautiful Ohio," "On the Banks of the Wabash."

The men on the wharf become tense, the music has a sound to it that is of the infinite as all eyes are strained toward the slowly descending gangway. The first of these thousands of battered troops tortuously feels his way to the ground, the band strikes up the "Star Spangled Banner" as soldier after soldier follow in his wake.

But what is this? What is wrong? These men have to be led! They aren't sure of themselves as they stumble and fumble their way down to Mother Earth. Mr. John L. Lewis look into the eyes that are open, but see not. Watch lips that move, but say nothing. Look at the stumps dangling from their bodies that once were arms and legs. Look into the souls of these shell-shocked, fear-ridden, malaria-sick men that are not men but sacks of skin and bones. Nerves gone, minds temporarily deranged, bodies numb from being stretched on the searing, tearing rack named war.

Yes, Mr. C. I. O., these men that are no longer men, have paid part of the price with their arms and their legs, their eyes, their nerves—but stay awhile, don't leave me now! Do you hear the bugle in the far distance blowing taps, it has an unearthly sound and it is for the unearthly that it is being played. The band in an undertone plays on and one hears their music as though they were playing in a thick, grey fog. The big boom on the hospital ship swings downward and picks up the last of her cargo—the wicker baskets of the dead. Look around you, man. Those are tears you see in the eyes of these hard-bitten veterans, they who have just witnessed a scene from God's greatest of plays, "Life and Death." The baskets are lowered to the cold concrete of the dock and draped with the flag that they gave their lives for. Their work is done, their race is over, these men have paid their price in full.

Yes, Mr. Defense Plant Striker, these men were getting $50 a month, $50 a month, room and board.

On and on it goes, things too horrible to mention in black and white, unbelievable things, things that would make your hair stand on end: the story of the five Sullivan brothers on the cruiser Juneau, the one about Schmidt, Diamond and Rivers, marines on Guadalcanal, the story of the Coral Sea, Wake Island, the Argonne, Belleau Wood, Bull Run, Gettysburg, Lexington, Concord and Bunker Hill—the cradles of our liberty. Each battle, each life sacrificed that in some future date men and women like you and I can live and worship and talk in the peace and security of an American people united.

IT'S IN THE AIR. You can feel it, every time the Axis is struck. This is the climax year, the year of decision.

In history, 1944 will be the big year of the war—every stroke for victory counts more now. That's why it's vitally important for every American to be at his post, doing his part right now.

You, personally, have an important job in winning the war—buying War Bonds. It's not glamorous—no, not even a sacrifice, really, because you are only lending your money, to be returned with interest. But it is essential to complete victory.

Your part in this year of decision is at least one extra $100 Bond, above your regular Bond buying. That is your minimum individual quota. But don't stop there. Remember wars are won only by all-out effort. So buy $200, $300, $500 worth—buy more than you can afford. And buy your Bonds where you work—at the plant or at the office.

Your country is counting on you—let's make the year of decision OUR year!

I HEAR A LOT OF FOLKS AT HOME CLAIM THEY CAN'T AFFORD TO BUY AN EXTRA WAR BOND!

WHAT WOULD a wounded soldier think of you if he could hear you say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond?"

He might remind you that he couldn't "afford" to go to war! But he went, and now he's making more sacrifices . . . for you. No wonder he expects you to do something that will help him!

Especially when all you're asked to do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond this month. So check over your budget . . . see if you can't swing at least an extra $100 . . . or $200 . . . or $300 . . . or even $500 for extra War Bonds. You'll find that you can . . . and it's no sacrifice, either, for War Bonds are the best investment in the world today!

General Mills—

As intricate and difficult and complicated as the torpedo director was it was nothing compared to the 8-inch gunsight. Almost a hundred companies were asked to bid on this instrument. General Mills was the only one willing to tackle the job. We know now why no one wanted this contract. Not only was it complicated requiring extremely high precision but it was an almost insurmountable problem to put it into mass production. It was one of those jobs that at times looked absolutely impossible. The whole cruiser program depended upon solving the production difficulties and turning out the stuff. Engineers, draftsmen, everyone, went through many trying hours of over-time, nights, holidays, working the bugs out of the production problem.

To make the job still more difficult, designs were changed at various times which would make it practically necessary to start all over again. The men and women of the Mechanical Division persevered until they had licked all the problems and had developed a mass production line. To check the accuracy of the instruments, the inside of a gun-turret which handles the 8-inch rifles was duplicated to test the accuracy of the production line. These gunsights weigh about two tons each. Such sights consist of around 800 parts, stand about 20 feet high and 30 feet wide. They train guns of three-gun turrets—each independently or simultaneously as to have both elevation and azimuth.

Actual combat experience has shown that use of this 8-inch gunsight has increased the fire power and also the accuracy of that fire power.

General Mills after completing its first contract on naval gunsights is now engaged in redesigning this fire control apparatus for mass production, not only to save manhours and costs but to produce a superior piece of equipment. Upon acceptance by the Navy, General Mills will know that the mechanical skill and engineering genius of a company that three years ago was solely in the food processing business has made another great contribution to the winning of this war.

In August of 1942, this same Mechanical Division of General Mills took on a contract from the British Navy to produce a specialized piece of fire control apparatus known as the roll corrector. They have also from time to time rebuilt other fire control apparatus requiring high technical skill for units of the British fleet that have put in at our ports for repairs.

Not all of the contributions to the war effort of General Mills have been made or are being made by the Mechanical Division. For instance, they are in the optical business making Amici prisms for range finders. Completely equipped laboratory and finishing plant was set up to produce a vital part of this most important piece of ordnance. Having finished the Amici prism contract, this laboratory and plant is being used to make optical flats for anti-aircraft height finders.

The General Mills Distillation Products plant (co-owned with Eastman Kodak) has invented and makes high vacuum units that are being used to coat lenses of optical equipment including both sights and range finders to increase the visibility of these instrumentts at the twilight hours.

Our food processing mills and plants scattered around the country are doing a major production job making enriched flour and cereals and animal feeds. A good deal (8 per cent) of the total flour production goes to the Armed Forces and Lend Lease. Part of the K-ration is supplied from General Mills plants.

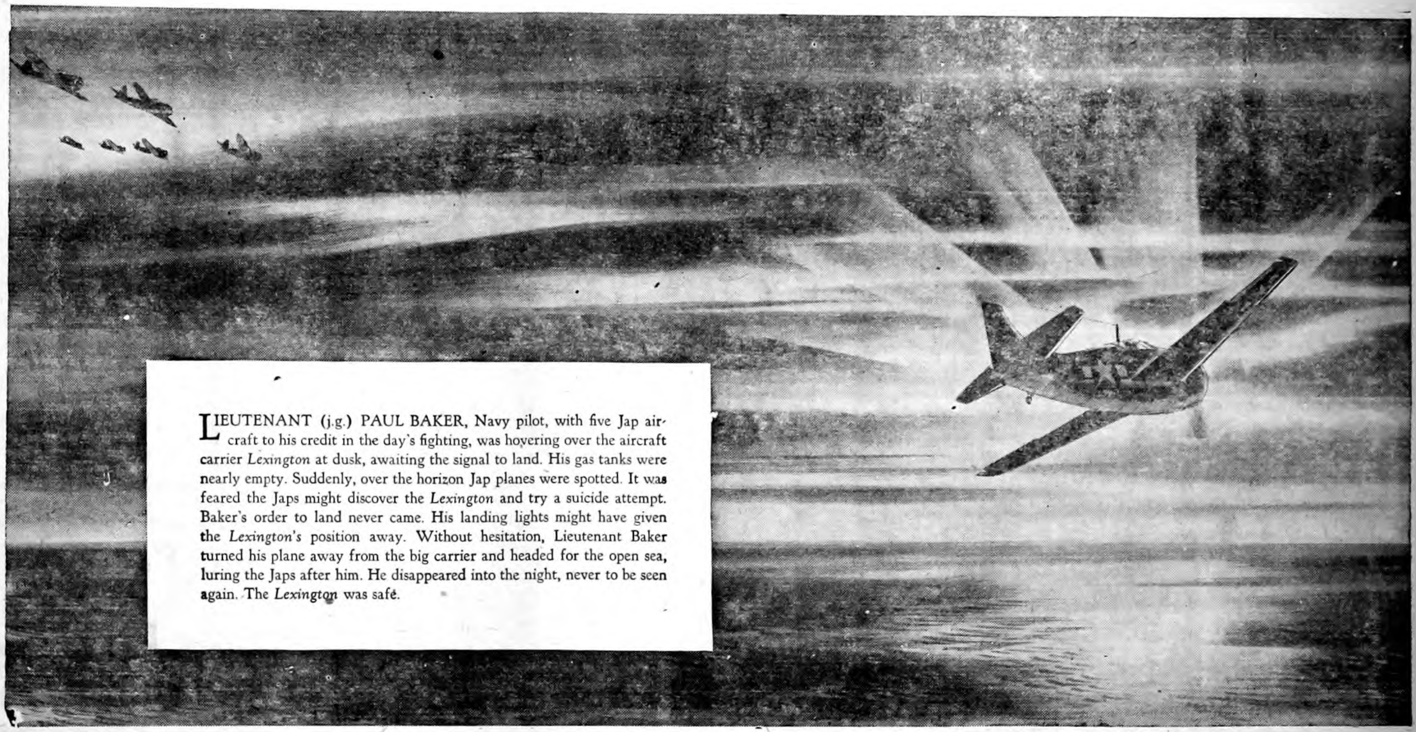
THIS FARM BOY GAVE ALL...

You are only asked to lend your money!



LIEUTENANT (j.g.) PAUL BAKER, Navy pilot, with five Jap aircraft to his credit in the day's fighting, was hovering over the aircraft carrier Lexington at dusk, awaiting the signal to land. His gas tanks were nearly empty. Suddenly, over the horizon Jap planes were spotted. It was feared the Japs might discover the Lexington and try a suicide attempt. Baker's order to land never came. His landing lights might have given the Lexington's position away. Without hesitation, Lieutenant Baker turned his plane away from the big carrier and headed for the open sea, luring the Japs after him. He disappeared into the night, never to be seen again. The Lexington was safe.

You can buy extra Bonds!

Paul Baker had a big decision to make. It took him about two seconds.

We, at home, also have a decision to make. We are asked to buy extra War Bonds at once. Our boys at the front are depending on us in this Fourth War Loan. Our patriotic impulse is to say "yes" first and look around for the money afterwards. Let us obey that impulse! It will do us good in more ways than one!

Paul Baker sized his situation up in two seconds . . . and acted. We, whose duty is so trifling by comparison, need scarcely more time in which to do ours!

Think! We are asked to make an investment, not a sacrifice! We are asked to invest the money we would normally use to replace automobiles or farm machinery or repair buildings and fences. We are asked to establish a depreciation reserve which will be available for replacements after the war. We are asked to build up a financial reserve for unfavorable years that may come later, or for the education of the children, unexpected hospital bills, or the payment of taxes and debts.

War Bonds are the best form of financial reserve ever offered you. Your money helps finance the war. By postponing unnecessary spending you speed production of planes and munitions to win the war. The gradual expenditure of your reserve after the war will provide jobs for returning soldiers and help stabilize the nation's finances in the post-war adjustment period.

Ask yourself: Have I a single valid reason why I should not buy extra War Bonds?

Then, like Paul Baker, make your decision and act!

Get Ready For The Day When Johnny Comes Marching Home

If you have a boy in the service, think what it will mean to have him come back and share with you the joy of equipping the farm with the best in tractors and other machinery. Think what it can mean for you to have the cash to put the children through college. Think what it can mean, a few years hence, to have new farm buildings or a new home or complete modern conveniences about the place.

To thousands upon thousands of farm and ranch owners who have bought extra War Bonds, these things are assured. For the first time in their lives they are going to be able to have the things they've wanted. Some of them are your neighbors. How about you?

YOU NEVER GET LESS THAN YOU LEND

And you get ⅓ more than you Invest

When held 10 years, Series E War Bonds yield 2.9% interest, compounded semi-annually. You get back $4 for every $3.

CASH WHEN YOU NEED IT

Of course no one should cash a Bond unless he has to; but if an emergency comes along, your War Bonds are like money in the bank. Uncle Sam will redeem them in cash—at full purchase price—any time after you've held them 60 days. Don't hold back a single dollar unnecessarily from the purchase of War Bonds. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

The Fourth War Loan is on! Your dollars are needed as much by Uncle Sam today as you will be needing them tomorrow.

This window sticker identifies you as the purchaser of extra War Bonds during the Fourth War Loan. It is a badge of honor to be displayed with pride. Be the first in your neighborhood to have one. Buy an extra War Bond today!

Must Turn In Slips To Get Dairy Feed Subsidy Payment

All persons in Wright County who have not yet turned in their whole milk or cream slips or other evidence to the AAA office in Clarion for their Dairy Feed Subsidy Payment for both November and December together, are urged to do so immediately. It is necessary that persons turn in their own evidence as too much duplication arises getting them from the creamery

Persons who did not receive a payment in October may include such evidence of sales for the month of October along with November and December and be paid all three months in one check.

Whole milk payment rate is at 30c per cwt. and butterfat payment is at 4c per lb. for October, November and December.

Be sure to save your butterfat and whole milk slips for January and turn in for payment at the close of the month as a payment will be made for January at a later date. The rate for January will be 35c per cwt. on whole milk and 5c per lb. for butterfat.

Home Economist To Demonstrate Meat Cookery

February 4th Is Date Of Belmond Meeting

The selection, cookery and food value of low-point meats will be covered in the "Pointers on Stretching the Meat Points" cookery demonstration to be conducted here by Miss Frances Hettler, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, Chicago. The program will be held at the school house Friday, February 4th, at 2:00 p m.

Special attention will be given by Miss Hettler to meat extender recipes and suggestions. Everyone attending will receive copies of the recipes used in the demonstration, and also additional recipes.

"Every one of my recipes will call for low or moderate heat in cooking," says Miss Hettler. "Cooking meat at a low temperature pays dividends. If every homemaker would learn the correct temperatures for meat cookery, she would be able to make the meat which comes from the market serve more at the table." Miss Hettler continues "Meat cookery is simple and so easy that there is no trick to it."

In her discussion of the food value of meat, Miss Hettler will show that meat is important in the diet because of the valuable nutrients which it supplies. She points out that meat is a very good source of the important B group of vitamins, that there is more than the daily requirement of thiamin or B1 in one pork chop, or a comparable amount of roast pork.

One of the meat dishes she will prepare is that for Swiss Style Liver. She feels this will be welcomed by the women who try to serve their families liver once a week, as recommended by nutritionists. "Liver not only supplies generous amounts of iron, but also contains many of the B group of vitamins and is an excellent source of Vitamin A", adds Miss Hettler.

This program is sponsored by Wright County Nutrition Committee and is open to homemakers and nutrition study groups Mrs. A. W. Loats is the local chairman in charge of arrangements for the Belmond meeting.

Trinity Church Fund Passes $20,000 Goal

Plans To Build New Church Are Now Definite

Rev. O. M. Severseike, chairman of the committee in charge of the drive to raise a fund of $20,000 for remodeling or rebuilding the Trinity Lutheran Church, informed the Independent today that the goal had been oversubscribed by $3,000 to date.

Since so many friends and members of the church have not yet been solicited for funds and many have indicated their willingness to pledge funds for the project, the committee is making definite plans to build a new church. "It is believed this can be done as it appears an adequate amount of money can be raised." Mr. Severseike said.

"Cash that is being turned in now is being invested in War Savings Bonds and those who desire to do so may buy their own bonds in the name of the Church, thereby receiving credit on their own quota in the 4th War Loan Drive now underway." Mr. Severseike added.

Melvin Olson Receives Fractured Shoulder In Auto Accident

An automobile accident Friday afternoon, in which Melvin Olson, Norway township farmer, was injured, was indirectly caused by the fire at the Olaf Elevator.

Mr. Olson, who was driving his car, met the fire truck on its way to Olaf and reportedly became alarmed, thinking it might be his own property. He turned around and followed the truck. In meeting and passing a car driven by John Rokke, accompanied by Torkel Mehus, Mr. Olson lost control of his automobile and ran off the grade, turning over several times. He was brought immediately to the Belmond Hospital by Rokke and Mehus where he was treated for a fractured shoulder blade and bruises, after which he was able to return home.

Broncos Take Two More Cage Duels

Now In Second Place In Conference

After a cold start during the first quarter and failure to get in for rebounds, Belmond's Broncos pulled together in the second period to go ahead and portect a small lead to end the first half by a two point margin 14-12 against Northwood Friday night.

At the beginning of the third quarter, Belmond's offensive, led by Nelson and Jones clicked for three fast counters that put the boys in front by a ten point margin Although playing a better brand of ball against their opponents than they did at Northwood, the Broncos had their hands full protecting their lead for the remainder of the game.

In what was expected to be a hard fought game Belmond's Broncos came through Tuesday night to win over Clarion's Cowboys 31-27 when the teams were forced into an overtime period.

In a game that found Belmond losing one and Clarion two men by the foul route, neither team was able to lead the other by more than two points. Leading by 6-4 at the end of the first quarter 11-10 at half-time and 17-16 when the horn ended the third quarter, the Broncos slim margin disappeared when Rodriguez made good his free try at the Clarion basket knotting the score at 26-26 with but three seconds until the final horn.

The Broncos fast breaking style of play clicked under the pressure of the three minute overtime when Jones and Nelson each found the hoop for two points with Walrod icing it for one on his gift shot.

Scoring for the Broncos was led by Larry Jones who counted for 15 of the 31 points. Nelson followed in a close second for 11. Walrod tallied three with Finn and Classick each adding one Rodriguez was high scorer for the Cowboys.

Belmond's little Broncos folded in the second half after playing rings around their opponents for the first 12 minutes and found themselves on the short end of the score 16-20. The purple and white's led at halftime 12-6.

Friday night Belmond entertains Dows on the local floor in a non-conference game that will find the Broncos seeking to chalk up their eleventh victory.

At half-time Coach Lansing will discuss a few of the more important basketball rules for the information of the fans

Norway Township Raises $56,201.75 Exceeding Quota By $17,201.75

When the Fire siren blows this afternoon (Thursday) at 1:00 o'clock, all Belmond places of business will close for three hours while 75 solicitors among the Belmond business men will make personal solicitation of every individual in the city for the purchase of bonds in the Fourth War Loan.

Arrangements have been made by the committee to have the band play on Main Street immediately after the fire siren has been sounded.

Roy Henderson, chairman of the Fourth War Loan drive in Belmond, stated that members of his committee will interview each solicitor and give him instructions about making the local drive. Plans call for completing the pledge drive this afternoon, and the pledges signed when the solicitor calls must be fulfilled by February 15 when the Fourth War Loan Drive ends. The committee urges Belmond citizens to facilitate the work of the solicitors by remaining at home until after calls are made.

Norway Township, part of which is included in the Belmond territory, was the first to report its drive completed in Wright county. Norway township raised $56,201.75. exceeding considerably its quota of $39,000.

Six districts out of nine in Iowa Township have reported $24,000 pledged. The quota was $37,000.

Other townships helping to make up Belmond's quota of $183,500 in whole or in part include Pleasant, Belmond, and Grant, but have not completed their drive to date.

Less Than Sixty Days Remain To File U. S. Income Tax Returns

E. H. Birmingham, Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Iowa, desires to remind the public that less than 60 days now remain in which to prepare and file United States Income Tax returns for 1943.

A few have already done so and every day the number of persons seeking assistance in making out returns is increasing. Any one desiring such help should call at the City Hall, Belmond, February 14 or 15,, when a representative of the Internal Revenue Service will be here.

With approximately eight hundred and fifty thousand returns to be prepared and filed on or before March 15, it can readily be seen what a rush there will be at the last and that many are likely to be disappointed if they arrive too late to receive aid.

Another matter that taxpayers should bear in mind is that taxes for 1943, due as shown on their returns, cannot be paid quarterly as in previous years but must all be paid by March 15. A great many taxpayers will already have paid their 1943 tax, by withholding if employed or by payments made on their 1942 tax in March and June 1943 plus payments of estimated tax in September and December. If after all these have been credited there is still tax due, the taxpayer may postpone one year without interest any part of the unpaid balance up to one-half of unforgiven portion of last year's tax. So those who will owe unpaid balances should at once prepare to meet same in full by March 15, 1944.

In order to propertly arrive at amounts due, taxpayers should bring with them besides all figures for 1943, copies of their 1942 return, if possible, copies of estimates filed by them and amounts paid thereon and especially the form 1125 which was sent with returns showing tax on the 1942 and amount paid at time of filing, and subsequently, if any

"FOURTH WAR LOAN"

Accompanying the huge amounts of publicity and advertising sent out from the Treasury Department in connection with the Fourth War Loan Drive was a letter from H. Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury which reads as follows:

> "Again in the Fourth War Loan, we are going to depend heavily upon the newspapers, and upon the businesses who sponsor newspaper advertisements, to carry our urgent message to the American people.
>
> "As in the past, these industry sponsored advertisements will again prove the backbone of our promotional campaign.
>
> "I hope you will pass this information along to those businesses and industries in your community who can and will help sponsor this vital local newspaper advertising.
>
> "The job gets more and more difficult as we increase the amount of money to be raised from individuals. We must reach and convince an increasing number of citizens. We need the help of a good newspaper campaign now more than ever."

The Independent's special Fourth War Loan issue last week, which was ~~planned in~~ cooperation with the local drive being held this afternoon, was well supported by Belmond business and professional people as well as by the farmers in this community. Because of their generous support, we wish to call attention to the letter of commendation received from the Wright County War Finance Committee which follows:

> "On behalf of Paul Henry, County War Finance Chairman and myself, we want to thank you for your fine co-operation and congratulate you on your fine edition this week—with this kind of co-operation, Wright County cannot help but make its quota in the Fourth War Loan.

Vern B. Allen, Publicity Chairman

FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP—

The Wright County Farm Bureau is working on its annual membership drive and hopes to increase its total membership considerably for the year 1944.

There isn't any reason why this should not be done. Neighboring counties have secured more widespread support of their Farm Bureau organization than has been the case in Wright county. It is just as important for the farmers in this county to have a farm organization working for their good and for their benefit as it is in any other.

Furthermore, the Wright County Farm Bureau has been operating under the finest of leadership and is deserving of the support and co-operation of the entire county.

"MUSTERING-OUT PAY"

Just now Congress is debating about the "mustering-out pay" for men in the service of their country in World War Two.

At this writing, the House had passed a bill allowing a blanket figure of $300 with a minimum of $100 for less than 60 days' service. But the Senate rejected the bill as passed by the house and continued discussion on a sliding scale of discharge pay.

We believe that the discharged service men are entitled to "mustering-out pay", whether it be considered a bonus for service in the armed forces or a nest egg to tide them over a period of possible unemployment after they return home. We do not think, however, that a blanket sum in any particular amount would be a fair way to administer this pay.

Surely a man who has been in the jungles of the Solomons for many months or lived in a dugout on the battlefields in Italy or North Africa, who has not seen family, friends or loved ones for a year or two, who has carried a gun, suffered wounds, and narrowly escaped death is entitled to more than the man who has spent a few months in routine duty in the U. S. A., even if such duty hasn't always been in the most comfortable and agreeable surroundings.

The value of the service given by men on the battle fronts would be difficult to estimate. It is certainly above any remuneration that might be given in dollars and cents.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

We want to quote a few paragraphs from Walter Lippman They appeared in one of his syndicated articles entitled, "A Double Standard of Morality" and read as follows:

"The underlying cause of the trouble in this country is that we are applying one standard of morals, of values, of duty and of rights to the men and women of the armed forces and a different standard to the civilians.

"No one has ever worked out a just system of economic payments for the Marines of Tarawa. No one has been foolish enough to try . . . .

"Let no one think that war can be so divorced from domestic issues that we can ask men to face death in battle and on the home front can have politics-as-usual, special interests-as usual, or any of our ordinary materialistic, acquisitive, ambitious habits-as-usual. That is not good enough, and the leaders of the groups, blocs, factions and parties here at home had better recognize that now before they open up an unbridgeable chasm between those who have served and sacrificed on one hand and those who have looked out for themselves on the other."

Mr. Lippman is one of our pundits who has a way of saying something. We have a feeling that he said a mouthful this time.—Grinnell Herald-Register.

Joe Stalin must be thoroughly disgusted at the way strikes that interfere with the war effort are being indulged in in this country, knowing such interruptions mean more sacrifices for Russia, but thus far he has held his tongue, though no doubt he would like to relieve his pent up feelings by indulging in some explosive words rebuking "our way of life" that allows such things to happen in time of war — Webster City Freeman-

Now that most every community has erected war service honor rolls as a tribute to the young men and women who are serving their country in the armed forces, we are in favor of erecting some dishonor rolls bearing the names of strikers who are engaged in essential war industries. Prittle... Prattle....

Have you ever wanted to play some kind of a musical instrument and learn to play it unknown to your friends? Then when the proper moment arrived bring it out while they are laughing, as you prepare to make your debut, still their chuckles and raucous comments with your versatility on the instrument.

P—P

Yeh, we have too, but they still chuckled.

P—P

It was back in the second grade when the folks decided that their oldest son should begin his musical education on the keyboard of a piano and solicited the cooperation of the town's one and only instructor. Much too small to realize what it might lead to, yours truly allowed himself to be led by the hand by a sweet girl classmate who had already undergone the terrors of the first lesson into the sanctum of the Piano teacher. In those days we received our first elementary instructions in groups as most every child in school had parents with the same idea and individual instruction was out of the picture for lack of time.

P—P

Can't recall much about the first lesson but the second one has been recalled many times by several who are now grandparents. Dressed in overalls, I entered the home of the teacher and found to my horror, classmates dressed in their best. I've been told that for a moment I disappeared and was then seen coming from behind an overstuffed chair minus the overalls dressed in the short pants inflicted on small boys in those days.

P—P

The lessons went on and on and the novelty soon wore off. It was a practice of our teacher to ask each pupil to memorize one 'piece' each week, something I for one refused to do, much to my present sorrow. And I don't know who worked the hardest about practicing two hours a day, my mother at getting me to practice or myself in getting out of it.

P—P

Then came the horror of all horrors, the public recital. It seemed that I was about the only boy, much to my embarrassment, among hundreds of girls who were required to show our proud papas and mamas we were on the road to becoming virtuosos.

P—P

However, in the end the struggle to get her son to practice and learn something about the piano paid him dividends? From somewhere came the desire to learn to play the saxaphone, an instrument that was coming into popularity at that time, but soon lost it among our neighbors. Rudy Weidoff was the hero of the saxaphone beginners in those days and the ultimate was to play his compositions just as he played them. One fast, jazzy little number of his I worked and practiced on by the hour, was "Saxaphobia" until it seemed that even Rudy could have played it no better and so the time came, at least that's what I thought, when I was ready to surprise my friends.

P—P

The minister of the M. E. church, no doubt anxious to keep the young folks interested by asking them to take part in the services, also to provide something different in entertainment on Sunday morning, asked me to give out with a saxaphone solo one Sunday a. m. . .Little did he realize my taste in music, for here was the big opportunity to make a hit with the audience with an inspiring rendition of "Saxaphobia". A trusting mother and minister, too, allowed me to pick my accompanist and 'piece' and they never trusted me again. Long will I remember the gasps of horror and some chuckles too, as I finished the last moaning notes of a number from the jazz world in a glow that only one who thought he was an artist in his line could feel.

P—P

They told me it was a good many Sundays before attendance in church was again back to normal.

:-The "Crow's Nest"-:

By George C. Hansen, Prtr. 3-c

Our current issue of the "Fleet City News" contains two feature articles written about our Axis enemies and are as follows:

RECIPE—

"Tacked on the wall of an office in the Sabee Training Center at Camp Peary, Va., is a copy of "Winning Recipe", written by R. S. Puies, F2-c, who is stationed with a Seabee unit in the South Pacific. The recipe:

"Ingredients:
"Two cups of Hitler.
"½ cup of Mussolini.
"6 cups of Japs.
"1 tablespoon of Rising Sun.
"1 teaspoon of Manilla.
"Directions:

"Sift Hitler three times through barbed wire, Chop Mussolini, then crack and shell Japs. Add Rising Sun and beat like hell. Then add Manilla and the more you beat the better. Grease pan, pour the mixture in it, put in oven and slam Corregidor. Turn on heat to 95,000 degrees and go see "Gone With the Wind". On return home, put on gas mask, open all doors and windows to let out the odor. Remove from oven and submerge in the Atlantic to cool. Then go and buy more War Bonds so that all us poor devils can come home."

—CN—

ANTHROPOLOGY OF JAPS—

"A pseudo-anthropologist, in the person of one of the Station's physical instructors, expounded the following bit of 'Scientific' satire:

"A very long time ago there lived in the land now known as China, a primitive man known as the Peking Man (Eoensis Pekinesis. This mongoloid primate landed on an island (now Japan) off the narthern coast of their homeland. We know not how they reached this island since there were no expert navigators in that period of human history (or pre-history). Suffice it to say that they got there.

"Upon their arrival they found the island already inhabited by an arboreal (tree dwelling) ape, once dubbed 'Jape'. The Peking man at once took to the ways of this half stooped, slanty browed primate and after a short period of time inter-married with same.

"This is the grossest instance of miscegination (inter-marriage between different classes) known to science. The resultant hybrid man came to be known as Jape man. Later the 'E' was dropped, now he is know as Jap-man or Japanese. (These characters are not entirely fictitious and any similarity to any persons living is premeditated and deliberate, however, it is hoped that the foregoing synthesis will not throw a disparaging light on our ally China.)"

KEEP 'EM FIT AND FIGHTING

A busted piece of farm machinery is just like a busted tank—it quits fighting. And, next summer, there won't be time to fuss with broken implements . . . and there'll be bigger farm goals than ever to meet.

There should be more new machinery available next year, but not enough to meet all the demand. You've got to keep those machines rolling because, like everybody else, you won't have any more help next year than last.

These days, time and manpower are the keys to meeting deadlines —in factories, on the rails, on the farm. When we avoid bottlenecks, we deliver the goods. When we can keep things moving steadily, orderly—we get the job done.

It's the same way with repairing farm implements and tools. If you check them over now, order replacements for worn and broken parts, fix them up this winter—you won't start making hay with a busted mower some busy day next June. And you won't have to wait then for repairs.

If you haven't done it yet, go over your plows, drills, discs, and cultivators. Give your tractor and truck a thorough check-up. See what the silage cutter and corn picker need. Tag each machine, showing service and parts numbers needed. Then see your local dealer or serviceman and order only what you need.

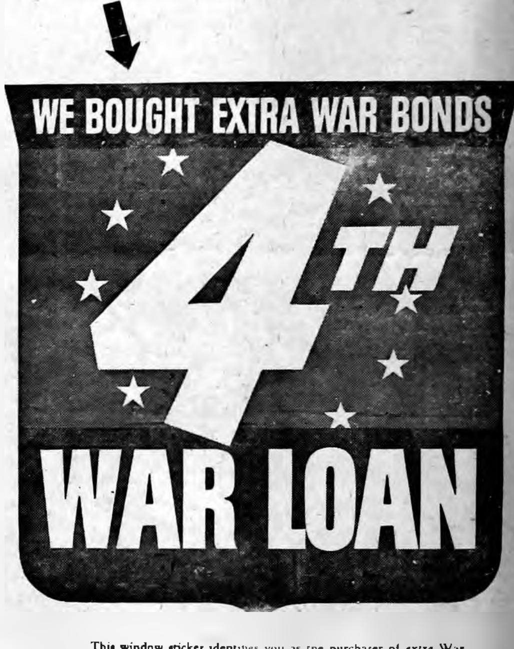
4th WAR LOAN



WE BOUGHT EXTRA WAR BONDS
4TH
WAR LOAN

The Fourth War Loan is on! Every farmer, every rancher in America is called to the greatest offensive yet . . . the buying of more War Bonds than he has ever bought before.

There are lots of other places we could be putting our money, sure! And there are lots of other places our boys could be than in foxholes and slit trenches. But none of those other things we'd rather be buying or doing amount to anything right now. The boys are doing their job. We've got ours to do to take every cent we can scrape together and buy War Bonds with it!

And what a lot of sense it makes, after all. War Bonds are the safest and best financial reserve ever offered us. We will have buildings to repair, machinery to replace, and improvements to buy later on. Where's the money coming from if not from today's earnings? And where's the money coming from for that long vacation, for the children's education, for the new car?

Take a look at the types of War Bond investments that are offered. Pick the type that fits your particular needs. And then write out the biggest check you can and order Bonds today from your postmaster, your bank or your Production Credit Association. You will look back on this day as the wisest day you ever lived!

This window sticker identifies you as the purchaser of extra War Bonds during the Fourth War Loan. It is a badge of honor to be displayed with pride. Be the first in your neighborhood to have one. Buy an extra War Bond today!

In The Bronco Corral

Semester tests are all over! What a relief, And no one "killed themselves" studying for them either. (Maybe when grades come out we'll wish we had).

Someone is missing. Sure enough! Miss Jensen is no longer seen in the halls of good old B. H. S. It's going to seem funny and we'll all miss her. (And her talent). But, fortunately her vacancy has been filled by Miss Schroeder, from Dubuque. Let's all help in making her feel at home. (Don't over do it though, fellows.)

Who have we here' Well, he's 6'1" tall, has brown hair, blue eyes. He's got a car and evidently the gas too. He sports a "loud" sweater if I ever did see one. Upon graduation in the spring he plans to join the Air Corps. He dances, and by the way, where was he at the time of the last dance? We missed you, D. V.

The girl this week is 5'11", has light brown hair, and green eyes! She is taking bookkeeping, Economics, Shorthand and typing II. Her middle name is Louise, if that will help. Her plans after graduation are, as yet, indefinite, but time will tell!

How many of you were like this little Moron? He stayed up all night studying for his blood test. No one, I hope!

There is also the one about the Little Moron that swallowed ten pennies and asked his friends if they could see any change in him.

Don't spend your money that foolishly. Ten cents will buy a war stamp and let's do it NOW!

When asked what she thinks of the building, Miss Schroeder replied, "The band room is just wonderful It's the best I've ever seen." The new band instructor is pleased with the friendliness of both teachers and students.

All School Children Use Gymnasium As Play Periods Are Scheduled

Every child in school now has a regularly scheduled period of play in the fine new Belmond school gymnasium. As in the past, high school and junior high have regularly scheduled phys. ed. classes twice a week and to this has been added a schedule whereby each grade child is also given the opportunity to use the floor.

On Mondays first and fourth grades will use the floor in their regular pyhs ed. periods. On Tuesday second and fifth grades, and on Wednesdays third and sixth. This plan has just gone into effect, but an idea of the enthuiasm shown by the youngsters has been gained from observation of the children at play Friday noons. At this time for several weeks all grade children taking lunches here at school have been permitted to play in the gym during the noon hour. The response to this program has been largely responsible for setting up and inaugurating a regular gym schedule.

Student Council Will Sponsor Valentine Party; Plans Later

Every Friday noon the Student council meets with their director, Mr. Faris and their president Jack Campbell. Their business, old and new, is discussed. Each member gives their share of ideas in the discussion.

At the Friday, January 14th, meeting, a valentine party was suggested and the Student Council plans to sponsor it. Definite plans for party will be made at a later date. Also it was decided that some seating facilities should be put near the skating pond for the benefit of those who change their skates at the pond.

If you have any ideas that you would like to see put over, why not tell your Student Council representative. In case you have forgotten who the members are. Representing the seniors are Jack Campbell, Betty Uhlenhopp, and Paul Quigley. Representing the juniors are Don Hewlett, George Sharp and Paul McNulty Sophomore members are Leslie Classick, Duane Anderson and Loretta Rubendall. The freshmen are represented by Ronnie Hunter, Bonnie Uhlenhopp and Doris Christie.

Seniors Lead in Girls' Volleyball Tournament

The senior girls lead with a percentage of 1.000 having won three games and losing none.

The Freshmen girls have a percentage of .750 having won three and lost one They are in second place in the tournament at present.

The Junior girls have a percentage of .333 winning one game and losing two; while the Sophomore girls have a percentage of .000 winning no games and losing four.

High Scoring Team Sets 40-Point Game Average

Belmond High School's fast-moving basketball team will meet a non-conference rival, Dows, here Friday night. Dows has had a relatively poor season and the Broncos are the favorites to win.

At the halfway mark of the season following the Northwood game, the Broncos had marked up a fine record of nine victories as compared with two losses.

Outstanding among these victories were the defeat of Eagle Grove leading the North Central Conference and the defeat of Nevada, another non-conference school.

In the North Iowa Conference Belmond now stands second with a record of five victories and 2 defeats, with Forest City remaining the only undefeated team.

At this time it appears that Forest City will win the championship for even if Belmond defeats the Indians in their game early in February, they will still have a percentage advantage.

The 1943-1944 team has proved to be one of the highest scoring teams ever to represent Belmond High School. In their eleven games thus far, they have averaged over forty points a game, passing the fifty point mark against Lake Mills, Klemme and Britt

Another record being smashed this year is the attendance record With the fine seating facilities available in the new gym, crowds have been good and have been growing from week to week. An estimated five hundred people, the largest crowd of the season, saw the Northwood game last Friday night.

These games are played every Tuesday and Thursday noons. Each class is to play each of the other classes twice in the tournament.

Kindergarten Needs Old Magazines, String, Cloth

The kindergarten children have named their black boat the "S. S. American" and have pasted Red Crosses on the sides and top. It is a hospital ship and carries nurses.

The newspapers, magazines, string and cloth remnants sent to the kindergarten room by parents are appreciated very much.

The paper is used under the painting easel and under the pails, where the children wash their paint brushes and paste sticks. It is also spread out for drying finger-paintings, and the magazines give the children practice in handling scissors, through hunting for and occasions. The remnants of cloth are being used in simple sewing of new doll clothes and playhouse curtains.

Whether you have a child in the Kindergarten or not, any donations along these lines, will be greatly appreciated.

ALEXANDER CHIEF GILLETT WAS ON U. S. S. OKLAHOMA AT PEARL HARBOR

Alvah G. Gillett, Chief Yeoman, who has been in the U. S. Navy since May 3, 1939 and who was formerly from Alexander, tells the Navy and aboard the U. S. S about some of his experiences in Oklahoma, which was sunk at Pearl Harbor on December 7th, 1941. Chief Gillett writes as follows:

"December 7, 1941, was a day none of us fellows will ever forget. We had just finished eating chow (breakfast) when the Officer of the Deck passed the word over the loud speaker for all hands to man their battle stations, that we were being attacked by Japanese planes. After a period of four to five minutes we were ordered to abandon ship, as the ship received approximately seven torpedoes and she was going over. The Oklahoma capsized in seven minutes and the men that got out alive were very fortunate, but I lost a lot of ship mates that never had a chance of getting out. After the attack, which lasted for about an hour and a half, some of us were taken to the Submarine Base where we had a chance of cleaning up and were given some clothes and blankets. Two days after the attack I was transferred on a destroyer for temporary duty to relieve the [illegible] crews. After two weeks time we returned to Pearl Harbor and were relieved and sent to the Re[illegible] Station, Pearl Harbor, T. H. I helped put a U. S. Navy Post Office in commission and I worked there until December [illegible]. September 1, 1942, I was advanced to the rating of Yeoman First Class and in December I was transferred back to San Francisco for assignment to new construction. After I was in San Francisco one month I received my orders for the U. S. S. Florikan which was being built nearby. I remained in the states for a period of six months, and helped put the U. S. S. Florikan in commission. September 1, 1943, I was advanced to the rating of Chief Yeoman, my present rating. The crew of the U. S. S. Florikan is like one big happy family and we are very proud to be in the greatest Navy in the world. The next time that I come back to the States again, I am hoping to get enough leave so I can come back to Iowa and see my mother and Dad whom I have not seen for four years.

Temporary Rati'n Changes Announced

Sugar Stamp No. 40 Good For Early Canning

Twelve red stamps in war ration book No. 4 with a total value of 120 points, have been validated by the Office of Price Administration for buying of pork and other rationed meats from farmers, it has been announced by C. C. Benson, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board.

This will give consumers ample ration points for buying meat, particularly pork, from farmers who want to slaughter their hogs on the farm and market them in the form of fresh meat. Mr. Benson explained. The advance use of meat stamps is permitted only when purchases are made from farm slaughterers and does not affect housewives who buy from retailers.

Chairman Benson emphasized that this advance use of meat stamps merely permits purchase now and storage for later use; it is a loan of stamps and NOT a bonus. Care should be taken to retain enough valid red stamps for buying butter, cheese and other fats when the red stamps become valid for use in retail stores.

The red stamps in Book 4 which may now be used for buying meat from farm slaughterers are those numbered "8" and lettered from "A" through "M".

These stamps are worth 10 points each, making a total of 120 points In addition, the brown stamps in Book 3 totaling 96 points may be used ahead of their regular validity dates when buying pork from farmers. This means that individuals in a position to buy from slaughterers have a total of 216 points which they may use. Purchases of farm slaughtered meat must be made on the basis of current point values

CANNING SUGAR

Homemakers who wish to can early fruit may now obtain five pounds of sugar by using Sugar Stamp No. 40 in War Ration Book Four,'. Mr. Benson said. The stamp will be good from February 1 through February 28, 1945, thirteen months, and will be the only sugar stamp used for buying canning sugar. Additional amounts will be made available later on application to Local Boards. Last year two five pound sugar stamps were validated for home canning. This action is a preliminary one to provide sugar in the South where early fruit is ready for canning.

Individual retailers and jobbers of men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes may sell limited quantities of excess stocks ration-free on authorization from their OPA district office, it has been announced. The released rubber footwear is to be marked with official non-rationed stickers before it is ration free however. This regulation became effective January 29. it was stated by C. C Benson, chairman of the local war price and rationing board.

This is not a general release from rationing, he said, and does not indicate an improvement in the total supply of rationed rubber footwear available for civilian workers. The new plan will enable dealers to move types of stock which have not sold well under rationing in some areas and which might be wasted through deterioration.

Application to make the ration-free sales are to be made to the Des Moines OPA district office.

W. C. Tyrrell Attended Special Session Of Legislature Last Week

State Representative W C Tyrrell attended the special session of the Legislature which convened on Wednesday, January 26, at which time legislation was passed by both houses to broaden Iowa's absent voters law to give greater opportunity to those in the armed services to cast their ballots in the elections this year.

The new legislation does not interfere in any way with the election of laws already on the statute books It only makes temporary changes, applicable to the 1944 elections, that extend the time in which those in service may apply for, receive and vote absent ballots. These ballots will have the names of all parties on all national, state and county elective offices. In this it is much broader than the proposed Federal law which can only extend the ballot on President, Vice President, United States Senators and Representatives.

Local Feed Dealer Announces Premium For Chick Raisers

Assuring poultry farmers of an ample supply of chick starter mash for their full season's needs, John Van Gerpen, owner of the Belmond Hatchery and local distributor of Cargill Feeds, announced today the offering of a special gift bonus for early buyers. He says he has chosen a household item that has the rare combination of practical appeal for the ladies—and appetite appeal for the men. It's a specially designed, deep pie plate of tested ovenglass, with a unique fluted rim that seals juices and flavors right in the pies. With a limit of one to a customer, these pie plates will be given out while the supply lasts, with each 300 pound purchase of Cargill Flavinized Chick Starter. Says Mr. Van Gerpen, "It's simply a little profit-sharing dividend to keep customers reminded that they've given their chicks a good strong start in the direction of the laying house."

THE GREAT BIG "IF"

CPL. MEYERS BATTALION PRAISED FOR WORK IN AUSTRALIA

Cpl. Harm Myers sends home a copy of an army newspaper printed by the 41st Infantry Division somewhere in Australia with an article written by Chaplain Ray Attebery commenting on the battalion of which Cpl. Myers is a member. The article is as follows:

WELCOME BACK "B" CO.

"The Division welcomes back into the family fold this week B Company of the Engineers, which has made an outstanding record up North. Going up with the first Combat Team last year, they distinguished themselves in combat; then, did their share with the other companies of the Battalion in road and bridge construction, docks and pipelines.

"Just as their boat was pulling out to come back here six months ago, they received orders to debark and go further north for an indefinite assignment. There was no whining among officers or men. They said, "B" Company, first to arrive on the job and last to leave it. Our Company is the best in the Battalion; give it to us." This last assignment comprised the building of a pipeline to service important airfields.

"More power to you Engineers! Welcome home. The Division takes great pride both in your achievements and the true soldier's spirit with which you have undertaken all missions. Your work has enabled our air power to punch far deeper and more effectively into the Nipponese defense lines and by your efforts you have brought us all just that much nearer home!"

Never before have we heard and used "United" with such meaning as now. Our states three thousand miles from east to west are as united as the smallest of bordering states. Nations fifteen thousond miles apart are United now against a common enemy. The Fighting Forces of many Nations and races are facing the enemy side by side – in China, in Europe, in the South Pacific and in Russia, united in command and purpose.

UNITED action starts with a cooperative effort and an understanding of the man at your side, of the men in your outfit and of the men on your ship or station.

Is there time now for petty bickering, prejudices and mistrusts? Now is the time to put our minds and efforts to the mental and physical conditioning that will put our strength against an enemy that has for years tried to dis-unite these United States.

The "United" in the United States starts with YOU! — G. C. Hansen, Prtr. 3-c.

ABOUT THE HEMP PLANTS—

The closing of seven Iowa Hemp plants out of a total of 11 and 28 out of 42 in the entire country after only one year's operation in processing hemp, and even before the construction on some of the these plants had been completed, is arousing much discussion and a great deal of bitter feeling toward the heads of the War Hemp Industry or whoever it was that planned our wartime hemp program

It would seem that the whole domestic hemp program might turn out to be an extremely costly experiment, unless of course the hemp produced and processed during the one year of 1943 might mean the difference between defeat and victory for the Allies.

If the hemp program does turn out to be in the nature of an experiment, like many other government projects which have been started and then discontinued, the government had better get busy and plan some constructive use of the abandoned plants. Such waste of taxpayers' money would really hit close to home here in the middle west.

—V—

LOTS OF FIRES—

The papers recently have been carrying an amazing number of stories about the loss of human life in Fires. There have been so many casualties reported recently that we are beginning to wonder if there isn't some reason.

Continued weeks of dry weather have no doubt caused some fires. Heating equipment that has long since served its time of service and that has not had proper repairs because of labor or material shortages is more likely to be the reason for fires in homes where the loss of human life has occurred. In a few instances, fires might too be caused by just ordinary carelessness.

GOOD GRIPING—

We have heard it said that in the Navy you are not considered a good Sailor unless you can do a good job of GRIPING about a great many things: about your be, your bed, your food, your top sergeant, your commander..

Perhaps we might compare the average good American citizen to a Good Sailor. He does a great deal of griping about a great many things: about rationing, about not having enough gas to do his necessary driving, about not having the money to pay his taxes and enough left over to buy his share of War Bonds, about having to work too hard.....

But the Sailor gets his job done, and so does the Average American Citizen

Where did inflation come from? It came from on abundance of money in the hands of the people.

Where did they get the money? The government gave it to them in one way and another.

Gifts to farmers for doing or refraining from doing what the government asked.

Gifts to municialities in the guise of relieving unemployment.

Excessively high wages paid by contractors on war jobs.

The forty-hour week that jumped wages.

The wilful and deliberate waste of material in government plants for war work.

The employment of 3,000,000 government clerks at wages higher than private industry can pay—and meet the payroll without adding to its debt.

In fact, the government is solely responsible for inflation. If it gets beyond control it will be because the government is still adding fuel to the flames.—Wright County Monitor.

About the surest way we can think of at the moment to make certain the nomination and election of Willkie for the presidency is to let it be known that Russia and England do not want him, but do want Roosevelt. The American voter will strongly resent any outside interference or influence in our domestic affairs and especially our elections. If a foreign chorus begins to chant, "We want Roosevelt," the American voter will decide THAT is what he does not want.—Eagle Grove Eagle.

The present administration has set several records. First it borrow money on the credit of the people, gave them some of it, boondoggled the rest away—and made them like it. Now it has created inflation to make more money for a still bigger national debt, the money given to the people temporarily but to be reabsorbed back into Uncle Sam's till for more spending and a still greoter debt. Rather puzzling but agreeable in spots—as long as national credit lasts.—Humboldt Republican.

There was more to the story on the society page last week about the surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Mike Luick than appeared in the item.

Out on crutches and entering gym at the basketball game Friday night were Chuck Wilmarth and Clarence Mickelson. It looked like a case of each coming out even. Probably neither one knows the other so it couldn't have been a ring affair. They are pretty peaceful fellows anyway.

P—P

We're getting all set for the coming basketball sectional tournament at Belmond which is just a month away. With the announcement of the participating teams and the pairings Belmond's chances for a win based on their season's record are good.

Dows and Garner, Kanawha and Belmond, Clarion and Eagle Grove are the pairings for the class A games. We've picked the Broncos to come through, not from sentiment, but because we believe they have the stuff to work under pressure. They have met and won from four out of the other five class A schools entered, Eagle Grove 28 Belmond 30; Garner 23, Belmond 42; Clarion 27, Belmond 31 and Dows 20, Belmond 57.

P—P

The announcement recently that only four of the eleven hemp plants constructed in Iowa last year by the government would be in operation in 1945 recalls to mind the verbal castigation that went up and down the street agains a few of our prominent citizens who were being blamed for not going to work and bringing one to Belmond. It was thought by many that the sugar plant property would be ideal for conversion into a hemp plant. No one knew though that the matter had been taken under consideration by the aforesaid citizens and they couldn't see it as something that had a future after the war.

P—P

That's all water over the dam and any popularity they lost has been more than regained. Since work began at the General Mills plant (that might have been a hemp plant) those of us who are watching the progress of the building and remodeling are beginning to realize it is going to be an industry far bigger than anything we could possibly have dreamed of locating in Belmond.

Dairy Products Rank High

From the dairy cow comes food that will furnish energy, promote and support growth, sustain life, and even supply some of the vitally needed vitamins and minerals; but the cow cannot give her most and best in these things unless she receives large amounts of proteins, adequate amounts of minerals, an ample supply of vitamins and liberal amounts of net energy feeds in her rations.

Big Gain Spring Pasture 32% Dairy Concentrate is made to combine with your own selection of grain, and supply the cow with the very things she needs for heavy milk production.

If you want Quality in your dairy rations and profit from your dairy herd, ask your dealer for Big Gain Spring Pasture 32% Dairy Concentrate.

Fuller-Townsan Vows Spoken At Iowa City

At a pretty candlelight ceremony Sunday, January 30, 1944 at four o'clock p. m., Miss Jeanne Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl F Ahlman of Iowa City, and Pvt. Charles Robert Towsan, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Townsan of Belmond, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Krueger, pastor of the English Lutheran church with the immediate family in attendance.

The bride was attractively dressed in a pastel purple wool suit with a white blouse and black accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of orchids. Miss Marilyn Benson, who served as bridesmaid wore a two piece brown suit with pink collar and cuffs and a corsage of white camellias.

The groom and the best man. Cpl. Bill McBride, were both dressed in their army uniforms.

A four course wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock in the Rose Room of the Jefferson Hotel in Iowa City

The bride was a graduate of the Minneapolis high school with the class of '43 and has since been employed in the credit department of a Minneapolis store.

Bob was graduated from the Belmond high school in 1942 and attended the University of Iowa for one year after which he enlisted in the army and attended Radio Signal School in Minneapolis for nine months. He then took his basic training at Camp Kohler, Calif., and is now attending Hope College at Holland, Mich., taking an engineering course under the A. S. T. P

Following a short wedding trip Pvt. Townsan will return to school at Michigan and Mrs Townsan will remain in Iowa City at the home of her parents at 629 Kirkwood Ave.

NOW

SELL

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using. Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.

Or possibly a cow, horse, or flock of chickens.

Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.

ALWAYS REMEMBER – Whatever it is you would like to sell, there is a buyer for it.

And if there is something you want to buy, you can often find a person with that same thing to sell.

This farm boy stopped bullets intended for you . . .

JOE MARTINEZ, Colorado farm boy, his battalion bogged down under withering fire from Jap positions on Attu, arose alone and advanced into a hail of bullets to clean out trench after trench so his battalion could advance. He died with his rifle at his shoulder, pumping lead into the enemy, while his mates were able to move up behind him and successfully take the pass. For this, Joe Martinez has been posthumously awarded the Nation's highest military honor. Let every man who was once a farm boy himself buy an extra War Bond in Joe's honor . . . for Joe took the bullets aimed at the heart of America!

The 4th WAR LOAN is your opportunity to do something about it!

It's Time to Take the Offensive. Your government has the men it needs to do the job in the front lines—great men all! But it doesn't have the money it needs, by a long way. That's your job! And the immediate task is the Fourth War Loan — Your chance to take the offensive not only in support of the men who are fighting and dying for you and your loved ones, but also in support of your own future!

What are you going to do about a wornout tractor, about repairing fences and buildings, about replacing depreciated machinery and equipment? Will you be ready with money in the bank when these things are needed?

You will if you take the offensive now! Put every extra dollar into U. S. War Bonds — the best form of financial reserve ever offered you. Think! You are asked to make a sound and prudent investment — not a sacrifice!

When Your Boy Comes Home

Will your boy come back to a farm or ranch with no financial reserves, no future? Or will you greet him at the gate with a bundle of War Savings Bonds — for working capital, new machinery, better buildings? And if your children are going to college, why not be sure they get there by buying today the Bonds that will pay the cost.

No need, really, to tell an up-to-date farmer or rancher what he needs financial reserves for. You know more reasons than anyone else can enumerate for setting aside extra dollars to meet the future. Now is your chance to do it . . . and help fight the war, too!

Go on the offensive! Buy all the Bonds you can — today!

WE BOUGHT EXTRA WAR BONDS 4TH WAR LOAN

This window sticker identifies you as the purchaser of extra War Bonds during the Fourth War Loan. It is a badge of honor to be displayed with pride. Be the first in your neighborhood to have one. Buy an extra War Bond today!

You Never Get Less Than You Lend! And you get ⅓ more than you invest. When held 10 years, War Bonds yield 2.9% interest compounded semi-annually. You get back $4 for every $3.

Cash When You Need It. If an emergency comes along, your War Bonds are like money in the bank. Uncle Sam will redeem them in cash—at full purchase price—any time after you've held them 60 days. Don't cash them unless you have to. And don't hold back a single dollar unnecessarily from the purchase of War Bonds. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

Facts About War Bonds (Series E)

You can buy War Bonds from your bank, postmaster, mail carrier or Production Credit Association. Don't wait. Do it by mail if you can't get to town!

OBITUARY

MRS. GEORGE HARBERTS

Alice Leone, daughter of William and Belle Magor was born on August 30, 1880 at Hampton, Iowa.

The early part of her life was spent around Hampton and Geneva and during that time was baptized in the Hampton Methodist church.

On December 2, 1903, she was united in marriage to George Harberts at the Methodist parsonage in Belmond. To this union four children were born. Walter Lee, a son, died at the age of 4½ years and a twin son in infancy.

In The Bronco Corral

January is all over and still no snow! Let's hope this weather lasts.

Have you noticed "Hook's" mustache? Rather becoming don't you think? Ha!

I think this is a good time to congratulate the Broncos on a swell season and wish them lots of luck in the remaining games. (Especially the tournament) That's a swell picture of the team that is holding down some spot in nearly every store in town. (What's the sour look for Orland, Or is it just natural?)

If you have a chance, students, drop into the English speech class. You're sure to find some interesting topics 'cause they range from "canning" to "first aid", what a variety.

Have you noticed how many of the senior girls are planning to take nursing when through school in the spring? There are 10 at least! Now, where are the doctors?

A little advice to the "Freshies"! You're off to a good start, keep it up! (George H. and Doris C.) too bad there aren't more like you.

Music Department Is Planning For Contests And Operetta Soon

Music plans for the semester include contests and operetta.

The music department composed of both vocal and instrumental, entered the contests this year. This is only a preliminary entrance merely as an inquiry in to the attitude of the music departments of other schools.

In the event there will be all groups, large and small, that Miss Schroeder will select to be entered. It is her desire to enter in the contest the Concert Band, Girls' Glee Club, small groups and soloists.

For an operetta production, Miss Schroeder isn't sure yet if the high school is interested, plans will be made for that a little later.

Trained To Be At Ease On Feet in Speech Class

Shaky knees, jerky sentences, and nervousness constitute English IV speech class under the direction of Supt. Johnson. Mr. Johnson hopes to help the class overcome these defects by having each student say a few words in front of the class practically every day. Recently the students responded to roll call by reading a few lines of poetry from a book.

To inform, to explain, to impress, to convince, and to entertain are the different types of speech that are being practiced Speeches to inform have been worked on this week.

This speech training will come in handy in later life as well as at present because one never knows when his time will come to give a talk to a group of people.

By the end of the year some of the class at least, should be capable of giving a thirty-minute speech with no difficulties whatsoever.

"HOOFBEATS"

Local Gym Chosen For B B Tournament Site

Thirteen Teams Entered In Sectional

All the resources of the Belmond High School will be thrown into the effort to make the sectional basketball tournament to be played here March first, second, third and fourth, a rousing success.

Announcement that Belmond was chosen as the site of one of the 64 sectionals was made to Supt. Johnson two weeks ago by Mr Lyle Quinn, secretary of the High School Athletic Association and appeared in the press last week.

Belmond is especially fortunate in being assigned a tournament in as much as one was held here last year, according to Mr. Johnson, and, no doubt, the reason for this was the financial success of the event due to the splendid support of the community.

"Belmond is on its way toward becoming one of the important basketball centers of north Iowa". We can expect to have a tournament here frequently if we continue to have the following of fans that is making the season's attendance the largest ever.

In order to take care of all the details of the tournament many of the organizations of the school will be called on to take part. The gymnasium must be decorated: this will be the work of one organization. One of the best sources of income is a refreshment stand of which another organization will have charge.

To handle the large crowds at the various sessions a staff of ushers will be needed and each visiting team will be provided with a host from the student body. Another duty to perform will be the preparation and sale of advertising for a souvenir which will be sold at the games. The sale of these programs will be another duty.

Most important of the jobs, and one for which every student will be responsible, will be in attending the games and assisting in the cheering.

All tournaments are under the Iowa High School Athletic Association. The entertaining school receives a percentage of the gate receipts. The Superintendent of school is designated as manager of the tournament.

Two referees will work each game. They are selected by the Athletic Association, the local school having no authority in the matter. At the time of this writing the participating schools had not been announced and much interest and speculation awaited this news.

Hot Rivalries Prevail

Announcement of the pairings for the Sectional Tournament to be played in Belmond March 1, 2, 3 and 4 show that this community will entertain the hottest tourney in north central Iowa.

Six Class A teams, and seven Class B teams, among which are several fiery natural rivals make up the field.

It would be difficult to find a meet with more traditional rivalries than those existing between Thornton and Meservey, Meservey and Alexander, Alexander and Rowan, Garner and Belmond, Eagle Grove and Clarion, and Belmond and Clarion.

In this year's tournament Class A schools do not meet Class B schools, and two champions will be crowned. Winners in both classes will enter the district meet.

Of the five Class A rivals Belmond has defeated four, Clarion, Eagle Grove, Garner and Dows but has not faced Kanawha.

Although the record establishes the locals as somewhat the favorites to win the tournament, the toughest sort of opposition stands in the way. Belmond must defeat Kanawha and presumably Garner to reach the finals and then would face the winner of the Clarion - Eagle Grove tilt.

Both these teams gave the Broncos a terrific test during the season, Clarion losing an overtime tussle and the Eagles being nosed out by two points.

Officials for the tournament have not yet been announced.

Lettermen Elect Co- Captains

Jack Campbell, guard and halfback and Bob Nelson, end, were elected honorary co-captains of the 1943 Belmond High School football team at a meeting of the letter winners last Monday.

Jack played his third year, starting the season at guard and being shifted to halfback on offense late in the season. He was known throughout the conference for his hard charging and terrific speed. Jack is also president of student council.

Bob, better known as "Oz", won his letter at end of last year and this season became the team's standout wingman Fans will long remember the sensational catches of forward passes that Bob made during the season. He is also a star forward on the basketball team.

No Home Game In Basketball Until Next Week

Followers of the Belmond High School basketball team will not have the opportunity to see the Broncos in action this week as they go out of town for their only game of the week.

The Broncos travel to Buffalo Center tomorrow night for a return game. They will be after their 12th victory in 14 starts.

Coach Lansing used the week's practice time largely for a review in fundamentals. He felt the boys were slipping in some of the important skills, and with the sectional tournament in the near future, that they needed all the polishing they could receive.

Because of the distance only one team will make the trip to Buffalo Center. Players to go will be Bob Nelson, Larry Dorr, Larry Jones, Doug Walrod, Les Classick, Orland Finn, Roger Pals, Haydn Jones and Manager Ed Gabrielson.

Bob McBride.

Editorial Comment

Our basketball team is really going places this year—we surely hope that they keep it up. So far the boys have lost only two games one to Northwood and one to Forest City. Coach Lansing deserves much credit for this fine record made by the team.

The Broncos are not only good basketball players but they are also very photogenic. Evidence of this can be found hanging in stores around town.

Recruiting Campoign Is Now Underway

Sixty-five thousand new student nurses are needed this year—that is the call to service for Miss High School Graduate of 1944.

To every high school senior girl, this call is a challenge. To the girl with a sincere desire to help humanity, it is a beacon toward which to move.

The call is being answered through the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps which has just opened its campaign to recruit young women for Spring Classes of Schools of Nursing. Already, young women enrolled under the Maltese Cross insignia of this woman's war-time service devoted to the saving of lives and protection of health—are helping to maintain the health of the nation. Many more thousands of new student nurses must be enrolled, however, to meet dangerous shortages in every nursing field.

In the two years the United States has been at war, great numbers of graduate nurses have left their civilian posts to serve on the battlefronts. Many nurses went from hospital staffs, from health agencies, from schools and institutions. They went from rural districts and industrial areas—where farmers, coal miners, steel workers and their families lean heavily upon the graduate nurse and the service she has to render in time of sickness or injury. They have not been replaced.

The U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps was established under the Bolton Act to meet the nation-wide need. Under the Cadet Nurse Corps program, which was set up with appropriations for carrying on nurse recruitment and nurse education on a national scale, new nurses are being recruited everywhere. The Cadet Nurse uniform will be worn by girls from farms and rural communities; from small towns and large cities.

Almost as soon as she begins her preparation, the Cadet Nurse begins her service to her country. While she gains valuable experience under supervision during her preparation, she contributes to the easing of the acute shortage of nursing care. At the same time, she learns a profession for a fine and profitable lifetime career.

In Schools of Nursing—and the Cadet Nurse selects her own school—all expense scholarships cover tuition, fees, living expenses and uniforms. She receives full nurse education under an accelerated program of studies. Upon graduation, she is eligible to become a Registered Nurse and to enter any essential field of nursing she chooses.

Membership in the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps is open to every girl between the ages of 17 or 18 (depending on State and school regulations) and 35, who is a graduate of an accredited high school with good scholastic record, and is in good health. During her preparation period, the service she renders is given national recognition—as symbolized by the Cadet Nurse uniform she wears.

The U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps offers to each girl who can qualify, opportunities for service to humanity and for a life-time education in a proud profession. Her uniform—smart gray suit with regimental red epaulets and sleeve insignia, silver buttons and lapel insignia; top coat and Montgomery beret—distinguishes her as a young woman who has assumed an important role in the war effort and who will have an equally constructive part in the post war years.

Girls interested in the U S. Cadent Nurse Corps may make application at any school of nursing participating in the Corps program. Information on approved schools may be obtained at any hospital or by writing U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, Box 88, New York City.

The Senior girls from B. H. S. who are planning to take up nursing are: Ruth Hogenson, Cleo Trees, Lorraine Quigley, Rose Zeiger, Marcia Pierce, Lorraine Ellis, Kathryn Palmer, Abbie Bonte and Grace Landon.

Semester Physics Subject: Electricity

Ten boys make up the Physics class taught by Mr. Faris. During the first semester the study consisted of varied subjects, such as Heat, Liquids, Gases, Solids, and Friction. Of the boys who take this course, many plan to take specialized training for a commission in the army. Jack Campbell, Don Nelson, and Paul Quigley have already enlisted in the air corps.

The next semester will be devoted entirely to the study of electricity, on which most of the further study will be based. This subject is enjoyed by the entire class.

So You Can't Buy Another Bond

Army Signal Corps Photo

Take a good look at this American soldier as he lies in the mud of Rendova Island in the Southwest Pacific, victim of a Jap air raid. It is not a pleasant scene, is it? When you are asked to buy an extra War Bond to Back the Attack think of this picture of your fellow American blasted by the concussion of a Jap bomb thousands of miles from home. Then brother, don't you think you will want to dig a little deeper to back up his comrades?

OBITUARY

HENRY OLSON

Henry Olson was born in Lilleboe, Norway, on January 14, [illegible]. At the age of 16 years he came to America and has spent the greater part of his life since then in this vicinity, working as a farm hand for various people of this community. He was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran Church in Norway.

Mr. Olson had been been of failing health for the past two or three years and because of illness was forced to retire last Christmas. He had since that time made his home at the T. A. Thompson residence in Belmond. He passed away suddenly of a heart attack last Tuesday morning at the age of [illegible] years and 12 days.

Mr. Olson is survived by one sister, Mrs. Agnes Kobus of [illegible], Minn. There are [illegible] sisters living in Norway, but they have not been heard from for quite some time. Mr. Olson had made many friends for himself in this community who regret this sudden passing.

Funeral services were held last Friday afternoon at the Fulton Funeral Home with the Rev. O. M. Severseike officiating. Interment was at the Belmond Cemetery.

NOT POP CORN

Too bad that the corn in the crib on the Henry Opfer farm near Waukon was not pop corn. The floor of the corn crib caught fire from a bonfire started by Mr. Opfer when he burned some cobs. The fire department extinguished the blaze before much damage was done.

NEW ASH TRAYS

Indianola high school art students have made ash trays from tin cans. The cans have been pierced and bent until they look like Mexican tinware. The class is under the direction of Miss Marian A. Malmin.

OLD HOMESTEAD

A farm in the Schultz family since 1870 recently was sold to another member of the family. The farm originally owned by Frank Schultz recently occupied by Mark Schultz and family, was sold to Claire Schultz. The farm is located in Dickinson county.

Broncos Coast-Win Two More Cage Battles

Conference Winner To Be Defeated At Forest City Tonight

Belmond's Broncos stretched their winning streak to 9 games and rolled up another top-heavy score as they romped away from Lake Mills here Tuesday night 67 to 30.

The Lake Mills team, made up largely of freshmen, put up a willing scrap and held the score almost even during the first half. The score was 26 to 18 at the intermission.

Finding their basket eyes in the second half, the Broncos pulled away fast and the game soon became an uninteresting, one-sided affair marred by much ragged, loose playing on the part of both teams. Thirty-five personal fouls were called during the contest, over half of them against the Broncos.

By winning their seventh North Iowa Conference tilt Tuesday night the Belmond quintet took an even firmer hold on second place with a percentage of .777. Forest City still leads the race with a perfect record and a standing of 1.000. Belmond has now won 13 games this season while losing 2, with 4 remaining to be played before tournament time.

Buffalo Center was the 12th victim of the Broncos last Friday night losing by a score of 34 to 14. A tight zone defense on a small floor stalled the Belmond offense during the first half and the Broncos led by only two points at the half.

With Belmond in the lead, the Bisons' defense cracked under the pressure, and Belmond soon doubled the score and won easily.

After a series of three easy games, the local team travels to Forest City tonight to meet the leaders of the conference in a critical contest for both teams. The outcome of this game will determine whether or not Forest City clinches the title. Belmond lost a game before Christmas to the Indians 63 to 43 in a free-scoring game that showed little defensive strength on either team. Since that time Belmond has greatly improved on defense, and a great battle is expected tonight.

TO HELP WITH INCOME TAX RETURNS

A deputy from the Internal Revenue Service will be at the Belmond City Hall on Monday and Tuesday February 14 and 15 to give advice and help in the making out of Federal income tax returns. It is suggested that farmers complete the farm schedule before calling. Due to the larger number of returns this year, the deputy will only have time to compute tax.

INDEPENDENT NOW ON FILE AT CITY LIBRARY

Because of the convenience and the necessity to save increasing wear and tear on the files of the Independent, a bound file of the 1943 copies of the paper was placed in the city Library this week. And as long as the present owners publish the Independent this practice will be continued.

A year ago it occurred to us that a second permanent file of the Belmond newspaper would be desirable since we had noticed that our own copies were being used more each day in looking up publications of personal and organization interest. Although the second copy might have been retained in this office it was decided that it would be more convenient for some if it was placed in the Library. Anyone who wishes to do so is welcome to use the copies of the Independent at either place and for the information of all, the file at this office goes back to 1876.

SGT. CRABTREE WRITES ABOUT ITALY

Mr. and Mrs Sam Crabtree received a letter recently from their son Sgt. Erwin George Crabtree who is serving overseas in Italy with the Air Force. Sgt. Crabtree writes as follows: "I have become acquainted with an Italian family who are really nice. . . They can tell some great stories of when the Germans were here. . . Thanks to their teaching me, my learning of the Italian language is becoming easy. . . I feel very good considering 18 months overseas. . . There is only one thing I hope for, and that is for THIS to end soon. I don't see how they can possibly take it for very long. Russia is really on their neck in the east. England and us aren't doing so bad either. . ." Crabtree enclosed a newspaper clipping which described his bombardment group, part of which is as follows:

"The 301st Bombardment group flew its 200th mission in 17 months of overseas service Saturday to lead the Flying Fortress attack on Reggio Emilia, in northern Italy. The group has dropped 9,561 tons of bombs, destroyed 253 enemy aircraft in combat, probably destroyed 121 and damaged 142. In addition, hundreds of enemy planes were destroyed in raids on airdromes. The first 115 missions were flown without the loss of a single crew."

Henry Larsen Retires After Twenty Years On Tyrrell Farm

Henry H. Larsen, who has operated the east Tyrrell farm four miles southeast of Belmond for 20 years, is holding a closing-out sale next week, February 15, since he plans to quit farming and move to Belmond to make his home. His plans for the future, however, are still indefinite.

As he retires from farming, Mr. Larsen makes some comments about his transactions with the Tyrrell family. He says, "When I moved on the Tyrrell farm March 1, 1924, I thought I would stay one year, but my business dealings with the late W. C. Tyrrell Sr. were so altogether satisfactory and agreeable that I had no desire to leave. I thought he was a prince of a fellow. Later when Preston and W. C. took over the management of the farms, they told me I could stay as long as I wished, which goes to show that the Tyrrell sons are following in their father's footsteps."

DUAN PACKARD PROMOTED TO MAJOR

Has 15 Years Experience With Soy Bean Business

Whitney Eastman, President of the Vegetable Oil and Protein Division of General Mills, Inc., has today announced the appointment of two executives to his staff. They are Mr. Walter E. Flumerfelt as manager of the Belmond, Iowa soyean extraction Soybean processing plant, and Mr. Wilbur L. Taylor as Technical Director of the Vegetable Oil and Protein Division.

Walter E. Flumerfelt, who joined the GMI organization in July, 1943, has been in the soybean business for about fifteen years. He graduated from Cornell University class of 1923, majoring in chemistry. He operated his own solvent extraction soybean processing plant a batch arrangement —at Monticello, Illinois, starting in 1929; was a member of the original National Soybean Oil Manufacturers' Association, which was organized in 1930; patented a continuous solvent extraction process and became associated with Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, at Milwaukee in development work in this field. With the organization of the Soy Bean Processing Company, Waterloo, Iowa, in 1936, he became General Manager of this operation, pioneering and guiding growth of the company's business as well as the development of sound cultural and marketing practices in Iowa with respect to soybeans themselves. The intervening years have brought rapid changes from the time when farmers grudgingly used a few bags of soybean oil meal per season to the present time when the full merits of this vegetable protein concentrate are universally recognized and the same farmers are unable to get enough for their needs.

Walt, as he is known to the trade, was a director in the National Soybean Processors Association for eight years, served on numerous industry committees, and was a member of the WPB Industry Advisory Council. He is a member of the American Chemical Society and the American Oil Chemists Society. He joined the Central Soya Company group in 1942, but resigned the following year, taking a position as Research Executive with General Mills, Inc., at Minneapolis to do special work on soybeans and soybean products.

Priorities have now been secured for the complete installation of General Mills' first Soybean processing plant using the continuous solvent extraction process. Also under construction are storage facilities for half a billion bushels of soybeans.

Present plans call for processing operations to begin in the early summer at Belmond.

Until construction is near completion, Mr. Flumerfelt will live in Minneapolis, but intends to reside in Belmond as soon as conditions permit.

"Pay-As-You-Go"

Income tax, withheld each pay day from an employee's wages may be a headache both to the employee and his employer, but when this system has had time to get working, it should be a comparatively easy way to pay the tax.

Not so with the pay-as-you-go plan for the man who is in business for himself and doesn't know how much money he is making from month to month. Estimates of yearly incomes far in advance in the year cannot be accurate, and a lot of valuable time must then be spent, both by the taxpayer and the tax collector, to make necessary adjustments.

Now, here is a plan, which seems to us could be easily understood and put into operation with a minimum of work and a minimum of mistakes which have to be adjusted.

Taking it for granted that a large percentage of the Federal income tax payers not on a definite salary pay their tax in four quarterly payments instead of one. Why can't a simple report form be devised whereby at the end of the first, second and third quarters of the year the taxpayer can write down his income for the three-month period just past, make his quarterly deductions of exempted items and send in his tax?

A form somewhat different, but still simple, could be used for computing the tax at the end of the fourth quarter whereby the taxpayer could make any necessary adjustments for the entire year.

Taxes! Taxes!

Receipts Are Down

State special taxes and liquor store profits for Iowa fell off nearly seven millions of dollars during the calendar year of 1943, compared with like receipts in 1942. The drop is disclosed in a preliminary mid-fiscal year estimate released by State Treasurer John Grimes. Eight special funds - cigarettte, inheritance, insurance, oleomargarine, motor carrier, beer and sales taxes -- were up a million dollars. Five special funds - chain store, use, gasoline, motor vehicle and income taxes - together with liquor profits, were down $8,475,797, lowering the total of all these funds to $65,090,809, as compared with a total of $72,627,707 in 1942.

Taxes! Taxes!

Ten Billion Dollar Tax Bill

The administration is going to insist on that ten billion dollar tax bill or nothing. The president is reported very much angered by the insistance of congress that two billion dollars of new revenue is sufficient if the government will stop its wasting of funds and make use of appropriations already authorized for war purposes. But the spending habit is so ingrained in the policies of the new dealers that they cannot think of letting a session of congress go by without making available many billions of dollars in new and additional revenue with very little if any strings on the methods of spending it. Congress may not be so easy this time. It has shown real signs of taking back some of the power it once surrendered to the president and finds that the best means of accomplishing that purpose is in exercising stronger control over the dispensing of public moneys.—Cherokee Times.

Taxes! Taxes!

Absurd Income Tax Blanks

Speaking of those absurd income tax blanks, here is an extract that illustrates the point: "Amendment No. 5 to maximum price regulation 319: "All commodities listed in Appendix A, those known to the trade as such excepting therefrom such thereof, if any, while subject to another regulation."

But then even the people in Washington have rebelled against the income tax forms. Perhaps before long we will have a simplified form or forms that the average citizen can make head or tail of.—

Taxes! Taxes!

South Dakota Repeals State Income Tax

South Dakota has joined the states that have repealed their income tax laws, realizing that it is unjust for states to impose more taxes on incomes when the federal government is taking such large sums from the people who pay income taxes. South Dakota's laws were not such mongrels as those of Iowa. Few are.—Webster City Freeman.

Taxes! Taxes!

Keep Until After The War

The income tax set-up in Iowa should be kept until a few years after the war. The state of Iowa should remain solidly solvent. The war found Iowa one of the few states which had its house in order, debts paid and a substantial sum in the bank to write checks on. We do not know what the state's need for money will be after the war is won. No one doubts but what within two or three years after the war's close, there will be some kind of "recession". Iowa should be ready for any eventuality. Of course the state had no business entering the income taxing field. The federal government already had an income tax law. Back in 1930 the republican primary campaign was fought on the basis of income tax. But the legislature failed to pass on income law. When the democrats took over, they passed one so heavy that the proponents of such a law back in the twenties yelled bloody murder. They got what they asked for and did not like it. But now we are basing much of our state program on income from the income tax law. It has already been cut in half and the wise procedure is to continue collecting a small amount of revenue from this source and let the revenue pile up. After the war there will be heavy demands on the state's money. Let Iowa be as ready for peace as she was for war. The best way to plan for peace is first having a good, strong balance in the bank.—Eagle Grove Eagle.

TEN YEARS AGO—

Thirty-five years ago to-day Feb. 8, 1899 occured the worst fire Belmond ever experienced destroying the McGuire clothing store and a number of other business places located where Bohning's and McGuire's stores and Petersen's cafe are now located. It was one of the coldest days of that winter, the thermometer registering 26 below.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Christensen have moved from Waterloo and are living in the apartment at the E. F. Bailey home. Mr. Christensen is employed with the new Chevrolet garage as mechanic.

—1914—

Rev. and Mrs. Ed Sands of Forest City were Belmond callers last week. He gave us a picture of the magnificent $13500.00 church which was built under his pastorship and dedicated the first of this month. The edifice is a monument to his capability.

—1914—

Miss Ida Tyrrell accompanied by Miss Edna Voiles left Friday for Olin for an over Sunday visit with the formers uncle. From there they went to Chicago where Miss Tyrrell will purchase an up to date stock of millinery. Miss Voiles and cousin of the formers accompanied her to Chicago.

—1914—

The annual banquet given by the members of the Progress Club to their husbands Monday night was an unusually pleasant affair. Almost everyone was masked and the few who attended without a disguise had afterward to repent of their temerity. An excellent musical program was one of the features of the evenings entertainment

FIFTY YEARS AGO—

Mass meetings have been held both at Mason City and Hampton to protest against the action of Senator Brower, who represents Franklin and Cerro Gordo in the Senate and who is special champion of the license interest. It does seem that two strong prohibition counties should produce a senator who is specially interested in defeating their wishes.

He was butchering and his assistant had just gone into the house for a moment when upon his return he found Mr. Brandis lying on the ground insensible. —1894—

Mrs. A. N. Odenheimer accompanied her mother, Mrs. F. A. Gates to Boulder City, Colorado Monday evening. Mrs. Gates has been failing for some time and it is hoped that this change will be of some benefit.

Prittle... Prattle....

Did you ever go out selling war bonds? If you did you probably listened to something like this:

"Good morning, Mr. Prospect: I am out here on a war bond sales drive. You received a letter from the chairman of the county committee, did you not???"

P—P

"Yes, I got the letter. Who in (naughty word) set that quota? What do they think I am—a millionaire? . What per cent of my net income do they expect me to invest in war bonds? They've got me rated entirely too high. I really have a very small income. Can't sell a hog. Now isn't that a pretty mess the government has got us in? Made us increase production and now we can't sell a pig, and we have to feed them this high priced corn. Good Lord! It's just like feeding them gold.

P—P

How do they expect me to pay these heavy income taxes and buy bonds too? Haven't got my hemp check, either! Now they are closing up a lot of the hemp plants, and we can't sell the pigs. Presume they will convert the hemp mills into distilleries and the whole blamed government will go on a big spree.

P—P

'What? You want me to sign that thing? I quit signing my name and making obligations long ago. Why, by thunder! Look at where we landed after the first world war. When I went to bed at night all I could see in my dreams was my signature on notes and mortgages and as security for friends, and then after the bankers had busted the banks a man came in and had the audacity to sue me nd make me pay. I'll tell you I can never forget that depression! I wasn't lucky enough to be one of the depositors. Why, do you know they paid these fellows several dividends. But all I got was sued to pay notes for money the bankers never ought to have loaned me.

P—P

"You say you won't go back without my name on that card? Well, how much do want anyway? My quota is $375.00! ..Gosh all hemlock! that's more money than I've seen in a year. Have to mortgage my shirt. Yah! I suppose it's better than having a few sons in the army to worry about. Gee whiz! This world's nothing but worry. Worry if you have boys in the army and if you have boys and they ain't in the army you worry and lay awake nights and prayin' they will not have to go in. Then you pesky fellows come around and ask us to foot the bills for the whole darned army and navy with the air corps to boot.

P—P

"I'm a busy man. No need you takin' up any more of my time. Where do I sign? Oh, I get the stub? What do I do with that? Well, good luck to you boys. I hope you get your quota."—From the editorial page of the Britt News-Tribune.

Editorial Comment

Again and again the topic of recreational facilities for the youth of Belmond comes up. It is our opinion that there are several recreational facilities right here in our own town—why not use them?

Take for one example the bowling alley. Plenty of us enjoy bowling but can never get an alley when we go in If we organize a committee to talk to the manager of the local alley it would help considerably in clearing up this problem.

If we reserve the bowling alley for certain nights just for high school people we could hold a contest between clubs, classes, etc.

Let's give our parents a hand in solving this problem that is confronting them.

Broncos In Second Place In North Iowa Standings

At the beginning of this week Forest City was still in the lead of the North Iowa Conference with a perfect record of seven games won and none lost.

Belmond pulled out of a tie with Garner and Northwood to take undisputed possession of second place with a record of six victories and two defeats.

Garner and Northwood with five wins and three losses each were tied for third place. Buffalo Center was in fifth place with three victories and five losses while Lake Mills with only one victory this season and Britt with none trailed the field.

The most important game of this week is the Belmond-Forest City game tonight which will tell if there is a mathematical chance for Forest City to lose this year's conference title.

Below are the conference standings as they were figured Monday of this week:

School	Won	Lost	Percent
Forest City	7	0	1.000
Belmond	6	2	.750
Garner	5	3	.625
Northwood	5	3	.625
Buffalo Center	3	5	.375
Lake Mills	1	6	.125
Britt	0	0	.000

Juniors Select and Order Ring for Fall Delivery

A committtee, consisting of the Jr. class officers, Jean Fetrow, Betty Tracy and Richard Johnson selected from the assortment, two styles which were later presented to the class.

Mr. Davis explained the different features of the ring. Although there is a great shortage of different metals, the class was given the opportunity to have an all gold ring or a part white and part rose gold ring

These rings will be available next fall at which time they will be delivered to the Bemond High School by Mr. Davis.

The Decorating And The Refreshment Sale Are Among Activities

In addition to the members of the basketball team, many of the students of Belmond high will have an active part in making the Sectional Tournament here March 1, 2, 3, and 4 a rousing success.

The Pep Club, under the direction of Miss Gantonbein, has been assigned the job of decorating. Names of all the towns competing will be posted on the walls of the gym, above their own school colors. The work on the names of the towns will be done by the various grades before the actual decorating.

Miss Gantonbein will also direct the refreshment sale which has been assigned to the Taste & Baste Club. It is not yet known what all the items of food are to be, but hot dogs and coffee will be among them. Food will be prepared in the Home Ec. room and sold from a temporary stand in the lobby.

The Student Council, under the supervision of Principal Faris, will sell the souvenir programs. These will be sold at the game at 5c each. Miss Anderson will be in charge of the sale and will select her sale staff from the Junior class.

"B" Club members will act as ushers and as hosts to visiting teams.

The biggest job of all and most important will be done by the new cheerleaders and the rest of the student body. That job is cheering the Broncos on to victory.

In The Bronco Corral

What do you think of the new "routine" around B. H. S.? Now just to get used to it! (Which will take all 3 weeks.)

What do you think of the new cheerleaders? They've got possibilities and are ready and determined to develop them. Let's all help by cooperating. Good luck gals!

The Senior fellow this week is one of the last, but certainly not least. He is about 5' 10" tall, has brown hair and blue eyes. He has several nicknames, "Mac", "Bord" and "Slugger". He's a good dancer and faithful supporter of High School parties (all other school events too). He is often seen driving a Plymouth. (He must have gas!) He is taking Am. Gov't., Eng. IV, (and incidentally he has quite a "knack" for speaking), Trigonometry and Physics. When through school he plans, like so many others to go into service, probably the air corps.

The girl this week is about 5'5" tall, light brown hair and blue eyes. She is taking Eng. IV, Am. Govt., Typing II and Bookkeeping. She spends most of her spare time keeping up the morale of a soldier with the initials of C. S. Her plans after graduation are indefinite, but her best friends have a pretty good idea! ! ? ? She is the shortest of the 2 well-known "Pals."

Have you heard about the little Moron who was in the hospital and had a chair put by his bed for rigor mortis to set in.

Keep on buyin' and they'll keep 'em flyin'.!

SIXTH GRADE

The Sixth Grade has started the second semester by electing the following officers for their club "Stars and Stripes Club". They are: President—Sidney Swenson, Vice-President — David Pals; Secretary —Gordon Hildebrand; Treasurer—Darlene Hanson.

OBITUARY

MRS. O. T. JACOBSON

Mabel Clara Furuseth was born on a farm west of Belmond September 22, 1884, the daughter of Chris and Minnie Furuseth. She moved to town with her parents in 1891 where she attended the Belmond school until her graduation with the class of 1901. She studied at Iowa State Teachers College for a time and taught in the Belmond schools for two years.

On June 8, 1910, she was married to Oscar Jacobson. To this union were born two children: Mildred, who survives; and Carol, who died in September, 1930. Three grandchildren: Samuel, Carol Ann and Robert Bruce Leinbach will miss a beloved grandmother whose life was devoted to them. Besides the daughter, Mildred Leinbach, and her husband, she leaves to mourn her loss her only sister, Ella Luick, of Belmond, a number of relatives and a host of friends.

Always a faithful member of the Lutheran church, she will be especially missed in the Sunday School, in the Ladies Aid, and in choir which she served as pianist for many years. Her influence as teacher of the young people's class is a treasured memory for many, some overseas.

After an illness of several months, she passed away at her home at 1:00 o'clock p. m. on Friday, February 4, at the age of 59 years, four months and 13 days.

Funeral services were held at the Trinity Lutheran Church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Reverend O. M. Severseike officiating. The church was filled to capacity both upstairs and downstairs, with transmitters caring for the overflow audience. Music was furnished by a double quartet composed of Mesdames A. C. Hanson and Glenn Russell, sopranos; Leonard Kallestad and Mrs. Shirley Nelson, altos; Reverend H. W. Faris and Christ Rise, tenors; Dale and Wilmer Hauge, basses.

At the services Reverend Shelveland spoke also on behalf of the the family. There were many floral offerings and a large number of gifts of money to various causes.

Burial was at the Belmond Cemetery.

Miss Gertie Vierkant and Mr. and Mrs. John Smit of Belmond as well as Willard Fulglum and son of Mason City were visitors at the Sam Crabtree home Friday.

WE BOUGHT EXTRA WAR BONDS
4TH
WAR LOAN

This window sticker identifies you as the purchaser of extra War Bonds during the Fourth War Loan. It is a badge of honor to be displayed with pride. Be the first in your neighborhood to have one. Buy an extra War Bond today!

You'll be glad this neighbor asked you to Buy Bonds

ONE day soon, a neighbor may stop by to talk about the Fourth War Loan and the share your locality is expected to play in it. Or, he may talk at a War Bond rally at the high school. Chances are he'll ask if you'll buy more Bonds. Will you look on it as a request for a donation? Or will you look on it as an opportunity to build up the financial reserve every business-like farmer or rancher has to have to run his place profitably?

No need to tell you it takes money to run a war. No need to tell you it's your war, your liberty at stake. But we're all human and just a little bit given to "letting George do it." Only this time we're all George. We've got to do it! And in buying those Bonds, we're doing ourselves as big a service as we are our fighting men and our country. We're building strength — personal financial strength — with which to meet the inevitable problems of tomorrow.

Facts about the Fourth War Loan

The man responsible for the Fourth War Loan drive in your community has full information about the several types of War Bond investments available to you. Ask about all of them. One may suit your needs better than another. You may find that you have been missing something. And whether you are asked to buy extra Bonds or not, take this opportunity to help your community reach its quota in the Fourth War Loan. Buy . . . and buy to the limit!

You Get ⅓ More Than You Invest

When held 10 years, Series E War Bonds yield 2.9% interest compounded semi-annually. Then you get back $4 for every $3 invested. Buy War Bonds from your Bank . . . Post Office . . . Mail Carrier or Production Credit Association.

Series E War Savings Bonds

$18.75	$25.00
37.50	50.00
75.00	100.00
375.00	500.00
750.00	1000.00

Something Worth Buying

Maybe you have a son off at war. What a homecoming when he gets into his jeans and you've both got those Bonds to fall back on for the machinery and equipment and buildings you'll be needing in the future. And how about the education you've promised yourself you'd give your children? And that long vacation in the sunshine you and your wife have so long deserved? Wright County War Bond Sales Pass 1 Million Mark Before Drive Ends

Belmond Sales Are 18 Per Cent Above Quota

Wright county oversubscribed its quota in the Fourth War Loan campaign, Paul Henry, county chairman, announced this week. Total sales in the county reported to Saturday night, February 12, reached $1,054,474.60, which represents an 18 per cent increase above the quota of $892,000. $632,287.50 of the above amount was attributed to "E" bond sales. Henry predicted that the purchase of bonds on Monday and Tuesday of this week would push the total over the one and a fourth million mark.

Total bond sales at the First State Bank in Belmond on Tuesday night, February 15 were $217,541.76, making an increase of 18% over the local quota of $183,500. Roy A. Henderson, chairman for Belmond said, Wednesday, "I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the fine cooperation of every one in this drive and to thank the township chairmen and solicitors and the solicitors in town for helping to put the local drive over the top."

Following are the total sales reported in various parts of the county to Saturday night, February 12:

Eagle Grove	242,294.50
Belmond	183,003.25
Goldfield	65,727.35
Dows	62,763.50
Galt	25,112.50

The above figures do not include post office sales in the county, which amounted to $62,233.50 to Feb. 12. Neither do they include outside purchases of $140,070.00—payroll deductions of employees working for railroads, utilities and other firms in the county where employees have been using this plan for purchasing bonds.

Broncos Lose And Win One In Past Week

Retain Second Place In Conference

Play Britt And Hampton Here

Two games in the past week found the Broncos losing the first on Friday night to the conference leader, Forest City, 67-47 and defeating Garner, another conference opponent, 47-26 last Tuesday to retain second place in the conference with 8 wins and 3 losses.

Forest City, with the exception of the third quarter, scored against Belmond almost at will and in the first quarter of play counted 21 points against the Broncos 10. Early in the first quarter Forest City found the hoop for 13 points while Belmond gathered but two and those at the free throw line. The second quarter was just a repitition of the first and the half ended with the Indians on the long end of the score 48-27.

In the third quarter Belmond displayed the style they are capable of, tightening their defense and closing the point gap to 14 points when the quarter ended 54-40 in favor of Forest City. Nelson was lost to the Borncos in this period after the first five minutes of play.

However competition was too stiff for the local boys and they buckled in the fourth frame which ended in favor of the Indians 67-47.

Players	G	FT	F
Pals	3	2	4
Nelson	8	1	5
Jones L.	5	1	2
Finn	0	6	2
Classick	0	1	1
Totals	17	13	19

Little trouble was had by the Broncos Tuesday night when they defeated Garner 47-26 with Nelson making as many points for the locals as were made by the entire Garner aggregation. Starting players were Nelson and Dorr at forward positions, Walrod in center and Classick and Finn, guards. Roger Pals, who has shown much improvement in his year of varsity competiton saw quite a bit of action and Beavers and H. Jones were each given several minutes against Garner.

The game became somewhat rough in the second half with Belmond losing Nelson and Garner two men via the foul route. Phillips for Garner looked best netting 7 points for his team. Tuesday night's game was the fourteenth victory against three defeats this season for the Broncos.

Friday night Belmond will play Britt here for the final conference game and in the last game of the season will meet Hampton, also on the local floor Tuesday.

Mrs. Beckwith is survived by her husband, three sons and one daughter, and four grand children. The oldest son Vere is a naval officer in the South Pacific.

Yes, what's ~~999,500,000~~ bushels, dollars or people in this day and age. Yet our statement last week of ½ billion storage capacity at the General Mills, Inc. Soybean Mill should have read ½ million, and, being sticklers for having the news correct when it is published in the Independent, we are correcting that slip-up on the part of the proof reader.

1. Non-endorsement of gas rationing coupons. All such coupons should be endorsed on the face with the holder's state and car license number written in ink, indelible pencil, typewriter or rubber stamp
2. Presentation of old coupons whose expiration date has been passed
3. Presentation of coupons which have not become valid.
4. Presentation of loose coupons, the source of which is dubious. Some of these may be legitimate; others are not.

CAPT. HOWARD FINN GETS DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

Washington, D. C., February 15, 1944—Captain Howard J. Finn, a Marine Corps pilot from Iowa, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for shooting down three Japanese planes, one of them when he was outnumbered seven to one. Captain Finn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Finn, Route 1, Belmond, Iowa, was a First Lieutenant at the time.

The citation which accompanied the award follows:

"For heroism and extraordinary achievement as a member of Marine Fighting Squadron One Twenty-Four in action against enemy Japanese forces in the Solomon Islands Area from May 12 to June 16, 1943. In this period of intense activity, First Lieutenant Finn engaged in numerous patrols, escort missions and strafing attacks often in the face of heavy concentrations of anti-aircraft fire. On June 10, when his flight of three fighters intercepted three twin-engined enemy bombers over Santa Isabel Island, he immediately plunged into a daring attack, sending the leading bombers down in flames. Later, on a four-plane interception mission, he became separated from the rest of his flight and during his ensuing search, discovered a formation of seven Zeros.

"Unhesitatingly, he attacked the trailing enemy plane, followed it down in a steep dive and shot it into the sea. Climbing high, he subsequently sighted three hostile dive bombers and, with fierce determination, blasted one of them so completely that it disintegrated before crashing into the water. First Lieutenant Finn's heroic conduct and superb airmanship throughout the entire period were in keeping with the traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Tenants Moving Must Notify District ODT To Obtain Gasoline

The end of February is moving time for many tenant and lessee farmers and Fred C. Eslick, Mason City district manager of the division of motor transport, Office of Defense Transportation, warned today that they must notify the district ODT of their change of address if they wish to obtain gasoline allotments.

Mr. Eslick of the Mason City district ODT office, explained that farm leases in this area generally expire on the last day of February and as a consequence there is a rather heavy movement of farmers from farm to farm in the first two weeks of March.

Rationing boards, as a rule, stamp envelopes containing gasoline coupons "not to be forwarded." For that reason, Mr. Eslick said, farmers should immediately notify the district ODT office of their new address so that their records can be straightened out, thus preventing delays in obtaining new gasoline allotments.

Clark McNeal Directs Drive In March

Nursing Service Starts In School Monday

Quota of the Belmond Chapter of the American Red Cross in the 1944 War Fund campaign in March is $2,100.00, according to an announcement today by Mrs. R. B. Thompson, chapter chairman. The quota is based on the needs of the chapter plus its apportionment of the budget of the national organization, which has a total goal of $200,000,000, the largest in the history of the Red Cross. Clark McNeal is chairman of the committee in charge of plans for the local campaign.

A meeting of the Red Cross board was held on Wednesday, February 9, at which time Miss Martha McConnville, district supervisor for the National Red Cross, was present and discussed the forthcoming campaign.

The Belmond chapter will cooperate again this year with the city and town in securing the services of a visiting nurse for the school. Mrs. Erma Peterson of Britt will begin her duties in the Belmond school Monday, February 21, for a period of four weeks and will be available an additional two weeks to visit the rural schools in the Belmond chapter area.

Viewed as a total, Mrs. Thompson emphasized, the Red Cross goal seems large, but if it is considered in relation to the number of men now in the armed forces, she said it represents "a very modest sum for Red Cross service for a full year."

Approximately 90 per cent of the total funds of $200,000,000 will be devoted to activities directly connected with, or a necessary part of Red Cross service and assistance to the armed forces. In the following tabulation the first nine items show activities wholly for the armed forces. FEDERAL BUREAUS

Sometime ago the Northwood Anchor printed a partial list of the Federal alphabetical bureaus, agencies and commissions which had been secured through the cooperation of the Hon. Arch W. McFarlane of Waterloo, legislator and chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means of the Fiftieth General Assembly. This list which is printed below, comprises only the PARENT organizations. According to the most reliable information that could be secured, there were 2241 OFFSPRING bureaus, agencies and commissions on June 11, 1943. It is believed that some may have been abolished since that time while others have been added.

Even the partial list printed below shows how extremely complex the administration of our government from Washington has become, and, we might add, extremely expensive too.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

Last week we pointed out that there was no way of avoiding the waste of money and materials that went into the hemp mills that will not operate another year. Thinking of it any way you will, war is waste. It is a waste of energy. It is a waste of resources. It is a waste of patience and poise. It is a waste of morals. The boys who come back leaving arms and legs and ears and noses and eyesight on the field of battle have wasted their very lives, their happiness of future years, their chance to live normal lives in a peaceful way. War is waste and more than that. It is just what General Sherman called it. —Britt News Tribune.

Now our military experts have set the end of the war two years hence if then. From a state of abounding optimism Washington has descended to a state of gloom which is probably as visionary as the claim that our boys would be home by Christmas of 1943. The fact is that all opinions regarding the end of the war are pure guesses, no matter where or from whom they originate. The only prospect we have is to keep on fighting until victory, no matter how long it takes.—Manchester Press.

* * *

Judging by the arguments already appearing in the public prints this writer is more than half inclined to agree with the idea that it is almost a necessary thing to have national elections come four years apart. One seems almost obliged to believe in the long advanced theory that it requires all of four years' time for people to renew their faith in poppycock and hooey.—Northwood Anchor.

A recent survey by Fortune magazine on post-war buying plans reveals that what the American people want above all else are a new car and a home of their own. Amidst all the hurly-burly of war, there apparently burns within our national breast the steadfast if somewhat conflicting desire to go places and to stay put.—Iowa City Press-Citizen.

Now that waste fats, turned into the government, bring the housekeeper points as well as money, it is to be hoped that more fat will go to war. It was necessary to devise some way to interest more housewives to turn in the waste fat since the fact alone that by so doing so they were bringing destruction on the enemy and help to their own men, wasn't enough. The small amount of money paid for each pound of fat didn't entice them. Came the plan that for each pound of fat one receives not only the four cents per pound but also two Brown Points. It is hoped that this will encourage more women to save the waste fats and make an effort to turn them in. The points also reward those Pocahontas county housewives who have been faithful from the start and all along have been converting kitchen waste into bullets.—Pocahontas Record-Democrat.

FROM EGGS TO BONDS

Mrs. Ross Wallace of Beaman has made a good profit in "egg money" this past year She recently purchased $1000 worth of government bonds in the current 4th War Loan drive. She reported she has saved the money from the sale of eggs during 1943, after deducting household grocery bills.

Prittle... Prattle....

Little Terry Johnson was down with his mother to visit his dad's store on a busy day. Someone seemed to be continually ringing up the cash register. Terry, after watching the operations for awhile, whispered to his mother: "Mom, please ask dad if I can flush that thing a few times."

P—P

I've never been an inveterate reader of "Esquire", but in the copies I have read I've failed to see anything in the pictures and cartoons to excite the powers that be in the post office department. Shucks, There's postal cards going through the mails every day that are much more suggestive and risque. I understand though, that if the present prosecution sticks the magazine can still be sent by mail but under another classification that costs $600,000. Maybe that will help keep the department out of the red for another year.

P—P

Belmond has a problem, a problem that concerns about 60 boys ranging in age from 11 to 16, boys who want to be Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts and get everything that the program offers, but aren't getting it because not one father in the community is interested.

P—P

For almost 2 years, since its organization, Belmond's Boy Scout Troop 16 has been operating with a membership that has varied from 15 to 28 and under the leadership of its capable Scoutmaster Clark McNeal. The troop is sponsored by the local American Legion Post, who, in effect, guaranteed to see that leadership for the troop would be found, dumped the job into the laps of five men and then forgot about it.

P—P

Everyone of the five men are fathers of boys, boys who have a good many years to go before they will be old enough for "Scouting" but who were well enough acquainted with the scouting program to want to do their share in bringing it alive in Belmond.

P—P

Immediately after the organization of the troop committee, one member resigned, too busy. No one could be found to take his place At three different times during the first year a new scoutmaster was found as fast as the service called the present leader. The fourth time, the committee gave up, no one could be found, until McNeal, a member of the troop committee agreed to take over temporarily and he has been doing the job ever since with one assistant and now that assistant has quit.

P—P

During the first year, advancement among the boys was rapid, they were taken on overnight hikes, the cabin in the woods was partially remodeled with money the troop earned, a trip to Clear Lake was given them and some of the boys learned to swim. They have been taken to Courts of Honor in different towns and they have always been ready to do whatever they could for the community when called upon.

P—P

Every member of the troop committee, especially the scoutmaster, are busy men, yet they have given willingly of their time for the past two years to get Troop 16 rolling, in hopes that some of the boys' fathers would become interested enough to offer to help and eventually take over, which his as it should be.

P—P

So coming back to the original problem, the problem of what to do with 60 boys, Cubs and Scouts The present committee must get out from under or else have more help if scouting is to be continued in Belmond. It is a case of do the job right or not at all. In other words the future of scouting in Belmond right now is up to the fathers of the boys who have become interested in the program. Your suggestions, criticisms and offers of HELP may be phoned, written or given verbally to the scoutmaster, Clark H. McNeal.

ISU expert says soil needs lime

Recent studies show that efficient use of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, especially at the higher rates now being applied, comes only when lime is part of your total fertility program.

Many farmers have forgotten the importance of lime, Voss believes They're increasing rates of fertilizer application — especially nitrogen — at a fast pace. And nitrogen can make your soil acid faster Some soils have enough calcium in them so the problem hasn't yet become apparent. But for many soils, acidity can be the factor that's now clamping the lid on yields.

The things to do is keep an eye on your soil pH. When it drops, put on more lime. It's that simple.

Have your soil tested now if you've not done so within the past three years. Then apply the amount of lime that's needed and plow it under.

Since limestone becomes available slowly, you'll want to work it into your cropping program well in advance of the time it's actually needed.

County bond sales off to good start

January sales of Series E and H savings bonds and Freedom Shares pumped two and one-half million dollars over December, according to a report released by Robert D. McKee, Clarion, volunteer county savings bonds chairman.

Total sales in all of Iowa were $9,101,402 for slightly over 10 per cent of its 1969 goal.

Wright county started the year with sales of $79,191 for 16 per cent of its 1969 quota.

"Sales of the new 5 per cent Freedom Shares are up almost 50 per cent," the chairman said. "Purchases of Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares are very beneficial in the fight to control inflation"

Freida Caroline Gruis and George Schlichting Married At Alexander Friday

Baskets of white carnations, white dragons and candlelabra formed the setting for the wedding of Miss Freida Carolina Gruis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gruis of Alexander, and George A. Schlichting, son of Adolf Schlichting of Klemme, on Friday February 11th, at 8 p. m. in the Alexander Reformed Church. Rev. N. J. O Boomgaarden officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of about 100 relatives and friends. The wedding took place on the bride's parent's thirtieth wedding anniversary.

A prelude of nuptial music was played by Hildegarde Gruis. The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin" by Wagner was used as the processional and "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn as the recessional. Before the ceremony Ralph Schmidt sang "I Love You Truly' and "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a brown crepe street length dress. Her jewelry was a gold locket and her flowers a corsage of white roses and freesias. Malinda Gruis, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and she wore a light blue linen dress. Her flowers were a corsage of white roses and freesias.

Glen Schlichting was best man and ushers were Harry Ostendorf and Herman Suntken

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The bride's table was beautifully arranged with white candles and a three-tier angel food cake decorated all in white. Guests were served refreshments by the Sunday School teachers, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Alice Suntken, Marilyn Johnson, and Mrs. N. Boomgaarden. Assistants were cousins of the bride: Alvina Ostendort, Viola Suntken, Hildegarde Gruis, Lorraine Schmidt and Mrs. Ray Klehm

Mrs. Schlichting was graduated from the Alexander high school in 1933 and attended Iowa State College in 1934. Since then she has been teaching in rural schools. Mr. Schlichting has been farming for several years with his father. After March 1st the couple will reside on the bride's father's farm one mile south of Meservey.

Meat Need Stressed In Poultry Planning

In the face of more limited home front food supplies farmers are being urged to think of the meat angle in planning their baby chick purchases.

In its latest bulletin, Cargill Agricultural Service emphasizes the importance of picking a breed for meat as well as a favorite breed for the laying flock. Leghorns it is pointed out, are fine for those raising light broilers. They are small-boned, quick-growing and market profitably at two to two and a half pounds. For roasters and fryers however, the heavier breeds, such as Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Wyandottes are recommended. Sold at about four pounds, these birds bring the best returns on the feed consumed.

The article written in the interest of poultry and feed conservation, reminds farmers that feed is food and that availale supplies should be used where they count most. The Belmond Hatchery is the local Cargill dealer.

'Minerals are Essential'

"That the animal body requires certain minerals is revealed through analysis of various species of animals . . . . To date, many animal bodies have been analyzed by scientists throughout the world. It is quite generally agreed as a result that the following minerals, which are always part of the body composition, are necessary to the perfect growth of the animal body and the proper functioning of the organs: Calcium, phosphorus, sodium, potassium, chlorine, magnesium, iron, sulphur, iodine, manganese, copper and zinc. . . . . All of these elements are considered essential to life."—Food and Life, page 543.

Big Gain All-purpose Mineral with irradiated yeast provide the essential minerals in the right proportion and provide ample amounts of Vitamin D, which assures efficient use of calcium and phosphorus. Other vitamins are supplied, too, in cereal yeast.

..Coming forth from its cocoon the butterfly opens its wings ,prepares to fly, and then does so. It is the living. Many things can be compared to this; among them are: the "Tip". The "Tip" is emerging as a fullgrown school news column and is ready to begin living after a "dormant' stage. ..

..At first the butterfly is weak and inexperienced and makes a few mistakes in its living, but it gradually learns by "trial and error". This can also be applied to the "Tip". It too will be inckperienced to begin with, and mistakes will probably be made, but along with the butterfly, the "Tip" hopes to strengthen and become fully accustomed to its new life.

The members of the staff of the "Tip" and the high school students wish to extend theor appreciation to the Belmond Independent for allowing space in their newspaper for the Goodell School News.

The primary aim of the "Tip" will be to interest its readers, and to give accounts of the activities and progress of the Goodell School.

7-8 Grade News

In English the seventh and eighth grade students are writing poems and plays. This sounds like excitement! I wonder whether some of these composers will be famous one day.

In arithmetic they are having a little difficulty with installment plans, profit and loss.

Workbooks are the center of interest in civics and geography.

The following are poems written by two of our eighth grade girls

MY WISH
(by Joan Lowenberg)

Dear God:
I wish like others do,
That my daddy would come home too.
From the battles of war,
From the army air corps.
We are waiting for him
Even the mouse in the oat bin.
We are waiting and watching by the sill
Grandmother and Grandfather are waiting by the mill.
Dear God, tell daddy I bought another stamp,
And tell him mother bought another bond.

MR FARM
(by Eulalia Boller)

When a little farm I keep,
I will tend my mules and sheep;
Milk the cows and mow the hay
Then every passerby will say,
"Farmer Brown has lots of work,
That's one thing he cannot shirk"
The girls will sweep, the boys will plow,
I'll still have time to milk the cow.
My ambition is still to farm,
Its good money and will do no harm.
So, when a little farm I keep,
Won't you come and stay a week?

Freshman and Sophomore News

In English we have been learning how to punctuate sentences correctly by using the following marks of punctuation: period, question mark, exclamation mark, comma, semicolon, colon, dash, parentheses, brackets, quotations and the apostrophe. We have been having short tests in class to see how well we can punctuate sentences. Every six weeks we have been having to write book reports. For this six weeks Mrs. Emmons has informed us that we must write book reviews. By the end of the semester we must write our autobiography. Most of the pupils have not started on theirs. One girl has hers almost finished (industrious, isn't she?).

In geometry we are finishing the chapter on "The Angles of a Polygon," and soon we will be starting "Congruent Right Triangles". In algebra the ninth grade are studying literal equations, and from what I have heard, it sounds like they can't figure them out.

In citizenship, a new subject which was started this semester, we are studying about how the community protects us. One afternoon we studied how the clover leaf construction of highways operates.

In American history we have all been given a semester project to work on. Each student is assigned a date between the years 1492 and 1944 inclusive. We are studying about the "Growth of a Nation", 1789 - 1845.

Junior News

English literature has been made interesting because of Daniel Defoe's fantastic tale "Gulliver's Travels". It's very thrilling and makes one want to continue after once started. We have finished studying about Samuel Johnson and his "dog-like" admirer, James Boswell. The term "dog-like" may be explained by saying that Boswell followed Johnson every place he went, observed his actions, and then went home to account for what he saw.

We've been studying about building houses and building material, etc., in Senior science and find it very interesting.

In typing class we have been typing by the method of budgets. It is surprising to see how quickly our typing chart has been filled out since we started this system.

In Sociology we are studying social security.

In Biology we are studying "Pests in and About the House". We have also drawn pictures of roaches, bedbugs, ants and are now drawing rats and mice.

The Primary News

This year instead of buying their valentines, the primary children are making them. They studied palentines, the primary children are making them. The studied about Abraham Lincoln on Friday and on Monday about Valentine's Day.

A new boy, Roger Beenken, entered the third grade last Monday. We certainly hope he enjoys school here.

Miss Jenison is sending for some baby white rats. If she receives them, we sincerely hope she keeps them locked up. For if she didn't how could we have school when all the girls would be standing on chairs.

Intermediate News

In arithmetic the sixth grade are studying percentage. They are also learning about Abraham Lincoln making valentines, and making George Washington posters.

A new boy, Donald Beenken, entered the fifth grade last Monday.

In spelling for the first semester Janice Robbins had a perfect spelling record in the fourth grade. Roger Halfpop and Eileen Langlitz in the fifth grade, and Darlene Chapman, Roger Hanson, Marilyn McNutt and Eugene Robbins in the sixth grade received perfect spelling records.

Features of the Week!

Hello, everyone! Hope you will enjoy our first edition, and all the rest to follow, of the "Tip" and especially the "Features".

First of all comes the — Question Box. The question this week is: What is your opinion on starting the school paper again?"

Gladys Mayhew: "I think it is swell I wish they would have started it sooner so we could have the enjoyment of reading it"

Cleola Boller. "I'm glad we have started it again. It will show people that we still have a school. We have always had one, and I'm glad we have one now."

Mr. Fritze, our snuperintendent: "I think a school paper is an excellent idea if properly supervised."

Lula Peterson: "I think it is a little late to start a school paper but it is a good idea to have a school paper."

Norma Robbins: "I believe that the "Tip" will make the students more alert and contented as a whole. It will give them something to look up to for the remaining school year. In other words, I think it grand."

A CHARACTER SKETCH

Being a sophomore Rosie Lauden has plenty to do, but she always finds time for some fun. Her grades show that there has been some wise planning

Rosie isn't very tall, being only five feet and one inch, and to match has light blond hair and clear blue eyes

She is well liked and has many times, been teasingly nicknamed "Rosie the Riveter". Sometimes she doesn't like it; however, you know that there isn't any use to protest. (Confidentially, Rosie has found that out, too.)

During history and civics classes she sits beside Lee R. Of course, they were placed that way, but now I wonder.

★ Chester and Kenneth Hagan are typical of the more than 50,000 Iowa farmers now being helped to produce more food for freedom by low-cost electric power supplied by business-managed companies. The foresight and pioneering of these companies in bringing electricity to the farms of Iowa have aided greatly in the Food for Victory Program.

Electricity works 168 hours a week for the Hagan Brothers for only a few cents an hour. It can do some 200 farm jobs at the snap of a switch. On the Hagan farm electricity mixes feed, operates a rip-saw, separates milk, cooks, heats water, washes clothes, provides refrigeration — to mention just a few. Farming 400 acres without it would make reaching their production goals all but impossible, say the Hagans.

Present government regulations still permit us to make extensions from highlines to farms. Call or write today for details.

The Hagan home is equipped with an electric range, refrigerator, water heater, washing machine and many other electrical appliances. Mrs. Hagan regularly feeds eight people, and sometimes as many as thirteen.

Snow at last! ! Too bad it couldn't have stayed nice, but—We're thankful for the nice weather we did have.

This week's personality limelight catches a 6 ft. senior boy with dark hair and blue eyes. He's way at the "top" in his class regardless of a stiff course, "Trig", Govt. English and Physics. What a curriculum! Besides, he plays a French horn in the band and is their president. Not bad! When through school he plans to make another try for the Air Corps. (He is nearsighted, so the Army says). Good luck, Fredrick! !

Belmond tackled the toughest team in the Conference Thursday and made a swell show. We must admit Forest City is good, but we think Belmond is better. (What's your opinion on this L. Q., especially "Ras".)

Here's thanks to the Student Council for such an unusual party Monday night. As yet, the final results for wolfman" and "pin-up girl" haven't come out but you'll know next week. I believe "Gundar" has a pretty good chance a "w-man."

Did you hear about the accident south of Belmond where 9 lives were lost? If you haven'tt— a car ran over a cat. So help me!!

How are you coming with your war stamps and bonds? Keep it up students, they're fighting this thing for us!

JUNIOR HIGH

Try-outs are now being held for the Junior High class play called "Billy's First Date," a one act comedy to be given at the March P. T. A. meeting.

The eighth grade is very much interested in the new course in civics. Last week they worked out a unit study on citizenship Using their own text, plus many good references, they were able to obtain a deal of information. They learned the status of various residents in the United States—not only citizens, but aliens, words, and stateless persons as well. They found citizenship to be an asset because it gives not only civil rights but political rights also. The steps involved in the process of naturalization were also learned.

The literature classes have temporarily abandoned the use of their basic texts. They are reading from the popular supplements, "Quest" and "Ventures."

J. M. B.

KINDERGARTEN

With paste, scissors, crayons, wall pictures, most of the kindergarten children have been busily making valentines this past week for their friends and classmates.

The gladiolas which the afternoon children planted last fall have now passed the six-inch mark. There is much speculation as to whether or not they will bear blossoms.

College Candidates For Army-Navy Tests Asked To Register With Sup't.

The third Army-Navy College Qualifying Test for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program V-12 which will be given throughout the country on Wednesday, March 15, at 9:00 a. m. will be administered at the Belmond high school, Mr. Johnson announced today. A leaflet of general information which contains an admission-identification form may be obtained at his office. This form properly filled out will admit to the test students between the age of 17 and 21 inclusive who are high school graduates or who will be graduated by July 1, 1944. Intent to take the test should be made known immediately to Supt. Johnson in order that the necessary test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. The examination is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training and all qualified students are urged to take the test. At the time of the test each candidate will be given a choice of service preference, but taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

The Army Specialized Training Program is aimed to meet the Army's needs for specialists and technicians in certain critical fields of study. Academic work is at the college level at governmen expense.

The Navy College Program also enables students to continue academic training at government expense. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officer training, lead to a commission in the Navy.

SWEPT CLEAN

Two Tama boys were required, as a punishment for breaking glass bottles on the highway, to sweep the pavement, place the glass in a bucket and dispose of it at the city dump. The glass was cleaned up in ample time to prevent any punctured tires. The boys were given the punishment instead of being bound over to the juvenile court.

BACK AND FORTH

R. A. Sanders and son, Ferdinand of near Chapin, reported loss of 40 hogs from a farm tended by a hired man. On the farm from which the hogs disappeared they raised hogs that are a cross between Hampshire and Berkshire. On their home farm, the Sanders raise straight Hampshire hogs. Approximately two weeks later, the "lost" hogs were located on the Sanders home farm. Neither the officers called in to help in the case nor the owners are able to explain the incident.

PAYING PROPOSITION

M. H. Thompson, living near Hudson, has turned his spare time into a profitable venture. Sometime ago, Thompson sent a shipment of 1,000 pounds of live snapping turtles to a New York firm. Last week, he sent a second 1,000 pound shipment to the same firm. Thompson, an experienced trapper, hunter and angler, found the turtles at the bottom of Black Hawk creek.

HONESTY STILL PAYS

A student at the school for blind and nearsighted children at Vinton, was repaid for turning in an envelope containing money. Donald Thiel of Reinbeck, the student, found an envelope on the floor of a bus. When he arrived in Waterloo, Donald turned the envelope containing a sum of money, over to the manager of the bus station. Later, Donald heard from the owner. The money was the pension of an elderly lady who sent the boy $2.00 reward.

NEW WATER PUMP

The Tama water pump station has been modernized with the installation of a new air-tight head and propeller blade on one of the old pumps. The new pump was also brought up to the surface of the ground. The other pump was made more sanitary some years ago. The two pumps have now increased the amount of water pumped per minute from 260 gallons to 400 gallons. The installation of the air-tight head also makes it impossible for germs to get in the water mains through the pistons.

Organize Reading Clubs For Rural Youth

A reading program for rural Iowa youth will be provided in the newly formed Girls' and Boys' Reading Club. Miss Elizabeth Deihl, county extension home economist explains that purposes of the club are three-fold. It is designed to help satisfy desire of young people for good books, to deve'op a love of reading and to help them form discriminating habits.

Membership, open to all rural girls and boys, requires a member to read six books from a selected list and, two of his own choosing. Book comments on those read must be submitted to the county, township or library chairman, who will direct the program locally, by Oct 1. Enrollment cards will be available from township and library chairmen or from the county extension office for all boys and girls participating in the project. 'A list of books and book comment forms will be sent to each person who enrolls. Registration cards will be awarded to those who complete the club requirements.

Books to be read were selected through the cooperation of Miss Victoria Hargrave, extension librarian at Iowa State College, the Iowa Farm Bureau Women's Committee and the extension child dedevopment and 4-H club departments. Selections were made for three age groups. For the youngest there are picture books, stories about animals, and Mother Goose stories, while selections for the second group include biography, fiction and geography. For teen-age youth, stories about the past of America are side by side with books about current-day affairs

Start Use Of Tokens In Sale Of Rationed Foods

New Plan Is Effective February 27

The inception of the simplified shopping plan for ration foods with tokens on Feb. 27, extends the validity of ration stamps; thus consumers can plan ahead for nearly twelve weeks and budget their purchases accordingly. This new plan will make ration books last nearly 2½ times as long as before, saving money, paper, transportation and manpower in registration.

Not all stamps will be worth ten points each February 27. Green stamps K, L and M in Book IV and Brown stamps Y and Z in Book III which were valid BEFORE Feb. 27, retain their values as indicated on the stamps until their expiration date March 20.

Red Stamps (Meats and Fats) A8, B8, C8 and Blue stamps (Processed Foods) A8, B8, C8, D8 and E8 in Book IV become valid on Feb. 27, and will be worth ten points each. The Red stamps become valid every two weeks and the Blue stamps become valid the first of each month except the first group which are valid Feb. 27. That means the housewife will have 50 points instead of 48 for processed foods and 60 points instead of 64 for meats and fats a month. Point values for the different foods are to be raised or lowered to compensate for these minor point changes

Under this system, Red and Blue tokens worth one point each will be given in change for the PURCHASE of a rationed commodity only. The Red tokens are for meats and fats, the blue tokens for processed foods. These tokens have no set expiration or validity dates. Don't ask your grocer to "charge" rations stamps: he needs those stamps to restock his shelves.

It has been demonstrated by ten housewives using tokens and 10-point stamps that it takes less than one-half the time required under the old system to move past the cashier and pay for goods, even though all concerned were thoroughly familiar with the old system.

This new system will simplify the paper work of the banks participating in ration banking: and the work of sorting stamps for the retailer is cut by 60 per cent. The saving in time, trouble and expense to the 600,000 storekeepers in this country is estimated at $3,000,000 a month.

Will Demonstrate Reconditioning of Sewing Machines

A sewing machine that is ready for action on short notice is almost a necessity in conservation conscious homes. New clothing is a last resort, when the most has been made of old garments.

With these facts and the scarcity of new machines in mind, Wright County homemakers will put their old sewing machines in tip-top shape. Miss Elizabeth Deihl, county extension home economist, will conduct a series of open meetings, beginning Feb. 29. All town and rural women are invited to attend.

Women from Blaine, Iowa and Grant townships will be invited to attend the meeting Feb. 29th in the Masonic Hall in Rowan. The meeting will begin at 10:00 a. m

Miss Deihl will demonstrate cleaning, oiling and adjusting the machines and will answer the women's questions She will discuss common sewing difficulties that may result from improper adjustment of the machine.

Women may bring their own machines to work on at the meeting.

Millions Of Homes To Display Red Cross Service Flag

1944 War Fund Drive Is Scheduled For March

Washington, D. C.—Millions of homes throughout the United States will display the American Red Cross service flag in front windows again this year signifying participation in the 1944 Red Cross War Fund scheduled to begin March 1.

Clark McNeal, chairman of the drive for Belmond announced this week that the local campaign will be held on March 15.

Early indications are that some three million men and women volunteers of the Red Cross will participate in the annual home-to-home canvass for the $200,000,000 Fund needed to carry forward the gigantic task of the Red Cross through the world.

These workers, representing the 3756 chapters and 6084 branches of the Red Cross, have spent weeks preparing for the 1944 Red Cross War Fund, the most important war time campaign in the organization's history: Each volunteer will carry with him credentials indicating his official connection during the drive.

The familiar Red Cross lapel flag also will find its place on many coats this year Scrap metal of no value for other purposes, was used in preparation of the flag To the civilian it will have an added significance—for like the campaign bar worn by servicemen, it will mean participation in America's humanitarian war effort

Red Cross officials said the canvass this year would be thorough and would extend from the major cities of the nation to every small community, no matter how isolated, and to every rural home.

"The Red Cross wishes to give every American, regardless of where he is located, the opportunity of contributing to the cause of humanity." Chairman Davis declared. "We do not need to tell Americans how important these contributions will be."

Broncos End Season With 2 More Wins

Britt And Hampton Are The Victims

It was the same story again Friday night for the Bronco fans who saw their team defeat the Britt cagers for the second time this season, this time on the home floor 57-27. The game Friday night ended conference competition for the Broncos and found them in undisputed second place with 9 wins and 3 losses.

Although he started most of his original five, Pals, Nelson, Walrod, Classick and Dorr, coach Lansing was able to substitute freely throughout the game. Scores by periods were 14-2 at the end of the first quarter, 34-11 at the half time, 42-20 in the third period and 57-27 when the game ended. Nelson was high point man for the Broncos and Elsemann of Britt topped the scoring for his team.

Keeping their record clear in games played with neighboring North Central Conference teams, Belmond defeated Hampton here Tuesday night 36-27 in a game that wasn't over until the final horn. The Broncos have won over the first and second place winners in that conference, Eagle Grove and Hampton, and have defeated Clarion, also in the same conference.

Tuesday night's game was an uphill battle for the local five who were never ahead until after the first two minutes of play in the third quarter and the fans saw the lead change several times in that period. In the fourth quarter it was all Belmond with Nelson and Jones stealing the ball twice, each good for a counter. Nelson, Pals, Walrod, Classick, Dorr and the Jones boys, Hadyn and Larry all saw action with Nelson again coming through to count the most points, many of them as a result of feed-ins from his team mates.

Finn, a regular, was still out of play because of a leg injury received in the Garner game on Tuesday, Feb 15. During the entire season the Broncos were defeated once on the home floor, and that by Forest City.

AMERICAN YOUTH, OUR SECRET WEAPON

Commander Gene Tunney, returning from a six months tour of the southwest Pacific, proclaimed American youth as the finest secret weapon that America possesses and adds that this nation can be proud of its fighting youth who are doing a splendid, uncomplaining job against a bitter and remorseless foe. Commander Tunney, Director of the Navy's Physical Fitness Program, clearly pointed out the fallacy of snatching our boys from an easy way of life and throwing them into a war. He also stated, "It is our job to make our men physically fit and to develop the warrior psychology. We are doing both to a remarkable degree."

The source of substance and morale Commander Tunney lists in the following order: (1) Consciousness of a job well done; (2) Encouraging and cheerful letters from home – they should be cheerful and frequent; (3) movies and (4) athletics.

OVER THE TOP

Belmond and Wright county can be very proud of the record made in the Fourth War Loan drive which ended officially on February 15. Even before the final reports were all in at the close of the campaign, both the local community and the entire county had "gone over the top" by a considerable margin in War Bond purchases.

—V—

NO CERTAINTY

If anyone were optomistic enough to believe that the war would end soon or that if it did continue for a considerable time the remainder of the struggle would be accomplished with less danger to our fighting forces, he needs only to read about the recent sinking of an allied troopship with the loss of 1000 American lives to have a quick change of mind.

There can be no certainty in war time about the safety of human life, the protection of personal property or the preservation of either inividual or national rights and liberties. Not until the last battle has been fought and the last obstacle to a complete victory destroyed can we hope to settle back to normal- American living with its assurance of peace and security.

On Friday, February 4, USO will mark the third anniversary of its founding.

Within three brief years this great national organization has established itself as the guardian of the off-duty welfare and recreation of the men and women in our armed forces, and has set a shining example of inter-faith co operation in a war-torn world.

To the man and woman in uniform USO, with its dances and parties, its games and classes and infinite small services, its sheer friendliness, is more than a symbol. It is "a home away from home," to which they can go in their leisure hours.

With close to 3,000 clubs and services, it covers the western hemisphere. Through the USO camp shows it serves the fighting forces in all combat areas. —Jefferson Co Union, Fort Atkinson, Wis.

What are farmers doing with the money they have left after farm expenses are paid? The Chicago Federal Reserve Bank has been checking up with its member banks to get a report.

These local bankers report that in Iowa, for instance, farmers are putting 15 per cent of this surplus into war bonds, 32 per cent into paying off debts, 9 per cent into land buying, and 10 per cent into increased personal and family expenses and —here's the queer one—26 per cent into increased bank balance.

It is fine to have farmers turning at least 32 per cent of their surplus into debt payment. But it might even be better to take everything over the amount called for by the mortgage as annual payment on the principal, and put this into bonds too. A mortgage of $10,000 can be balanced by war bonds with a cash value of $10,000. Pay the mortgage off with war bonds later instead of paying with cash now.

The farm bond buying record is excellent so far. But these figures indicate that it could be lots better.—Wallaces Farmer.

So much attention is given big industrial organizations that we might lose sight of the fact that the great bulk of all business enterprise in this country is in the hands of the small business man. For instance, the small towns account for 50 per cent of the gasoline sold, 60 per cent of Cadillac cars sold, sends a larger percentage of youngsters to colleges per thousand population than the city, that a little over 99 per cent of the manufacturing companies in our nation employ less than 1,000 people each. This is why we stress small business, the importance of appealing to the small town sentiment. Look to what field a man eventually appeals for his vote getting for your proof is the power of the small town market. Let us keep it free, unhampered and unprejudiced. — Pocahontas Record Democrat.

Just finished one of the Library's newest books "% of Postmaster" by Cpl. Thomas R. St. George that has a chuckle, or maybe two, on every page. Very refreshing as he considers only the humorous side (humorous to him anyway) of army life from the time of embarkation to and after arrival in Australia.

Did you notice the comparative ease with which Wright county met its War Bond quota of $892,000.00 Even went $162,000.00 over and will more than double that amount when the finals are in. Wright county has never failed yet on any drive. They have oversubscribed thousands in every one as for example the last War Chest Fund drive for $13,000.00 and receipts totaled over $24,000.00. The Red Cross War Fund drive a year ago was oversubscribed a third more than the quota set, and the results have been the same on all other calls for money and material. It's a pleasure to live in Wright county.

Guess the mints might as well begin making the copper pennies again. I haven't had any success in passing off the new silver kind as dimes, although I don't doubt but what I've taken a few thinking they were the 10 cent pieces.

It doesn't seem possible that over 50% of the men in service from this community are overseas but the percentage of papers sent to them from this office is even higher than that, 63% to be exact. Of course we still can't believe that 63% or 50% represents the number of men on foreign shores since it is true that many of the parents, wives and friends send their own copies of the Independent to the boys, but can't do that when they have been shipped across. However it must be true that nearly half of them have seen plenty of the oceans' bouncing waves and heard the thunder of the surf on the shores of foreign soil.

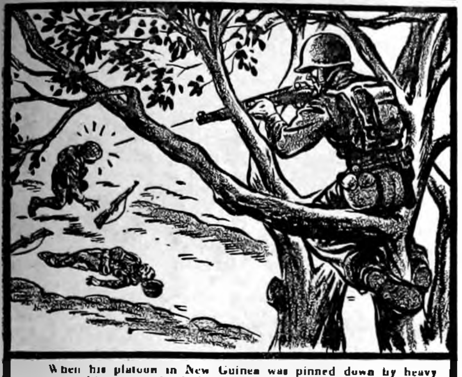
AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF



When his platoon in New Guinea was pinned down by heavy enemy machine gun and rifle fire, Private Maurice L. Levy, of Chicago, sat for the night in the crotch of two big trees. He stopped six of the enemy during the night, and 19 more with the coming of daylight. Wounded four times and weak from loss of blood, he crawled down to safety. Back his bravery with another War Bond. The Christmas present with a future.

Buying War Bonds Helps Check Inflation

Most citizens, soldiers included, pay taxes. The plain fact is that taxes along, even with the big increase, will not provide more than half the cost of the war for the next fiscal year. This means that around 60 billion dollars in addition must be borrowed.

Medals Won By Marines

MEDAL OF HONOR

The Congressional Medal of Honor (Navy) is America's highest award for heroism on land, sea or in the air. It is awarded for valor and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty. Established in December, 1861, it is awarded in the name of the Congress of the United States. The medal is worn about the neck.

NAVY CROSS

The Navy Cross is awarded for extraordinary heroism in the line of duty. It ranks in third position following the Brevet Medal. A small gold star on this decoration and service ribbon indicates a second award of the same decoration. This medal was established in 1918

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDAL

The Distinguished Service Medal is awarded those whose exercise of extraordinary good judgment in a position of great responsibility and whose outstanding performance of duty reflect credit on American Naval arms. It was established in 1918.

SILVER STAR

The Silver Star, instituted in 1935, is granted to persons serving in any capacity with the armed forces of the nation cited for gallantry in action which does not warrant the award of the Medal of Honor or the Distinguished Service Cross. It replaces the tiny Silver Citation Star of 1917-1918.

AIR MEDAL

The Air Medal is awarded to any person who, while serving in any capacity with the armed forces of the United States, distinguishes himself by meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. It is granted in cases where the act of meritorious service does not warrant the Distinguished Flying Cross.

BREVET MEDAL

The Brevet Medal of the Marine Corps has not been awarded in recent years. It was originally awarded subordinates (officers or men) who were forced by circumstances of battle to lead landing parties of detachments after their commanding officers had become casualties.

LEGION OF MERIT

The award of the Legion of Merit is made to outstanding officers and enlisted men for "extraordinary fidelity and essential service." It constitutes a reward for service in a position of responsibility, honorably and well performed. It stems from the Badge of Military Merit, established in 1782.

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

The Distinguished Flying Cross is conferred upon any member of the air forces of the United States who, while serving in any capacity, distinguishes himself by heroism or extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight. The medal is identical in all services.

NAVY AND MARINE CORPS MEDAL

The new Navy and Marine Corps Medal is awarded persons in the Navy and Marine Corps for acts of heroism other than those performed in actual combat with the enemy. It has been granted for courageous conduct such as rescues at sea.

PURPLE HEART

The Purple Heart, originally established by General George Washington in 1782, was not issued for many years. It was reestablished in 1932, and made retroactive to cover awards to all officers and men who were wounded in action in any war or campaign under conditions entitling them to wear a wound chevron.

Available Feed Supplies Short of Current Needs

Available supplies of feedstuffs continue to be short of current and anticipated needs. Slowness of flax seed to move from the farm to processors is a factor in the current protein supply picture. No relief appears to be in sight in the case of certain of the hard-to-get vitamin ingredients. In addition, limited grain supplies continue to be in demand by industry as well as for feeding.

The situation is one, points out Cargill's Agricultural Service Department, which calls for careful planning on the part of farmers and feeders. The feeding value of grain must be stepped up by the wise use of protein supplements—protein and vitamin ingredients and concentrates must be used where they can aid most in food production. The starter feed for baby chicks is one place, according to Cargill, where protein and vitamin balance should not be spared.

Editorial Comment

It's true that many of you seniors have chosen a vocation but have you done so wisely? Are you reckoning for the future as well as for the present or are you jumping at conclusions and not giving a thought to the days to come?

Recently there has been a great deal of discussion on post-war days and the future America. In order to make this a fit world for the coming generations you should do your part in building up the post-war America.

Now is the opportune time for you to look ahead and choose a definite goal which you will try to attain during your life's work.

In The Bronco Corral

This is the third (and last) week of our 'make-up routine." It wasn't so bad, was it students?

Just a word on the swell school spirit shown at the basketball game last Friday night. It was really wonderful! Let's keep it up for the tournament. The Broncos do their part, you do yours. The cooperation with the new cheerleaders is super! They appreciate it! (They told me so).

That was really some ball game girls. It's too bad the alumni had to beat. But they had lots of fun anyway. (What, A. S., no black eye?)

The last game of the season, except for the tournament, was Tuesday. The Broncos really had a swell season and came out second in the conference. Congratulations!

Our snow isn't going to last long with weather like we've been having. But that's o. k. too.

The personality sketch this week is of a Senior girl. She's about 5' 4½" tall, has platinum blonde hair, (a dead give away), and blue eyes. She's in glee club, and sextette, plays a trombone in band and pep band, and belongs to Pep Club. Her plans after graduation are prettty definite. You guess.

Have you heard this one?

1st Moron: Why do we buy war stamps?

2nd Moron: So we can lick the other side.

Home Ec Girls Put Theory Into Practice

Remodel-Redecorate Old Office Into Girls Rest Room

The Advanced Home Economics class transformed an office into a rest room for high school girls which was opened for use on Feb. 21.

Everything from drapery material to hammers and nails seemed to clutter the home economics room for the last week and few days. Everybody gazed in surprise at the Advanced Home Economics' girls hurrying through the halls donned in aprons, with tea kettles, brooms and scrub brushes in hand.

Yes indeed, the girls really meant business. They transformed an old office on third floor into a very attractive girl's rest room. To begin with all the girls donned old clothes and aprons to scrub the room completely. They scrubbed the floors, the walls, the woodwork, the windows, and ceiling.

All the girls' spare time was spent in making drapes, covering a cot, a pillow, and a dresser. The material used was flowered material with an aqua back ground.

A nail keg was transformed into a very attractive dresser bench. A small magazine rack was remodeled and plants were arranged in gaily colored flower pots.

Every girl had a chance at every type of job and all seemed to enjoy doing the different tasks immensely. This project was the result of the completion of their study on the unit of decorating. The Advanced Home Economics girls will be in charge of keeping it in order.

The rest room was opened Monday morning. It will remain open from eight thirty in the morning to four o'clock in the afternoon on all school days.

These girls have surely shown their ability to decorate and all the high school girls owe them a compliment for their wonderful work. Come on all of you high school girls, let's show the Advanced Home Economics class how much we appreciate their work by thanking them and trying to do all we can to keep it in its best condition.

Dope Bucket Predictions In Basketball Tourney

Students All Doing Something To Make The Tournament A Success

The entire school is taking part in decorating the school gymnasium for the sectional tournament.

Each of the lower grades are cutting out letters of the teams which will go up around the gymnasium. The Pep Club girls will put on the school's colors in crepe paper.

Junior High has also been given the job of decorating the gymnasium lobby.

Many other students will take part by helping at the refreshment stand which will serve hot dogs and coffee. The cooking will be done by the Tast and Baste Club.

Fans Will See Games Between Several Rivals

Klemme and Rowan, two class B. schools, will meet Wednesday night, March 1, at 7:00 p. m. in the Tournament to be played in the Belmond school gymnasium next week.

All three of Wednesday night's games will be between Class B teams, the competition in Class A not beginning until Thursday night at 8:10. Alexander and Goodell meet while two natural rivals, Meservey and Thornton, clash at 9:20.

Thursday's program is an all Class A affair with Garner playing Dows at 7:30 and Kanawha facing Belmond at 8:45.

Anything can happen in basketball, but the "dope" indicated is that the winner of the upper bracked should win the Class B title. In this bracket Klemme should defeat Rowan on Wednesday while Goldfield has a bye. With the Shamrocks a slight favorite, the winner of the Goldfield Klemme tilt Friday night should go on to take the Class B title as none of the teams in the lower bracket appears strong enough to win.

Unless the "dope" bucket is badly upset, Belmond should meet Eagle Grove for the Class A championship in anyone's ball game. Eagle Grove has only Clarion in its way to get to the finals and should win this one handily.

In the lower bracket neither Belmond nor Garner should have much trouble getting past Kanawha and Dows respectively in first round games, and according to the past season's record, the Broncos should win over Garner, a team already beaten twice by the locals.

In the Eagles, and Broncos, tangle in the Class A finals on Saturday night a ding-dong battle is in store for the followers of the tournament.

Belmond defeated Eagle Grove early in the season, but since the Eaglets have lost 2 games and have won the North Central Conference Championship.

Valentine Party Was Sponsored by High School Student Council

The recreational room was done in red and white crepe paper with valentines hanging around on the walls.

Dancing took place for a short time followed by the movie "The Moonstone." At the end of the movie the winner of the "Pin-up girl" and "Wolf Man" were announced. Mildred Palmer was selected as the "Pin-up girl' and Orland Finn" as the "Wolf Man." Mildred was presented with a box of stationery while Orland got 75 cents.

A box social followed the movie. Most of the boxes were done in red and white crepe paper. The boys bid high and profits amounted to about $34.

Trigonometry Offered Now In High School For the First Time

Trigonometry is being offered this semester for the first time in the history of Belmond High School. It is taught by Miss Anderson, the high school mathematics teacher.

There are sixteen boys in the class and there are also two boys who take it as a fifth subject but do not come to class discussion. They do all the regular work and it is checked over by Miss Anderson.

Trigonometry is partly concerned with indirect measurements, measurement of distances, and measurement of triangles. They have been studying six trigonometric functions of the acute angles.

Two of the boys are making a transit principle. They have learned to find indirect measurement. With the aid of the transit they will try to find inaccessable heights and distances.

News From the Grades

Some kindergarten child has lost a red glove with a blue band around the wrist. It was left after morning dismissal several weeks ago, but no child recognizes it as his own. If any parents has noticed such a loss, please send a note to the kindergarten so that the glove may be returned.

What the Well-dressed Consumer Will Wear to hunt for the High Cost of Living to look for the Low Price of Electricity

YOUR wardrobe may not include a mountain-climber's costume or deep-sea-diver's rig. But they illustrate a simple, startling fact.

While the cost of living has been climbing up, the cost of electric service has been dropping down! That's true no matter what year you set as "sea level"— 5, 10 or 15 years ago.

Actually, in the last 15 years, the cost of electricity has come down so far that the average American family gets about twice as much for its money today as it did then. Perhaps you haven't noticed the reduction in your own bills because you've been adding appliances and using more electricity. But the saving is there.

In the light of other wartime costs and taxes, electricity has become just about the biggest bargain in your budget! The reasons are as many as the men and women who work for your local electric company—under careful business management—keeping service good, price low.

REPAIR What You Can't Replace

Keep The Home Front In Good Shape . . . .

Nobody knows how long the war will last, and it may be some time after it is over before many items used in building new homes and farm buildings will be available in sufficient quantities to meet the demands.

This means that the wise plan for home owners is to keep their property and equipment in good shape. Repairs should be made promptly, and the quality of the repairs should be such as to insure protection for some time.

We are making every effort to keep an adequate stock of things needed in the home and on the farm with which to make repairs and necessary changes. We invite you to come in to see us and discuss with us your plans for making repairs.

T. J. Henry, Chairman; H. C. Pinkham, Wm. Fisher, Chas. Helden, and A. W. Smith, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Semi-annual report of the County Treasurer and the semi-annual settlement with the Treasurer were placed before the Supervisors and upon motion by Fisher seconded by Pinkham, were approved and ordered placed on file.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Smith, that the Supervisors invest $6,900.00 of school funds in Series "G" government bonds to be apportioned to the various towns as follows:

Belmond, $1,400.00; Clarion, $1,900.00; Dows, $900.00; Eagle Grove, $1,700.00; Galt, $400.00; Goldfield, $600.00. Motion carried.

Moved by Fisher, seconded by Helden, that nonresident notices be re-served on Charles Hanke and family, Belmond, Iowa; Fred and Vera Hopkey, Belmond, Iowa; Clint Watkins, Clarion, Iowa. Motion carried.

On November 2, 1943, the Supervisors voted that upon the payment of the purchase price they would sell to Orville H. Caquelin the West 24 feet of the North 60 feet of Lot 2, Block 8, Town of Woolstock, but since payment has never been made, it is now moved by Pinkham, seconded by Smith, that this sale of November 2, 1943, be declared void. Motion carried.

For the sum of $200.00 bid by R. F. Hirt for the West 24 feet of the North 60 feet of Lot 2, Block 8, Town of Woolstock, it is moved by Fisher, seconded by Helden, that Wright County sell and convey all its right, title and interest in and to the West 24 feet of the north 60 feet of Lot 2, Block 8, Town of Woolstock, to the said R. F. Hirt, and the chairman of the Board of Supervisors is hereby authorized and directed to sign quit claim deed on behalf of Wright County, conveying the West 24 feet of the North 60 feet of Lot 2, Block 8, Town of Woolstock, to R. F. Hirt.

Upon roll call all members voted aye. Motion carried.

Whereas, on April 6, 1940, a deed was issued pursuant to a motion of the Board of Supervisors on April 4, 1940, conveying Lots 7 and 8 and the East 3 feet of Lot 6, Block 3, McKay's Second Addition to Clarion, unto the Clarion Volunteer Fire Department, and

Whereas, an objection has been found as to the sufficiency of said deed,

Therefore, it is now moved by Fisher, seconded by Helden, that right County sell and convey unto the Trustees of the Clarion Volunteer Fire Department all its right, title and interest in and to Lots 7 and 8 and the East 3 feet of Lot 6, Block 3, McKay's Second Addition to Clarion.

It is moved by Smith, seconded by Pinkham, that the County Auditor be authorized and directed to release the above mortgage on behalf of the School Fund. Motion carried.

It is moved by Smith, seconded by Fisher, that the days allowed the Township assessors, and the days allowed Dows and Goldfield Corporations be increased three days each over those shown in the minutes of December 28, 1943. Motion carried.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Smith, that a duplicate maintenance warrant be issued to The Balbach Company in the amount of $24.00, original warant No. 975, issued August 2, 1943, having been lost. Motion carried.

Whereas, a $200.00 certified check is being held for Drainage District, Franklin County No. 1, Wright County No. 99, in connection with material furnished in making repairs on said drain, and since the work is now completed, it is desired that the check of Lehigh Sewer Pipe & Tile Company be returned to them, and Since this is a joint drain and the probabilities of an early meeting are remote, it is moved by Smith, seconded by Pinkham, that the Wright County Supervisors approve the return of said check, and that upon the receipt of such an approval from the Franklin County Supervisors, the Wright County Auditor shall return said check. Motion carried.

Moved by Pinkham, seconded by Smith, that $1,210.00 be appropriated from the Poor Funds of Wright County to apply on the expense and salary of the Public Health Nurse in Wright County for the year 1944. Motion carried.

Success

"Success", that's a nice word and a powerful one. But how many of us ever really deserve to be classified under that heading—"success?" Ah yes, we finish high school, most of us, and the majority of us go to college and then find jobs. This doesn't mean in many cases that we turn out a success. It is true that some do, while it is also true that some do not. The essential difference between the two is: that the ones who are successful, have been, and are, putting their whole heart and soul, mind and body into their work, and are getting in return, a lot out of their work; while the ones who are not successful are merely plugging away, not interested in and not enjoying what they are doing.

Being a success does not mean you have to have a large bank account, servants and a couple of cars. Some people who have had these things were anything but a success in the real sense of the the word. They have money which is, indeed a very nice thing to have, but it is most certainly not everything. A poor shoemaker, for instance, who has a lot of friends, who enjoys his work, and who makes the very best shoes he possibly can, would be an indefinitely greater success in life than a wealthy man who sees no further than the picture of Lincoln on a five-dollar bill.

Success is not measured in dollars and cents and fine clothes, but rather, in friends, happiness, and a feeling that you are carrying out, or at least trying to carry out your purpose on this earth.

Features of the Week

Hello. It's time once more for our special features of the week. Did you enjoy last week's news and the features. If you did, write to us and tell us about it.

Coming up now is: The Question Box.

The question for this week is: "How do you think the United States should deal with the Japs after the war"

Junior Mayhew: "They should make them build up what they ruined."

Gerald Van Buskirk: "There shouldn't be any Japs after this war."

Rosie Lauden: "I think they should use a little consideration on how we treat them. After all, we would want them to treat us the same.

A CHARACTER SKETCH

Lee Robbins, Jr. is a freshman and I imagine nearly everyone knows him, for he is very jovial, has blue eyes, is rather short, and well built.

Basketball and baseball are his main delights, and when he sprained his ankle this winter, he was greatly disappointed for basketball playing was out.

He does very well in school for his grades are not to be sneezed at. A person can easily get along with him, and that is why he has so many friends, (They aren't all boys either.) Remember last week's character!

COULD BE

Mrs. Emmons had to call down a certain girl who sits ahead of a certain boy, for talking to each other and the worse of it was that she had to call them down again. Oh, oh!—could be.

Until next week at this same time—Cheerio!

BLUE STRINGS

Character meets character when Milo Berhow and Harlan Carolus start leaving their assignments in the assembly so that to each of them secretaries must be appointed. We suggested the old fashioned remedy of tying blue strings around their fingers, but Mrs Emmons is inclined to think that they possibly would forget what the strings were for.

So we suggest that any ridicule aimed at these two forgetful minded U. S. citizens of Goodell Public High School be simply labeled "military secret."

Talking pictures on adjusting and servicing mowers, combines and planters, plus a picture on hitching and belting of farm machines, are also on the program. An interesting newsreel showing action on the battlefronts of the world and on the production lines at home is included.

"We feel that this show is of direct benefit to the war effort," says Mr. Erickson. "With a severe manpower shortage and a lack of sufficient new equipment for 1944, the farmers of American have a real job ahead if they are to meet production goals. Every piece of farm equipment must be kept in tip-top condition to prevent delays and gross losses. This show will ment problems."

Now is the time to lay the foundation for a sound, healthy flock of baby chicks that will develop into high - producing profitable layers next fall and winter.

"Too much cannot be said about the necessity of seeing that adequate amounts of all the essential elements, particularly the vitamins, are in the mashes fed to breeding flocks, for it depends a great deal upon the amounts included in the feed as to the number and quality of the baby chicks produced. Lack of a single feed nutrient in the hen's diet can decrease livability and growth of chicks." —Ewing's Handbook of Paultry Nutrition, Page 429.

He won in a close vote over Russell Martin of the Dayton Dynamiters, the other candidate for county president. Other county officers elected were Vice President, Dale Emerson, Troy Trojans; Secretary-Treasurer, Charles Simmons, Lincoln Leader; Reporter, Janet Lerdal, Belmond Boosters.

The candidates were introduced to the voting delegates and members by Morris Miller, who was acting as county president until the election.

The rest of the evening was devoted to recreation. Ten games were set up with a 4-H leader and member acting as leaders of each game. The groups progressed from one game to another during the evening. Preston Tyrrell, Belmond, was among the leaders in charge of the games.

Molding Of A Bluejacket

By George C. Hansen, Prtr 2|c, U. S. N. R. (Former Editor of Belmond Independent)

I would like to try to give the readers of the Belmond Independent a vivid word picture of how your boy, your neighbor's son, your relatives, father, brother and othes are molded into the greatest organization in the world—the United States Navy. From many walks of life they come, bringing with them all types of qualifications, backgrounds, education and training, but they have one common denomination that makes them all equal, they have selected and joined the Navy of their own free will.

Their first contact with the Navy is through the recruiting office, situated in some large city in one of the fourteen Naval districts scattered all over the nation. After signing the necessary papers and raising their right hand in the oath of allegiance, they are gathered in groups of about one hundred and sent off in the best traveling facilities available, to a training camp to begin their indoctrination. Of these camps there are four principal ones: Chicago, Illinois; Newport, Rhode Island; Norfolk, Virginia, and San Diego, California, often referred to as 'Dago.' In spite of the size of these camps that have a capacity of handling one hundred thousand men, it has been necessary for the Navy to establish temporary bases at Farragut, Idaho; Samson, New York, and Baimbridge, Maryland. At one of these bases, the Apprentice Seaman begins his 'Boot Training', affectionately termed because of the leggins the potential Tar must wear until he qualifies as Seaman Second and earns the well deserved 2 wrist stripes and red or white shoulder marking or pussy stripes.

For the first eight weeks they live in a hectic busy whirl for it is fall in, fall out, dress right, column left, double time, hit the deck and a thousand other command: barked at them so often it has the recruit puzzled as to whether the leader in charge can make up his mind just what command to follow. They also hear the taunty calls from hash markers (A red stripe for each three years of service) such as 'you'll be sorry' and 'needle bait' etc. All this is vitally necessary, for through this routine, they are being molded into the salty requirements of the Navy at sea.

First of all, a place to BUNK. An average of one hundred men are quartered in each barracks (ship), double bunks or hammocks properly lashed serving as sleeping sacks. From then on it's fall in line for chow at the mess hall. Don't be misguided by the word MESS for the food is wholesome, plentiful and well cooked in modern equipment under highly trained men. These meals have a wide variety of food, the like of which few men were accustomed to before they joined. At first, many of the boy's eyes are larger than their stomachs, but they soon learn to regulate themselves, for the more they take in, the more they will be required to burn up in the routine of the day.

Then, it's line up again where the Navy keeps its famed two sizes, too large and two small! In this category, the Navy issues some $150 (one hundred and fifty dol-

PVT. GORDON KESSLER COMMENTS ON SOME FOLKS BACK HOME

R. H. Gowdy received a letter this week from Pvt. Gordon Kessler in which he describes his job with the army and makes several comments about folks back home. Kessler writes as follows:

"I get the famous Independent. Do you remember when I told you to put the ads in upside down to increase the reading time from three to five minutes. . . by the way, how does Wallace stand in the draft. Tell him he had better start running to work and eating plenty of Vitamin pills for I see lots of fellows that look older than he does around here. . .

"I saw in the paper where Geo. Hansen was home on leave and that he has Pete English and Ben Blake pretty worried. The rumor is that Geo. and Roy Henderson are planning on getting one of those Jap two-man submarines after the war to fish the Iowa river and hunt ducks on Clear Lake. Just think, one good torpedo in Pete's secret fishing hole and he will be washed up for the rest of the summer. But what really worries Pete and Ben is when Geo. and Roy will come up in the middle of those Mallards on Clear Lake. Tell the boys not to worry too much. I plan on bringing home a few Bozookas so we can sink the sub and get the ducks at the same time."

Pvt. Kessler is now in a postal unit at Parker, Arizona, which he describes as a little burg about the size of Olaf. He had previously spent nine months in the infantry and says "they play a rather rough game."

PHILLIP COVINGTON WRITES RIERSONS

Glenn and Adolph Rierson received a V-mail letter recently from their nephew, Pfc. Phillip E. Covington who is somewhere in the Pacific. Phil writes as follows:

"I received the picture of the team," meaning the Belmond basketball team, "it sure looked good. All my pals remarked on how big they were. Rich Finn got to see it, he thought it was swell. I haven't seen him for over a week now, he must have left. . .

"Yes, spring is just around the corner. . . if one could go by baseball. They have a pretty good league out here, both civilians and service teams are in it, some former big time ball players are on some of the teams.

"Down at the USO on my last liberty I took a look at the state log book, where the men in the armed service sign their names under their state. I saw the name of some Johnson from Belmond and saw a lot of names that were familiar to me from other towns in Iowa."

NORRIS WILSON GIVEN HONOR AWARD

Tyrrell Announces For State Representative

W. C. TYRRELL, JR.

Seeks Renomination On Republican Ticket

W. C. Tyrrell, Jr. of Belmond, Iowa, announces this week his candidacy on the Republican ticket for re-nomination to the office of State Representative from Wright county.

Elected to office in 1942, Representative Tyrrell has served one two-year term in the State Legislature which included the Session Extraordinary held in January, 1944, at which time the Soldier Vote Bill was passed. In his first experience as a legislator in the 50th General Assembly, he served on 10 different committees, three of which are the most important in the house, namely, Agriculture, Appropriations, Ways and Means. Other committees on which he served include State Educational Institutions, Railroads, Aeronautics, Greater Iowa, State Planning, Horticulture and Forestry, Private Corporations.

At the close of the 1943 session, Mr. Tyrrell made this comment, "I am sure that no legislation was passed which will hurt the farmers. On the other hand, some legislation was passed to help them." During that session 313 measures out of the 905 bills introduced were passed by both houses and became laws.

In announcing his candidacy for re-nomination, Representatvie Tyrrell seeks the support of Republican voters of Wright county based on his record during his service in the Legislature. He states that he shall continue to work for the best interests of the citizens of Wright County.

A land owner and operator, Mr. Tyrrell has resided in Wright county for 33 years and for the past 12 years has been actively engaged in operating the Tyrrell farms with his brother, W. Preston Tyrrell, in Iowa township. He is the son of the late W. C. Tyrrell of Beaumont, Texas. His grandfather was W. C. (Cap) Tyrrell who was county auditor in Wright county many years ago.

Representative Tyrrell was graduated from Belmond high school, attended the University of Iowa, and was graduated from the University of Colorado in 1929. He is 38 years of age, married and has three children.

American Red Cross Needs $200,000,000

Local Drive For Funds Is March 15

Confronted with responsibilities of unprecedented proportions, as the war enters its most crucial stage, and with a staggering task ahead in the post-war period, the American Red Cross on March 1, opened its 1944 War Fund appeal, confident that the American people will respond to the limit of their ability.

Clark McNeal, Chairman of the War Fund Drive in Belmond, has announced that the campaign would be held here on March 15. Plans are being made to have solicitors call on every home in Belmond as well as the three townships in this chapter area; namely, Pleasant, Belmond and Norway.

President Roosevelt, president of the American Red Cross, Norman H. Davis, chairman and active head of the vast organization, and Leon Fraser, national War Fund chairman, joined in voicing their conviction that the national objective of $200,000,000 will be reached because the people recognize the vital part Red Cross must play within the next 12 months.

Chairman Davis, in opening the campaign, which continues through March, said that with the decisive stage of the war at hand, the Red Cross must assume a greater burden than ever before, and at the same time must provide aid to servicemen being returned in ever increasing numbers.

Reviewing accomplishments, he asserted that Red Cross operations over the entire world during 1943 had dwarfed its activities during the first two years of war.

Thousands of American men and women, he said, are now in Red Cross service with U. S. troops in fifty three continental and insular areas.

It was estimated that more than three million American Red Cross volunteers will participate in the house-to-house canvass.

"Every American will be given the opportunity to contribute to this cause which is so close to the hearts of the people," Chairman Davis said.

"So expansive is Red Cross service during this war," Chairman Davis said, "that practically every American civilian is in contact with at least one of its functions. To continue this gigantic work all Americans, we feel certain, will assume their share of the responsibility."

PREDICTING THE UNPREDICTABLE

We who have been making predictions—either pessimistic or optomistic — about when we might expect an end of the war and what course the further prosecution of the war would follow have good reason to change some of these predictions recently.

Most of our thinking has followed this pattern: It will take —— months to clean up the European situation, and then with the combined strength of the Allies, it shouldn't take more than —— months to wipe Japan off the map.

Just last week President Roosevelt indicated that he had never felt the end of the European conflict was near or that we had any reason for certain victory over the Nazis in 1944. Haven't most of us been thinking (even if our thoughts were only optomistic hopes) that our worries as far as Germany is concerned would be over by summer?

On the other hand stupendous victories over the Japanese navy in the Pacific recently — in the Marshalls, the Marianas, Truk, Enewetok —might seem to indicate that the war with Japan is progressing much faster than our fighting against the Germans.

Could be that Hirohito might surrender even before Hitler's forces are smashed?

SPECIAL HONORS FOR SERVICE MEN

The Kate Smith program, a daily radio feature at 11:00 a. m. made particular mention one day last week of Plymouth, Iowa, a town of 400 population in Cerro Gordo county.

This town, according to Miss Smith gives special honor to each service man while he is home on furlough or leave by having a community program with a pot-luck meal as a courtesy to him.

Miss Smith considers this an idea for other communities to follow, and we heartily agree with her.

FARM BUREAU GAINS MANY NEW MEMBERS

Last week it was announced by the Wright County Farm Bureau that a total of 707 members had been enrolled for 1944. This figure represents an increase of 207 members over 1943 and includes 285 new membershhips with five townships whose reports are still incomplete.

It looks as though Wright county farmers are becoming more aware of the need of an organization of their own, especially this year with the membersihps increasing by such a large percentage.

UNNECESSARY REGULATIONS

Business does not want any more government regulation of its affairs than is absolutely necessary, and the following editorial comment taken from the Wright County Monitor explains very well the reason why:

"The New Deal is forever getting 'in the hair' of business. There have been so many thousand unnecessary, conflicting and burdensome demands that some people have come to believe they are intentional. Surely no set of men could make so many mistakes or display so much ignorance. One of the latest is an order that retailers of the Markwell staplers must report individually to the government representatives. Formerly the report was made by the wholesalers who charged the tax direct to the retailers and remitted it to the proper authorities. The new order will force 5000 retailers of these little machines to each make an individual report instead of the one report formerly made by the wholesalers. Besides making the retailers extra work, it will require a lot of new filing cases and similar equipment in the office of the government department. The result will not be nearly so satisfactory as the former method."

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

People who loosely talk that Russia is winning the war single-handed are shallow thinkers. Without the threat of invasion from England Germany could crush Russia with the armies guarding the coast line. Without the ceaseless bombing of plane factories, etc., Russia would face thousands of planes and guns instead of the handful that can be allotted now. The war is not being won by Russia. It is being won by a combination of factors, no one of which is sufficient in itself, but together become all-powerful.—Kossuth County Advance.

Here is the attitude we should all possess: A farmer came to a local store to buy a shovel and when he was unable to obtain one he remarked: "If the boys need the steel for shovels to dig fox holes or trenches to save their lives, I'll get along." We would need no arguing to buy bonds nor be warned about black markets if all of us used that example of reasoning in our war effort.—Osage Press.

If Spain doesn't watch her step and keep closer to the paths of a neutral she will find herself in the war in earnest. The regimentation of military life is an unfortunate but necessary consequence of war. To regiment civilian life further would, we believe, rather lower the morale of the country than raise the morale of the fighting forces. Further, it would seem that better application of present controls, not more controls, is the answer to our major production problems—Iowa City Press Citizen.

The bill to give each service man or woman $300 on the day of his or her discharge sounds good but it is a cockeyed proposition. A person fresh home from a year or two overseas is not in a position to have a clear vision of the future. $100 on discharge and $30 a month for six months would be more sensible.—Humboldt Republican.

Prittle... Prattle....

There are times that the mind of yours truly is a blank when it comes time to write the column. This time the old cranium, while far from being a blank, might as well be since it is filled with a million or more thoughts all scrambled together. Possibly some of you reading this have had the same experience.

P—P

At least the dads are beginning to find out how they stand in the draft and many of us now know definitely that we were living on borrowed time for the past year. Yep! The "Greeting" has come and we're practically on our way with but few regrets and an intense desire to get in there and help get it over with as fast as possible.

P—P

There is the regret that we must leave our families, friends and business circles. . .the regret that those of you who have already served for a year or more can't come back (especially those with families) while we take your places. War never was a pink tea party and for at least 9% of us it will be a hardship that must be taken with the chins up.

P—P

We wonder what in the world the papers, newscasters and radio commentators are going to write and talk about after the shooting is over. It's going to be a pretty dull world......but of how quiet and peaceful, we hope.

P—P

After all probably the most that any dad wants is the chance to live in peace, the opportunity to make a good living for his family, enjoy the little luxuries of life and leave his family in comfortable circumstances when he has passed on. Anyone who can figure out a way to make that dream come true for all of us will have our heartfelt thanks.

P—P

Leap year may mean a husband for some of the girls but for four women in town it means they each lose one. Our call came for the 29th of February and as one of the boys said, "if this hadn't been Leap Year the Army wouldn't have got us for another four years."

P—P

Probably the thing we've enjoyed most about the winter almost past is the lack of snow to shovel.

When the 4th War Loan Ended Our Fighting Men Kept Firing

News that the 4th War Loan goal of $14,000,000,000 has been [illegible] will cheer [illegible] boys from Italy to the Mar[illegible]. But they will hear the news not only over sputtering radios but over the din of battle.

For the war still goes on with ever mounting fury. And that means that our War Bond buying must go on unabated, too.

To the millions who bought extra War Bonds in this drive, all America gives thanks.

To the 5,000,000 and more volunteer workers who contributed their time and abilities to help make the drive a success, your Government and your fighting men give thanks.

To the thousands of patriotic newspapers, magazines, radio stations and networks, members of the motion picture industry, the outdoor industry, advertisers and agencies, retail stores, banks, post offices, credit unions, building and loan associations, labor unions, fraternal organizations and farm credit associations, the Nation gives thanks.

Once again Americans have proved their determination to "back the attack" to the full.

But the attack goes on

Look at Italy. When the 4th War Loan drive ended at midnight February 15, the drive on Rome was still going on. American boys were still crouching in water-filled foxholes—clinging with bitter and bloody tenacity to a beachhead the Germans were equally determined to take back.

Thus on the same midnight that witnessed the end of the 4th War Loan drive, the hands of the clock met like shears to snip the lives of scores of American boys engaged in the March on Rome. And the fight goes on.

Look at Japan. At the same hour that saw the end of the 4th War Loan, the "March of Death" that shocked all America to a realization of Jap brutality to American prisoners of war —that march was still going on.

To liberate those heroes of Bataan and Corregidor before it is "too late," other American boys stormed and took the Marshalls on the road to Tokyo.

But that March to Tokyo—still 2,000 miles away—that march goes on.

And we on the home front

—can we afford to stop now that the 4th War Loan is history, while our all-important job of supplying and financing this costliest war of all time still goes on? We have won a home front battle here, yes. But just as our boys continue even more vigorously once they have established a beachhead, so we must continue to build on the success we have already achieved.

The Bonds we bought last week and the week before are today's exploding bombs and shells, and spent bullets can never be used again. We must provide for tomorrow, too. The need for new guns, planes, ships and tanks goes on.

For the war still goes on with ever mounting fury. So while all of those on the home front who have bought Bonds and have worked hard to make the 4th War Loan drive a success have earned the Nation's thanks, none of us can afford to forget that our home front job, including Bond buying, also still goes on!

Conservation

By Mildred Newgard

The word conservation has considerable meaning. When apllied to specific things, it has a very deep meaning.

Conservation of soil and water is important and constantly has to be exercised. Time is another thing which must be conserved and used to the very best advantage. Now, in wartime, we are finding out that there are many things which must be conserved, and which in normal times we never would have thought of conserving. Food, paper, kitchen fats and waste grease, clothing, and heat are just a few of the things which must be cut down and used in the best possible way.

One thing not requiring conservation is a ready smile and a cheerful word. While there is a rationing of numerous articles, there is no rationing of friendliness. Especially in wartime an abundance of cheerfulness is needed. Laughter is just as essential on the home front as ammunition is on the fighting front, so let's try to conserve on the material things which are scarce, but never conserve on the non material things, such as laughter and friendliness.

"Tip"

Features of the Week

Well, hello everyone. Once more it's time for some special features of this week. As usual we have the question box.

QUESTION BOX:

The question for this week is: What is your special ambition or desire?

Mildrel Newgard: "Well, I have many ambitions. However, my main one is to buy war stamps to convert into war bonds."

Thelma Berhow: "At one time I wanted to be a beauty operator, but since I am taking an art course by correspondence, I want to become a commercial designer."

Mrs. Lewis: "Right now I have no ambitions or desires except to work hard and do what I can toward bringing the war to a quick and successful close—but when it is over I would like to take a nice, long vacation and sleep and sleep and sleep!

CHARACTER SKETCH

Lula Peterson is a senior—a senior who is well liked. She is the only girl in the class, but that doesn't bother her.

Lula is five feet three and a half with blond hair and gray-green eyes.

Yes, Lula has many friends and I have been hoping to discover a special (boy) friend, but—I cannot seem to find anyone.

WHO WILL WIN?

We have an added feature this week. The high school is divided into two teams; namely, the green and the yellow. Both teams try to sell a certain quota of magazines. The one that wins is rewarded but how they are to be rewarded has not been decided. We have five days left. Meanwhile, the question is "Who will win?"

The arrival of two news boys, one a junior and one freshman, has caused quite a new interest, hasnt' it girls?

"Tip"

Primary News

Friday was Donald Johnson's eighth birthday so Mrs. Johnson had a birthday party for him at school. Mrs. Johnson served lunch with the assistance of the third grade girls. She served sandwiches, cookies, small birthday cakes for each child, ice cream and jello. She had candles on the small cakes. The large birthday cake was lighted and Donnie blew the candle out; the rest of the room followed by blowing theirs out.

Spring Fever

Spring fever has come to Goodell Junior High School Just about ten who have gotten the spring fever take all such things as whispering, shooting paper wads, and playing pranks on the teachers into their own hands, and leave nothing for the rest to do.

Stumbling into a morning class, they get the peculiar, (and unusual ideas) of looking out of the window. Someone who wants to be mean may complain of the light in his eyes, so that the blind may be lowered, but the teacher never gets it rolled down right

Some of these days the teacher may get surprised when someone wanders off into dream land and forgets to come back.

Though many of the eighth graders made resolutions to work harder this semester, they start hearing the "tweet, tweet" of birds and it generally comes up to be the answer of every question the teacher asks. Pity the poor teacher.

Freshmen and Sophomore News

Hi, Folks! Well, here it is, news time again. We have been studying pretty hard lately on account of the lovely (if that's what you want to call them) six weeks tests.

In English we are learning how to write better sentences

In citizenship we are studying about the government and all the terfs that apply to it. It won't be too hard for us because it is just a review over what we had last semester in American government.

In American history we are having reports about men who were of great interest during the Rev. War

Junior News

We finished the Transition Period in English Lit. this week and from all appearances it was a very trying period as two out of the five authors suffered from despondency. (That is, insanity.)

Senior Science was summed up this week by six weeks tests. But tests at that, and oh Boy! Were they hard!

Our new boy, Roger Nelson, has been making us all want to do better in typing as he came here with a higher average than we have. We're almost finished with our units now. (Which is a relief.)

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Somethin' special catch your eye in the paper, Judge?"

"Sure did, Chet...an article here telling about prohibition in India being written off by the Madras government as a dismal failure after a three-year trial. They found out that enforcement was ineffective and that there was a steady increase in bootlegging and other violations of the law which increased penalties failed to check.

"It all goes to prove what I've said time and time again, Chet...prohibition does not prohibit. It's been tried in this country 47 times in the last 33 years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Was found to be a failure and abandoned in Canada, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia, too.

"Same thing happens every time...as soon as legal liquor is voted out, bootleg liquor with its crime and corruption moves right in."

Editorial Comment

The poem published in this week's editorial column should open the eyes of many of us Read it and see if you can feature yourself in the place of the author.

AND YOU?

What did you do today, my friend,
From morning until the night?
How many times did you complain
That rationing is too tight?
When are you going to start to do
All of the things you say?
A soldier would like to know, my friend,
What did you do today?
We met the enemy today
And took the town by storm
Happy reading it will make
For you tomorrow morn.
You'll read with satisfaction
The brief communique,
We fought, but are you fighting?
What did you do today?
My gunner died in my arms today.
I feel his warm blood yet,
Your neighbor's dying boy gave out
A scream I'll never forget.
On my right a tank was hit;
A flash and then a fire,
The smell of burning flesh
Still rises from the pyre.
What did you do today, my friend?
To help us with the task?
Did you work harder and longer for less,
Or is that too much to ask?
What right have I to ask you this,
You probably will say,
Maybe now you'll understand,
You see. . . I died today.

(Camp Editor's Note: Lt. Dean Shatlain, tank commander, amputated his own foot with a jack-knife and thought he was dying as he wrote this poem. He was rescued by Americans after two hours of hiding and is now recuperating in England.)

In The Bronco Corral

Here's something worth remembering, students! "He is not only idle who does nothing, but he is idle who might be better employed." Socrates made this statement, and how very true it is.

Last night was the opening night of the Sectional Tournament. Tonight the Broncos appear with Kanawha. It's their first game in the "Tourney", so let's all come out and support them.

Have you heard one like this before?

New Lunch Attendance Record Set in January

Hot Lunch ....

Hot lunch attendants reached a new high during the month of January, according to the records filed in Supt. Johnson's office. During that time 4,050 noon meals were served to the school children remaining at the school house during the lunch hour. This was an average of 193 meals per day.

In addition to the hot lunches, a glass of milk was served to approximately 170 children each day. Both the milk lunch and hot lunch are made possible through aid received from the Food Distribution Administration

With the peak of the winter past the number of children participating in the hot lunch has decreased but approximately 180 meals are being served daily.

A typical menu is that which is being served this week: Monday goulash, carrots, muffins, peach sauce, milk; Tuesday: creamed potatoes, carrots, celery, plain sandwich, vegetable jello salad, milk; Wednesday: macaroni and cheese, celery, cookies, milk; Thursday: creamed chicken and biscuits, carrots fruit whip, milk; Friday: potato soup, egg sandwich, dill pickles cookies and milk.

Broncos Battle Kanawha In Tournament Tonight

Prin. Faris Selected As Dist. Tournament Official

Mr. Faris has kept himself busy by refereeing 27 games since the first of the year. He refereed the girls district basketball tournament at New Providence last week end, as well as the sectional at Iowa Falls two weeks ago, and will also referee the girls State A. A. U. championship game sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Des Moines at Des Moines March 15.

He said the best defensive game was the game between Humboldt and Eagle Grove The most exciting was the girls sectional between Iowa Falls and Owasa with three overtimes.

Mr. Faris related that a referee's job is not to see everything, but the rules which hinders the progress of the game.

FOURTH GRADE

In Geography the fourth graders are studying the different regions of the United States and are drawing maps of these regions.

In Health they are studying the teeth and their composition. Maps of the teeth are also being drawn.

There were several perfect spelles for last week. They are as follows: Donald Busick, Betty Lou Dempsey, Eleanor Dorr, Deloris Faris, Albert Hood, Adelaide Jenison, Jeanette McGuire, Shirley Meyers, Thelma Meyers. Frances Palmer, Odean Severseike, Darlene Traeger, Lynne Tyrrell and Camilla Wicks.

SECOND GRADE

One reading class plans to finish their second grade basic reader. They will have a new book called "Storyway."

In hand work class they are beginning to make the covers for their Picture Study Booklets. They are going to make a conventional design using crayolas.

Social Studies class is now beginning their study of trains. They are going to learn many new and interesting things.

KINDERGARTEN

Some people, while visiting school have asked the names of certain kindergarten pets, and have been nonplused to find that the animals had no names. The reason for this is that no names were selected until the children themselves realized the need for names. Those of you who know the kindergarten fish will be interested to learn that now the big orange one is "ete" and the tiny black one is "Ole."

Many Educational Films Shown in School Recently

In recent weeks much valuable use has been made by the school-owned movie projector as a device to supplement class room work.

One of the outstanding films shown during the past two weeks was a Walt Disney cartoon entitled "Defense Against Invasion." This film showed graphically the results of invasion by disease germs and together with a picture on dental hygiene was shown to all children in the grades as an introduction to the school nursing program now in progress.

Members of Miss Delaplane's biology class saw two interesting films last week, one on the digesting of food and the other on the circulation of blood. The students actually saw the workings of the stomach and heart of living animals as they watched these films.

Miss Wendlandt's American government classes were recently privileged to see an exceptionally fine dramatization of the critical period of our American history in a film entitled "Our Constitution." This illustrated how by reasoning and compromise the founding father brought to existence the Constitution of the United States.

Movies are also being used in the teaching of Geography and Science. Sixth grade recently witnessed a picture on Indo-China, while the fifth grade had one on Mexico and another on bird study film titled "The Thrush and its Relatives."

The children are very enthusiastic in their reaction to these movies and much information is obtained from them which could not be obtained in any other way.

Basketball Team Closes Very Successful Season

..The 1943-44 Belmond high school basketball team completed last week one of the most successful seasons ever enjoyed in the history of the school.

With a record of nine victories and three defeats, they finished second in the North Iowa conference with a percentage of .750. In their conference campaign they defeated Britt, Lake Mills, Buffalo Center and Garner each twice; broke even with Northwood and lost both games to Forest City, the champions.

Their record against teams outside the conference was even better, the Broncos winning seven non-conference tilts and losing none. Among the non-conference schools they defeated were three members of the North Central Conference: Eagle Grove, Hampton and Clarion. Eagle Grove holds the title in that conference while Hampton is in second place. In addition to the teams already mentioned Belmond also met and defeated Klemme twice and Dows and Nevada each once.

The Broncos' record for the entire season is 16 games won and 3 lost for a percentage of 842

Bill Coulson, Elected President of School Band

Bill Coulson, George Sharp, Wanda Jenison and Mildred Helland were elected in fifth period last Monday, Feb. 14, by the band for the offices of president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and librarian.

Several persons were nominated and then asked to leave the room. One person was then chosen from this group for that certain office.

Bill Coulson is a senior this year and plays a French horn in band. George Sharp is a junior and plays the big bass horn, Wanda Jenison, a sophomore, plays the baritone, and Mildred Helland, also a sophomore plays the glochenspiel.

These officers will handle all transportation details and all matters concerned with the coming band contest.

Tankers and Towboats

Necessity for conversion to war production has caused radical departures from peacetime routine for many concerns. Among them is Cargill, Inc., makers of poultry and livestock feed, now also actively engaged in production of ocean going tankers for the Navy at Port Cargill, Minnesota, some 1800 miles by water from the sea.

Already six tankers have been launched and two of them have finished their long voyage down the winding Minnesota and Mississippi Rivers, and are now in Navy service. River towboats, too, are being constructed by Cargill for the U. S. Army to be used on the lower Mississippi and Ohio Rivers.

lars worth of the best standard equipment. It is only now that the transformation is evident for the previously mixed heterogeneously dressed group begins to look like a homogenous organization for the first time. Then, the men are taught to stencil, to roll their own clothes and store them in their sea bags.

All of this training is under the supervision of a Chief Petty Officer. He is the person that the boys will know as father, mother, confessor, teacher and disciplinarian, IF IT IS NECESSARY, for the 8 weeks of Boot Training. It is the "Chief's" duty to see that they learn their lessons well and he will bark, plea, work and sweat with them, because every Chief has a personal pride in the development of the men under his care. I should mention here that among Navy men, the Chief is regarded as the backbone of the Navy. Most any boy, who has been given this training, soon realizes and learns to love, hate and praise his Chief, all in one breath.

The first week or two this readjustment is one big nightmare. It is exercise and drill, march and march, up the ladder, through the passage-way and when you are tired, it is then you will repeat the performances ON THE DOUBLE, for there is the omnipresent Chief who will see that you do it and keep in step at the same time. Soon, the recruit will learn the school of the squad, development of the military bearing, study Naval history, tradition and courtesy, to answer 'Aye, Aye, Sir' instead of 'OK Bud', handle a rifle like a veteran, swing through a drill with semaphore flags and keep in snappy rythmic step with his other shipmates, for at this stage of the game the ESPIRIT DE CORPS is becoming evident. Doctors will look over every inch of his anatomy and punch his arms so full of holes while injecting the various health serums that the nautical gent will almost feel like a porous sieve. This phase of Navy inoculation is often referred to as NEEDLE WORK and while in line for this performance, a recruit learns to move fast while it is being done or he is certain to get a double dose. Dentists will drill, fill and pull, all in one sitting. The barber will run through 120 men in as many minutes, for GI is the clip and I do mean CLIP. (For this he should win the Purple Heart.)

Physical instructors inspect his posture and register his strength with standard physical fitness tests developed in this department for they are interested in his functional strength The same test is repeated at the end of eight weeks and a 30 per cent improvement is invariably shown. Within the same department, he is taught to box, wrestle, tumble, swim and also develop skills in judo, hand to hand combat in a unit of fighting men. He is given a battery of intelligence and mechanical tests for the personnel division is interested in placing him in the position best suited. For the spiritual side, Priests and Ministers of the Gospel are there to look after his religious belief. It is often said there are no atheists in ships or fox holes. If there is anything that justifies war, it is that it brings men closer to God.

0445	Hit the deck, jog and exercise.
0545	Police and clean up barracks, make bunks, scrub the deck, etc.
0645	Line up for chow
0800	Form in battalion for drill in marching tactics
1100	Noon chow
1145	Mail delivered and rest period.
1300	Drill in small boats, pulling oars for three hours.
1600	Evening chow
1700	March to class room for lecture in seamanship or some other nautical lore
1900	Washing laundry, shine shoes and cleaning detail.
2000	Free for letter writing or study.
2100	Hit the sack, lights out

The Navy teaches each of its men how to stand a vigil sea watch and put in practice the seventeen reasons why he is in such a detail. During the night he may draw a two hour deck watch.

This schedule, with its many ramafications, keeps up for eight solid weeks. From this one might gather that it is all work and toil, but such is not the case. Navy leaders long ago realized that all work and no play makes Salty Jack an unhappy Tar Recreation periods are organized with leagues and tournaments in seasonal sports, while organized sing-songs, movies and happy hours are provided and arranged for the men. The best performers in the latter are selected to display their ability at smokers and talent nights. These are usually held on Friday evenings, following Field Day. The performers are introduced to their shipmates not so much by NAME but by STATE, as every one within 3000 miles of the service man's home town will roar an approval as the announcement is made—'Johnnie Doe from Iowa."

The Saturday reviews are something to see, too. After three weeks of vigorous practice, your platoon gathers with some 20,000 others on the main 'mall or grinder' and then to the rythmical beat and music of the station band, the entire unit will go through a manual-of-arms, the semaphore, a manual without arms and finally pass in review with colors flying before the skipper (known as the 'Ole Man').

Graduation comes all too soon As the recruit sheds his boots for the final review, love of country, flag and pride of belonging to the Navy brings hard tears to the eyes and determination and purpose swells up in his heart.

From the findings gathered from the various tests, the Seaman Second class is then sent to some advance school of training, leading up to the many Petty Officer ratings in the Navy. Other Seaman Seconds are sent out immediately to join the Fleet and learn their duties the hard and practical way. Each ship or camp is a large city in itself and must meet all the problems of a complex municipality.

Latest March of Time "Upbeat In Music" At Lyric Theatre Next Week

Today musicians and their music have turned their talents to a serious task—that of keeping our boys' spirit, high on the fighting fronts of the world. The latest March of Time, "Upbeat in Music" coming to the Lyric Theatre here tells this vivid story with songs, symphony and swing by some of the best-loved artists in U. S. music.

Every musician, famous or obscure, in some part is contributing his share. Whether it be Serge Koussevitzky and the Boston Symphony, or Benny Goodman's band rocking in rhythm for service men and their dates, the purpose is the same, the uplifting of the spirits of a people at war.

Everybody loves music. And this film includes everybody's type of music. Much of it is for soldiers and sailors, and as the rapt and delighted faces on the screen show, there is no lack of appreciation in their feelings.

Since March of Time audiences will themselves see and hear the music which is thrilling the members of our armed forces, it is not too much to guess that "Upbeat in Music" will have the same great appeal for them.

Josephine Gealow Is Promoted In Work With Federal Income Tax

Miss Josephine Gealow, daughter of Mrs. Chas. Gealow, who for many years has been employed as assistant auditor in the Federal Income Tax office at Brooklyn, N. Y., was recently promoted to agent and transferred to the Chicago office where she started work March 1. The Brooklyn office gave a farewell testimonial dinner for her at the Bossert hotel. She expected only the 20 agents from her own office but was surprised to see many from other offices, 76 in all present. At each place at the tables she saw a menu card with her picture on the cover.

After 5 or 6 testimonial talks by fellow agents she was presented with a gold engraved wrist watch, and a memo book.

Many other farewells were given in Miss Gealow's honor and she was the recipient of a set of plastic bridge cards and many beautiful flowers.

Urge Students To Take Advantage Of New Program

The third Army-Navy College Qualifying Test for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program V-12 will be administered at the Belmond high school at 9:00 a. m. Wednesday, March 15 at the same time it is given throughout the country.

Students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are high school graduates or who will be graduated by July 1, 1944 are eligible to take the test and should notify Superintendent Johnson immediately so that an admission-identification form may be filled out and necessary supplies ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. The examination is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training, and all students are urged to take the test.

Last week President Roosevelt urged every American boy who will be a high school graduate by July 1 to look seriously and immediately into the government's new plan for free college training of those too young for the draft.

Capacity Crowd Sees Broncos Lose To Eagles

Klemme Crowned Class B Champion

By far the largest crowd ever to witness a boys' state sectional basketball tournament held in Belmond jammed the local gymnasium each night of the affair last week from Wednesday through Saturday.

With 13 class A and B teams entered including several natural rivalries the fans came expecting bang up ball games and found just that up to the final whistle as Eagle Grove slipped by Belmond to take the class A honors 29-27. Klemme, doped to win the class B championship, found themselves behind the eight-ball at half-time in the first game of the finals with Meservey leading 8-7. Although the Cerro Gordo county boys came out on the small end of the 24-16 score they couldn't be counted out until the game ended.

Wednesday night Klemme easily defeated Rowan 13-4 and Alexander had little trouble with Goodell whose lack of reserves forced them to play with only four men in the last four minutes. The Thornton-Meservey battle was a different affair and the crowd woke up when a fighting Meservey team, already defeated twice during the season by the Thorntonites, came from behind in the second half to win 35-31.

Dows didn't furnish much competition Thursday evening for Garner who won 39-15 and after a bit of trouble finding the basket Belmond took Kanawha's measure in the second game 34-17.

In the first game Friday night Klemme led Goldfield confortably 31-20 to advance to the finals while Meservey found their hands full again when they took the floor against Alexander Although the score was 24-19 it was a slow game for the spectators. Eagle Grove had some difficulty in getting started against their rival Clarion and couldn't get any better than a six point lead at half-time. Clarion managed to keep the Eagle's high point man, McGrath, bottled up, but forgot Shoenhair, whose five buckets were the margin of victory for Eagle Grove when the final score 35-26 was racked up.

A tight defensive game featured the Belmond-Garner game in the same evening with the Broncos making the only goal in the first quarter and just sliding by the Garner Cardinals 24-22. Period scores in the game were 4-3 Belmond, 13-9 Belmond and 19-18 Belmond in the third quarter.

With The Boys In Service

APPRECIATES CIGARETTE LIGHTER FROM BELMOND

Dear Editor:

"I would like to tell you of a very interesting incident that happened in your town and, to me, it had a great deal of meaning in it.

"My sister, Mrs. Robert M. Finn of Belmond, had been looking quite some time for a cigarette lighter for me, as I had none.

"She happened into the Coast to Coast Store, in Belmond, and was telling Mr. L. B. (Mack) Mackrill of her failure in finding one, so Mr. Mackrill pulled out of his pocket, his own cigarette lighter, and insisted upon her sending it to me, which she did. I received it several days ago.

"To me, it is men like him, who are willing and want to give up their own personal belongings to a service man, that keeps the spirits high among us service men

"I certainly appreciate the cigarette lighter more than words could express, and intend to call on him personally, when I return home to thank him for it.

"I am at present somewhere in New Zealand and enjoying nice summer weather down under here.

Yours sincerely,
Laurence W. Vought,

Plan Mobilization Of All Food Producing Resources

All-out mobilization of all food-producing resources in the state! That is the object of meetings to be held between March 9th and through March 18th in every community in Wright County to discuss Iowa's 1944 food for victory program.

This week has been designated throughout Iowa as a Food Front Alert, during which farmers will formulate plans to meet the quotas that call for Iowa to produce one-tenth of the nation's food this year.

Leaders are being instructed and equipped with program material to carry the discussions in every community of the county.

A committee is meeting in Belmond tonight (Thursday, March 9), to make plans for a meeting in Belmond next week, the tentative date being Friday, March 17. A detailed story will appear in next week's paper.

The Food Front Alert Week is being sponsored by every agency in the community. The program is being organized by the County Extension Service, assisted by the County War Board, County AAA and Civic organizations.

Authorities have pointed out that 1944 will be the critical year for production of food for victory. With 5 million Americans overseas by July, with longer supply lines, with more liberated people to feed until they can produce their own food and with more shipping to carry the food to the war theatres, the 1944 season is looked upon as the crucial period on the food front.

FALL BEHIND ON SOYBEAN QUOTA

H. B. Vanderlip, County AAA Chairman, issued the following statement regarding soybean and pork production intentions:

After reviewing the forms MCR 803's which has the farmers intention plans for 1944, we find that on 1745 farms the intention soybean acreage is 27,583 and on these same farms in 1943 there were 33,429 acres of soybeans.

Our committeemen report that price of corn makes the raising of this crop more profitable than growing soybeans. There has, however, been an increase in the price of soybeans announced for the fall of 1944 which had not been made at the time of our sign up with the farmers. This will undoubtedly make some change in the amount of soybeans to be planted, but it still looks very doubtful whether the goal of 51,000 acres for 1944 can be reached.

In regard to the amount of brood sows kept for farrow for 1944 as compared with that of 1943 this does not show near the decrease that we thought there

Simon Simerson Passes Wife Dies 4 Days Later

Passed 50th Anniversary Last Year

Funeral services were held during the past week for Mr. and Mrs. Simon Simerson, long-time residents of this community, whose deaths occurred just four days apart, and who had been privileged to celebrate 50 years of living together in marriage on May 23rd last year.

Mr. Simerson passed away at the Hampton Lutheran hospital on Thursday, March 2, after an illness of about ten days, at the age of 75 years, 6 months and 22 days. Mrs. Simerson became ill when her husband was taken to the hospital on February 28 and continued to grow weaker. She followed her husband in death on Monday, March 6, at the age of 77 years and 4 days.

Funeral services were held at St. Olaf church—for Mr. Simerson on Saturday, March 4, and for Mrs. Simerson on Wednesday, March 8. Burial was at the family lot in the Belmond cemetery.

SIMON SIMERSON

Simon Simerson was born at Galesvill, Wis., August 15, 1868. He was of Norwegian stock, his father, Frederick Simerson and his mother, Pernille Braaten, having come over to this country from Norway.

MRS. SIMON SIMERSON

Anna Johnson was born March 2, 1867 in Minnesota. In early childhood she moved with her parents to Mitchell County, Iowa. When she was about twelve years of age, the family moved to Norway Township in Wright County to what is known as the Severt Evans farm. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran Church, of which she remained a faithful and consecrated member all her life.

She attended country school, and being ambitious to become a teacher, found a way to attend Breckenridge School at Decorah, Iowa. Thereafter she taught school until her marriage to Simon Simerson, April 20, 1893, the marriage ceremony being performed by the late Rev. H C. Holm.

To this union were born four children: Ruth, who died in 1920; Florence, now Mrs. L. N. Field of Decorah, Iowa; Harold and Alvin of this community. In 1907 the family moved to the vicinity of Kingsville, Texas, returning to Wright County, Iowa, about a year and a half later, where the family has resided ever since.

Mrs. Simerson was always a devout and very active member of the Lutheran Church. She and Daniel Nelson, who since became the famous martyr-missionary to China, helped to organize the St. Olaf

WHAT CAN WE DO? SUPPORT THE RED CROSS IS ONE ANSWER—

"The folks back here in the United States don't seem to realize that there's a war on-"

How many times have you read that statement in the paper—the words of some returning serviceman? How often have you heard that personally from the lips of some boy who has come back from the battle-front?

We quite understand the thoughts of the wounded lad who fought it out with the Japs in New Guinea, or the Germans on the bloody beaches of Salerno. He comes home from a slimy foxhole life, from the sight of constant horror, from the battlefield where wounded men died in agony, and he sees us here, secure, well-fed, and warmly housed. He hears us grouse about not being able to get enough butter, or a seat on the train, or enough gasoline, and he compares our troubles with the awfulness he has seen.

No. he doesn't reason it out that we don't mean to grouse about these little things, and that the folks back home are willing to do everything possible to help win the war. But his complaint should be a warning to us. We should look around to see if there isn't something we can do to help still more.

There are things on the home front that each of us can do to help our sons, and our friends, on the battle fronts.

This year we can give a lot more to the American Red Cross, which not only serves our fighting men all over the world but is ready in case of disaster here at home.

The Red Cross serves our men on every battle front, in Europe, in the China, Burma, India theatre, in the South Pacific and at our island outposts.

The Red Cross collects blood plasma to keep wounded men from dying, it prepares surgical dressings, its workers serve in military hospitals the world over, it packs millions of food boxes for men who have been taken prisoner by the enemy and it provides a channel of communication between enemy interned civilians and their families. It also trains people here in America to help in hospitals where there is a shortage of doctors and nurses. Its services are so many that the average person has no conception of their extent.

What can we do to help? We can support the Red Cross with every dollar we can spare, because we know those dollars go directly to aid the men doing the actual fighting After that we can join the long line of people volunteering for service with the Red Cross in some capacity. Let's show our men overseas we know there's a war on!

NOT MUCH TIME LEFT—

We were told in the early part of January that a considerable number of income tax returns had been filed with the Internal Revenue Service during the very first few days of the year, and at that time it looked as if Iowans were so conscious of the big job ahead that the whole business would be cleared up in record time.

However, just a few days ago a news story indicated that less than half of the income tax returns for Iowans had been filed with only about 10 days left before the deadline. It is just human nature to leave unpleasant tasks go until the last minute.

BUSINESS AS USUAL?

Approximately 1000 men a day are passing through the Camp Dodge induction center, a recent announcement indicated. And what is true at Camp Dodge is likewise true in the many other induction centers all over the country.

With millions of men in the armed services already and with the large numbers expecting to go in the near future, it is becoming increasingly more difficult to keep the "home fires burning cheerily" and "business as usual."

War Prison Laborers

One of the interesting discussions at the recent Britt Commercial Club meeting had to do with the plan of getting war prison labor from Algona during 1944. Sitting in at the meeting was Mr. Fred Butcher, president of the War Hemp Industries, Inc. He told of the use of Italian prisoners in the work of tying and shocking hemp at Grundy Center and Hampton. The prisoners were selected from a camp at Nevada, Mo., and were brought to Eldora and housed in an abandoned CCC camp.

The interesting thing was that among them was an Italian professor from the college of Toulon, France; 2 were trained singers who had sung in the Metropolitan Opera in New York prior to the war; many had had experience in hemp raising and harvest and had done much of the hand work and stacking. Mr. Butcher said the finest stacks in all their 42 mills were those made by these Italian prisoners of war.

But the heartening thing was that they were so happy. They spent much of their idle time in singing some of the great operas and oratorios. They were evidently very happy about being in America—even as prisoners of war. The people were kind to them and they were invited to sing before the assembly in the high school. In turn the pupils sang for the prisoners and entertained them.

This is the America where freedom rings from every mountain side, and through these prisoners the echo will be carried back to Italy and the story of their experiences will be told to fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters when they have set foot on the soil of the home land.

What a contrast to the stories that will be told by our Americans who are prisoners of war in Japan, if any of them return.—Britt News Tribune.

Attacking the Jap-held islands in the Pacific was a lucrative job well performed by the allied air and naval powers. In fact, it was a double-cross to the Axis. While Hitler and his gang sits tight in Europe and fortifies the borders of countries waiting for the invasion, and the Japs wait, too, and try to find out what's going on—then the attack switches to the islands of the sea. It was a well planned attack and caught the little "yellow fellows" and their leaders by surprise. One of the reasons the allies are progressing slowly and winning territory is because they strike when and where the enemy least expects.—Thornton Enterprise.

It would be a joke on the Japs if Japan were licked before Germany collapsed, but it now looks as though that could happen, the way the allies are getting the better of the enemy in the southwest Pacific. Predictions have been freely made, and by men whose judgments on the war outlook are considered sound, that it would require several years to lick Japan after Germany is disposed of, some putting the date of Japan's surrender as far away as 1948 or 1949. But there have been many surprises in this war and there may be many more.—Webster City Freeman.

Thought maybe the readers of this column would like to come along with the seven of us from Belmond who went through their pre-induction examinations the last Friday in February and take them with us.

P—P

We left Clarion at 2:15 a. m. and arrived at the reception center, after passing the MP at the gate, who grinned as though he knew something, which he did, on schedule at 9:45 a. m. and were checked in among hundreds of other men from all parts of the state. Warned to sound off in a loud voice when our name was called or we could sit there all day. Saw two men who looked as though they might have been sitting there since 1918.

P—P

Since the MP's had warned us on arrival to stay away from the restrooms as it would be necessary to give part of ourselves at "Station number 9", we sat and waited with our teeth chattering and knees shaking and not from fright.

P—P

Couldn't even dig into the extra pack of cigarettes for a smoke to soothe our nerves as only those stationed at the camp could smoke in the building and some of us were soon asking for butts.

P—P

The minutes and the hours passed by and apparently the boys from Wright county were the forgotten men until 11:30 in the morning, when we were shunted into the first room to be given our numbers and fill out the questionnaire that gives the Army more information about us than our own mothers ever had. Then came chow and a two mile walk over and back . . . a welcome relief and how the boys did light up.

P—P

Back again to the waiting room and action expected at once but found time for a two hour nap while the Sgt. and the CPO snapped rubber bands at each other. Then at 2:30 came the call to get moving and we were on our way to take our physical and end up in the same room two hours later with only the loss of any sense of modesty we might have had.

P—P

First came interviews and more filling out of forms then on into the medical reception room for another one-half hour wait, which period of time was but a fleeting moment.

P—P

At last we were called to the dressing room and told to check our clothes and follow the line for X-rays. What a monotonous day it must be for the examining doctors and assistants. In to "station 2" to check our weight and height and in order came hernia, veneral, urinalysis, teeth, heart and lungs, feet, legs, hands arms, color perception, eyes, ears nose, throat, eyes again, neurologist and psychologist interviews and back to the dressing room.

P—P

Soon lost all sense of direction among the innumerable corridors and was reminded of the last trip through a "fun house" at an amusement park . . . but this was no fun house.

P—P

After dressing we were waved into another room where they jabbed us for blood, then on to the classification room to state our preference for Army, Navy, etc., and hope we get what we asked for. It was the Navy for two of the home town boys and Army for the other five.

P—P

Began to see the light of day as we sat down to wait for our final papers to be filled in and at 4:30 we were through but not forgotten. Everyone was held until all were finished and after a final checkup on all papers and a few words of advice almost 900 men were released and sent home to get their affairs in shape for the call for induction. What a day!

P—P

And now to get a picture of my pin-up girl.

SUGGESTED CHANGES TO BASKETBALL RULES

(By George C. Hansen, Prtr 2/c, U. S. N. R.

Recently, there has been serious discussion, pro and con, about certain changes in the Rules of Basketball. Most of this has emanated from schools fortunate enough to have players of unusual height—known as "goal tenders". It is a well known fact that the eliminating of the center jump after the scoring of a basket was a step forward because of the advantages of a rangy center getting the tip-off. This has served to give the smaller centers a fairer break, and it is (generally) agreed that it has also made the game faster as well as increasing the scoring by the opposing teams. This rule has been accepted by the general public, and embraced by ardent fans of basketball and the wisdom of it is reflected in the faster action and the packing of gymnasiums throughout the country.

—CN—

In our world today, speed and accuracy are at a greater premium than ever before. This will naturally bring about changes in all sports. Many coaches and officials throughout the country are now becoming alarmed over the tall, rangy boy that steals the ball out of the hoop—of which there are not over a dozen or so in the country. Most suggestions offered by coaches to date would handicap rangy players—however, we feel these suggestions would also handicap the smaller players, those under six feet.

—CN—

Phog Allen, veteran coach of Kansas U., offers the 12-foot basket as a suggested change, and he admits it would be a hindrance to the "drive-in"shot maker.

—CN—

Through an error in building "Goal-Hi" baskets for the Recreation Department, Our Navy Base, Shoemaker, California, the contractor placed the baskets above a 10-foot pole, reaching a height of approximately 12 feet. Despite this error, the "Goal-Hi" baskets were used for several contests. The players were completely at a loss in arching their shots, also the smaller players experienced difficulty in making lay-in shots. The scoring in these contests was very low, and lacked the interest of shipmates to enjoy the game. After the baskets were changed back to standard heights, scoring increased and the sailors commenced to gather around and watch the games. A very noticeable objection to the 12-foot basket, the boys complained that they were unable to adjust themselves to the timing required by this new height. We feel the change in the height of the basket would eliminate the "goal-robber" but would also handicap the boys under six feet.

—CN—

Bill Ferguson, of St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia, suggests a six-foot arc under the basket and prohibiting defensive players from holding forth in this area.

—CN—

We have a similar suggestion by Lieutenant V. D. P. Farrell, USNR Physical Fitness Officer, Shoemaker, California. Lieutenant Farrell, known as Vince among eastern athletes, having officiated in over 800 basketball games during the past 15 years on both the East and West coast, has this to offer:

He would have an arc with a radius of 10 feet extending from a point directly beneath the basket. Any shot attempted outside this area must have clear traffic to the basket on the downward flight of the ball. Any player interfering with such a shot from without said arc, would automatically count as two points but no foul would be committed. Inside the area, shots attempted are at the player's own risk.

—CN—

Another suggestion by Lieutenant J. J. Malevich, in charge of Athletics at Shoemaker, California, is that a player interfering with the downward flight of the ball to the basket would automatically score two points for the opposing team.

Lieutenant Malevich adds that he prefers the rules to remain as they are until such time as it is deemed advisable to change, and not because there are a few teams fortunate enough to have rangy players. He also mentioned that, while coaching in Minnesota, he had a player under six feet capable of tapping a ball out of the basket. When this was done the officials automatically gave the opponents the basket.

—CN—

If there be a change, why not try the suggested arc. This would require little time in painting a half circle, whereas the raising of the basket would call for reconstruction of many gymnasiums, as well as confusion and the usage of materials vital to the war effort.

Save Proteins—Increase Profits

Leading authorities on animal nutrition and successful practical livestock feeders agree that supplementing grain with a properly balanced combination of proteins, vitamins, and minerals will often save 40% to 50% in protein and 10% to 15% in grain over feeding a single source of protein as the only supplement.

Save Protein, Save Grain, Increase Feeding Profits. Ask anyone who feeds it about Big Gain Mineral Stock Food for all livestock. It accurately combines the best in proteins, vitamins, and minerals. Many of the most successful hog, cattle and sheep feeders depend on it for healthy livestock and faster, more profitable gains.

BELMOND LOCALS

Hugh Sharp has returned home after attending the funeral of his brother, L. V. Sharp at Columbus, Mont., and visiting relatives and friends in St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tudor have as guests, for two weeks, their granddaughter, Sherry Severson and their grandson Deanie Severson of Webster City.

Simerson - -

the family moved to their present home, Wright county, Iowa, in what was the first group of Norwegian families to settle in this locality. John Hanson is now the only living member of this first group. The old homestead is still a part of the Simerson farms, being the present home of the Harold Simerson family.

Simon was confirmed in a little school house not far from here by the Rev. N. Peterson, Pastor of Ringsaker Lutheran congregation of which the family were members. The present St. Olaf church is the successor to this congregation. When the congregation was officially organized, Mr. Simerson was a charter member and wrote its constitution.

On April 20, 1893, he was married to Anna Johnson at Belmond This union was blessed with four children—Ruth who died in 1920; Florence, now Mrs. L. N. Field of Decorah, Iowa; Harold and Alvin of this community

In 1907, the family moved to Texas, near Kingsville, returning to Iowa about a year and a half later.

In his young manhood, Mr. Simerson attended Breckenridge school at Decaroh, Iowa, and also Mt. Vernon college at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. He had more than a passing talent as a writer and student of affairs, and wrote for publications such as the Iowa Homestead and others. Some of his writings and observations have been quoted in textbook and class material at St. Olaf college.

The Simerson family were always generous and faithful members of St. Olaf Lutheran congregation, and as such, Mr. Simerson held positions of trust and honor at various times. At the time of his death, he was a deacon of the congregation. In civil and community life, too, he played an important part, holding, from time to time, public positions of responsibility.

Mr. Simerson was an outstandingly successful farmer and business man, fair and honorable in all his dealings, and enjoyed the respect of all with whom he came in contact. He worked hard all his days up to the time of his last sickness. He was taken sick February 21st but improved slightly. On the 28th, however, he was taken to Hampton Lutheran Hospital and died there, March 2nd, which was Mrs. Simerson's birthday, aged 75 years, six months and 22 days.

In addition to the sons and daughter before mentioned, Mr. Simerson is survived by the following: His widow, who is at present very ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simerson; his brother, Ludwig Simerson; his sister, Mrs. Augusta Wald of Minneapolis, Minn.; three grandchildren, Sandra K. and Sara Ann Simerson of this community, and Faith Field, of Decorah, Iowa.

In addition to other more distant relatives, Mr. Simerson leaves a great host of friends who will miss him and mourn his passing. Their high regard was beautifully demonstrated last May 23rd by the people of this church and community in the reception tendered on Mr. and Mrs. Simerson's 50th wedding anniversary.

It will be generally agreed that the finest tribute that can be given Simon Simerson is this, that he was a humble, earnest Christian who lived his faith simply and consistantly in ways that all could understand and admire. He [illegible] in Whom he believed. That is why he could say on his death bed, almost in the words of Paul, the Apostle, "How this will go, I know not. Neither does it matter. For I have placed my trust in Jesus Christ, my Savior, and am ready to go to Him."

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the St. Olaf Lutheran church with the Rev O. M. Severseike officiating. Music was furnished by a double quartet composed of some singers from each of the choirs of the St. Olaf and Trinity congregations. Mr Simerson was laid to rest in the family lot at the Belmond Cemetery.

What is RESIN BONDED PLYWOOD?
WOOD PLASTIC

PREFABRICATED BROODER HOUSES

Premier Phenol Resin Bonded Plywood is a number of layers of wood, on which the grains run at right angles to those layers above and below. These layers are bonded together with the plastic, Phenol Resin, which makes the "glue line" the strongest point. It's the new wood alloy used in Mosquito Bombers and Assault Boats. This will not warp, shrink or swell. It is unaffected by water, mud, ordinary hammer blows and is bacteria and vermin proof.

It cannot be delaminated!

Phenol Resin Bonded Plywood (by laboratory tests) is light but 14 times more rigid and 8 times stronger when glued and nailed to rafters and studding (as our factory does it) than ordinary nailed sheathing. This construction . . . with Premier glued laminated rafters and studding . . . gives you the strongest, most rigid, storm proof and tightest building in large factory-made units that are light enough for boys and girls to handle at time and place of uncrating and erecting. Don't judge by weight: study the construction

TOMORROW'S WORLD

(By Mildred Newgard)

Everyone, I believe, who is interested in anything at all, is interested in the "world of tomorrow".

According to experts along that line, we have much to look forward to in the future. We will be able to travel from New York to San Francisco in an hour, and most of our extensive traveling will be done in great flying boats. For our own limited private use, helicopters will be the modern method of conveyance, and we will have private landing fields on the roofs of our homes.

Your homes will present a much different picture than they do today. The work of the housewife will be cut to practically nothing. Everything will be mechanized.

The houses themselves will be very streamlined. Steel houses will come into existence and glass buildings will be more common than they are today.

Television will be as common as todays' radio. We will be able to see great personages as well as to hear them.

To meet these wonderful changes in our way of life, the youth of today must prepare themselves. For the youth of today are the men and women of tomorrow. Education is a very important way of preparing for the future.

In the world of tomorrow, not only will science have advanced industry, but also, education will have advanced humanity.

Senior News

In sociology we are studying the problems of the small town. The greatest problem is to get our reports handed in on time.

In biology we are studying about the root—its structures and functions.

Junior News

The Romantic Period is being studied in English literature. Robert Burns and William Blake are the principal characters so far. We soon learned that the term Romantic did not mean the same then as it does now.

In senior science our attention is turned towards Ameche, I mean Bell. As you probably gathered, we're studying about telephones.

You know, in typing class, the funniest thing is happening. Some of us are beginning to become suspicious that we don't know how to type. Our main headache now is letter writing

Freshmen and Sophomore News

In algebra the ninth grade is studying circle graphs, and in geometry the tenth grade is still studying right triangles.

In English we are learning to build our vocabulary, which is not very large. We have been reading stories out of the March issue of "The Reader's Digest.' '

In American history we are studying the business functions of our national government.

7th and 8th Grade News

On March 2nd Betty Lowenberg visited school with her sister, Joan.

In the 8th grade, the arithmetic class is studying formulas and is having a hard time with them

Plurals and possession of nouns has been the chief study in English.

Features of the Week

Ho, there, everyone! Once again it's time for our special features. As usual we have the question box.

Question: Who is your favorite radio character or program? Why

Eva Marie Evenson: "I like "A Date with Judy", because of the way the things get mixed up and eventually ironed out."

Tip from the Feature Editor

Some look glad and some look sad,
The marks of some looked very bad,
So why not try to mend our ways,
And look for much more happy

Typical Character Sketch

Dear me, it's time for our character sketch this week and, oh boy, do we ever have a good one this time. His name is Edgar Junior Mayhew, but most people know him only as Junior. He has dark hair and blue eyes. If you would look at him, I am fully assured you would say he's a grown man instead of a sophomore for he is six feet tall and has nice broad shoulders that would be just right for a girl to cry on. Junior is vice-president of his class. His favorite pastime is drawing airplanes and is rather good at it, we must admit. One of his collections, consists of pin-up girls. I think Junior is about an average student, but also very remarkable in American history. (It couldn't be he plans on being an historian?) After finishing high school, he plans to be an aviator. Well, this brings to a close this week's typical character Junior is as smart as a whip as you will see when you read this week's jokes.

Oh, No!

Mrs. Lewis "What is a party platform?"

You Would!

Mrs. Lewis: "What would you do if you had an annual income of $15,000?"

The room answered to roll call Friday by each giving an interesting fact concerning the countrie represented in the exhibit.

"Judge, would you mind tellin' Charlie here what you told me the other night walkin' home from lodge. I can't word it just the way you did."

"Sure thing, Tim. Here's what I told him, Charlie. There's no such thing as votin' a nation, a state, a county, or even a community dry. We had proof enough of that during our 13 years of prohibition. What you really vote for is whether liquor is going to be sold legally or illegally. .whether the community is going to get needed taxes for schools, hospitals, and the like, or whether this money is going to go to gangsters and bootleggers. Editorial Comment

Cooperation, it is often said, is the main factor in any little or big problem in which more than one person is concerned. The students cooperated wonderfully with the faculty in both preparing for and during the basketball tournament.

Results were gratifying to say the least. Praise was given expressively by those who attended the tourney. All in all it was a great success.

In The Bronco Corral

The quotation I've chosen this week is well worth remembering. Bulwer Lytton said: "To judge human nature rightly, a man may sometimes have a very small experience, provided he has a very large heart.'

Saturday night brought the climax of the basketball tournament. For those that weren't there to witness the performances, let me say: You dont' know what you missed. The hundreds that were there will agree. Belmond's game seemed to be the most outstanding (not that I'm prejudiced).

Do you know what the pencil said to the paper- Gosh, I dot (got) my eyes (i's) on you! But that's nothing compared to the little Moron that cut off his hands because he could play the piano by ear.

March winds is right! But we've got the snow and cold right along with it. (It's not only cold outside but in. The S. H. is like an icebox.)

The outstanding, and I do mean outstanding, figure this week is a senior fellow about 5'11" tall, with black wavy hair and green eyes. He is a wizard at BB and proved his skill Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. He is taking English IV, Gov't., Typing I and Algebra. The old "Oscar" has been replaced by "Ozzie." By the way, what's the secret that has brought on this attention from the opposite sex??

The Pep Meeting last Friday was really a success, thanks to the "fans" from town who came up in "Pete's" "Meat Hearse" for the occasion. Orland did O. K. too. That deserves an "A" in Speech, don't you think?

Junior High News

The eighth grade science civics class finished a unit study of recreation. The new unit is on "Community Planning"

The geography class in the seventh grade has begun a study of "The Work of the Miners." Information of the common metals was summarized by making charts with columns concerned with properties of the metals, important uses, and places where they are mined. More emphasis is being given to coal and petroleum in recent lessons.

The [illegible] literature classes enjoyed the s[illegible]y "Twenty-three and a Half Hour Leave", by Mary Roberts Rin[illegible]t which Miss Sherwood rea[illegible] them as a supplement to the[illegible]terature selections. It was a good example of a wartime story of a lighter nature, filled with complication of plot and good humor.

The Junior High has lost three [illegible] as result of their moving to [illegible] towns. They are Joan and Marilyn Lent and Clara Davis.

The [illegible] grade has been having open forum discussion on the needs for a recreation house in Belmond.

[illegible] must also not forget that [illegible] High boys and girls [illegible] decorate the ticket window [illegible] also made the "Wel[illegible]" [illegible] which you saw as you [illegible] into the gym.

SENIOR SPEECH CLASS LEARNING TO TALK ON ITS FEET

The Senior Speech Class has completed work on the informative speech with both a written and oral tests. The written covered the theory studied so far this semester. The oral test was an actual speech.

Thus far, all speeches by the members of the class have been of the informative type. Each member of the class has given at least one speech a week during the last five weeks. A great deal of improvement has been shown in the work of almost every speech student, according to Mr. Johnson, the speech instructor.

Following this work, the members of the class will take up other types of speech including speeches to convince, speeches to gain action, and speeches to entertain.

Figures Make Nelson High Point Man

Forward "Oz" Nelson, one of the finest basketball players who ever wore the Purple and White of B. H. S., finished the season as high point man for the Broncos with a total of 322 points scored in 19 games. His exceptionally high average was 17 points per game.

This is one of the facts gleaned from a statistical summary of the season prepared by Coach John Lansing. The summary appears at the end of this article.

Among the interesting facts is that the Bronco's high score for any game was the 67 points run up against Lake Mills here, while their low score was 20 points in their first conference game at Northwood.

The best free throw shooting average was compiled by Orland Finn with an average of .551. In 49 attempts he made 27 shots. Leslie Classick made 18 out of 36 for a .500.

The team defense was very strong showing a 28.8 points per game.

The season showed an all school record of scoring per game with an average of 43.1 points.

Also this year's victory over Hampton was the first one since 1921.

Individual scoring honors went to Bob Nelson with a total of 322 points for 19 games or a 17 point game average. Bob Nelson also was high point man per game scoring 28 points against Lake Mills.

Ladies Aid. For many years also she taught Sunday School, and many of her Sunday school pupils in this community can bear loving testimony to her influence on their lives for Christ and righteousness.

Mrs. Simerson was a hard worker all her life, and was thrifty and frugal in her ways. She loved the great out-of-doors, and long after she had reached the age and position where she should have and could have eased off, insisted on carrying her full share of the work on the farm. Her heart was bound up with her Church and her home, and to them she was imminently faithful all her life. Of her it can be truly said that she was "A Mother of Israel."

On May 23rd of last year, many of this community and church helped Mr. and Mrs. Simerson celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary. This was an event of great joy to them and was referred to by them many times with the greatest pride and gratitude.

Only last Saturday we assemblsd to pay our last respects to her husband, Mr. Simon Simerson, and lay him away in God's Acre. On February 28th, the day that Mr. Simerson was taken to the hospital, she too became very ill and was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simerson. Day by day she grew steadily weaker and weaker and passed away Monday morning, March 6th, only four days after her husband's death, at the age of 77 years and four days. Mr. Simerson having passed away on her 77th birthday. To many this may appear as a sad catastrophe. But to those who see the finger of the Lord in all our doings and who are close to lives and ties that bound Mr. and Mrs. Simerson, this is not so. Devoted as she was to her husband through all the years of life together, and lost as she would have been without him, it was an act of Divine blessing, that they who were together in life, should be united again so soon in death. God moves in mysterious ways His wonders to perform. Truly of Simon and Anna Simerson it can be said in the words of the Psalmist: "Lovely and pleasant were they in their lives, and in death they were not divided."

Mrs. Simerson is survived by one daughter, Mrs. L. N. Field of Decorah, Iowa; two sons, Harold and Alvin of this community, two sisters, Mrs. Betsey Nelson of Eugene, Oregon and Mrs. Josie Shenander of Kooskis, Idaho; one brother, Oscar N. Johnson of British Columbia, Canada, three grandchildren, Sandra K. and Sara Ann Simerson of this community and Faith Lorraine Field of Decorah besides a host of other relatives and friends. God bless her memory.

might be. An exact tabulation has not been made of brood sows, but it looks as tough there would not be more than a 5 or 10 per cent decrease from last year.

That Iowa has only 3 and one-third per cent of the nation's farms but is asked to produce 10 per cent of the nation's food indicates the extent to which the War Food Administration looks to this state for leadership in the program.

Leaders here are pointing out that while Iowa's share of the nation's Fourth War Bond quota was one and one-fourth per cent, the state's share in the nation's food production quota is eight times as great.

Community leaders are arranging places and dates of meetings for every community. Mass meetings are being planned in some of the larger communities of the county and later announcements will appear regarding these.

Community discussions will draw upon last year's successful experiences which enabled Iowa to lead the nation in food production. With more food to produce in 1944, with older machinery and with the con[illegible] scarcity of machinery, careful planning for full cooperation in exchange of labor and machinery and in rural-urban teamwork are the factors that will have to be relied upon to meet the quotas in answer to the nation's call, local leaders believe.

Check cards that will be distributed at the meetings will provide a list of preparedness items by which every farmer can take inventory of his readiness for the big food offensive.

Leaders point out that the relative responsibility of the Iowa farmer in the nation's food program can be gauged by the fact that farms here are more than twice as productive as the average farm in this country. All-out mobilization of all food producing resources in the state is the object of the current meeting.

Girl's Basketball Game Is Red Cross Benefit

A. I. B. And Pepsi-Cola Teams Play Here Monday

The A. I. B. girls basket ball team of Des Moines, the number one girls basket ball team in the U. S. A., will meet the Pepsi-Cola girls of Des Moines on the Belmond High School floor Monday, March 20.

This game is being sponsored by the Belmond Gridiron Club as a Red Cross Benefit. Tickets are now on sale by members of the club, and will be sold only to the capacity of the gymnasium.

So far this season the two clubs have played seven times with the Pepsi-Cola girls winning four games and the A. I. B. three. In early season games in November the Pepsi-Cola girls defeated their former teammates three straight all by a two point margin. After the A. I. B. girls gained experience by a tour of the South, they returned and defeated the Pepsi-Cola girls three straight. However, in the last clash between the two clubs, the Pepsi-Cola girls were the winners. The A. I. B. girls are anxious to tie their series with the Pepsi-Cola girls and the game Monday night promises to be a thriller.

So far this season the A. I. B. girls have compiled the most impressive winning streak in A. I. B. basket ball history. They have traveled over 5,000 miles and traveled through seventeen states, and have defeated all of the top-notch A. A. U. ball clubs in the country.

Coach R. C. Bechtel started the season with only two veterans, Florence Woodman All-American guard from Stuart and Marjorie Lockwood veteran forward from Spring Hill. With a small but great nucleus of high school players, the A. I. B. have the top-notch team in the U. S. A., and will be seeded as the number one team in the nation in the National A. A. U. Tournament.

In the starting lineup for the A. I. B. will be Marjorie Bolar all state forward from the state championship Steamboat Rock team; Dixie Adams, a fast, shifty, hard driving forward from Gillett Grove, Iowa, destined by all critics who see her to be one of the outstanding women basket ball players in the nation. The other forward is little Anna Tometich a clever long shot artist from Numa, Iowa.

At the guards will be Capt. Florence Woodman All American; Marjorie Lockwood, the only other veteran who has been shifted from a forward to a guard this season; clever and versatile Joy Crowell, former Cromwell, Iowa star.

The A. I. B. girls have three clever guards with plenty of speed and defensive ability. Reserves who will see plenty of action for the A. I. B. will be Pauline Lunn 6 foot former all stater from Sheldahl, Iowa; Lucille Green former all-state guard from the state championship Steamboat Rock team. Two newcomers will make their

Local O. P. A. Makes Drive To Mobilize Price Control Forces

A drive to mobilize price control forces among retailers and consumers in Belmond, Dows, Rowan and Galt has been launched under the direction of the local War Price and Rationing Board, C. C. Benson, Board Chairman, has announced. The program called for more than 12 of Price Panel representatives to conduct a Store Survey of every food store in this area.

..Although the basic purpose of the Store Survey is to obtain better compliance with price control regulations by helping retailers to understand the necessary requirements, Mr. Benson emphasized that the drive will serve to protect storekeepers and their customers from Black Market competition.

"While OPA Washington officials can help us by providing national rules and regulations, they cannot actually make price control effective here in the board area without our help," he declared. He said that a strong "compliance for community protection," program, carried on by the joint efforts of local retailers and consumers, is the only way "to protect the Board area from the invasion of inflationary forces."

The Store Survey provides for a schedule divided into four specific action periods. They are:

1. March 13 - 18. Education of retailers by Price Panel representatives through a survey of all food stores for compliance with price regulations.

2. April 3-8. Second check of stores where violations were discovered to determine whether store keepers have corrected errors.

3. April 10-15. Meetings with Rationing Board Price Panel for all storekeepers found "out of line" during the second survey check.

4. April 17-May 1. Deliberate violators referred to OPA district office for immediate enforcements action.

In the survey, ten "popular market-basket" foods are being checked for selling and ceiling prices, Chairman Benson explained today in pointing out that Board officials, retailers, business men and housewives here have long recognized the need for a store survey.

Outline Plans For Victory Gardens In '44

Urge Full Cooperation Of Every Citizen

Plans for the 1944 Victory Garden program were outlined by representatives of interested organizations at a meeting held Friday, March 10th in Clarion.

It was pointed out that full cooperation of every citizen is needed to make the 1944 Victory garden program as successful as the 1943 program.

Plans outlined at the meeting call for organization of the garden program in towns by the Office of Civilian Defense, with the county extension office supplying garden pamphlets and extension specialists helping with gardening and food preservation problems. The garden pamphlet to be distributed is the new Iowa Garden Guide, Pamphlet 80. Farm gardeners will receive their copies by mail, while town gardeners will receive their copies through the block leader system of distribution.

L. C. Groves, Iowa State College extension specialist, pointed out at the meeting that gardeners making their plans will want to consider the fact that weather during 1944 can be adverse and production reduced considerably below that of 1943, when weather conditions were almost ideal. As a safeguard it would be well to plant enough ground that plenty of food can be raised even if yields are cut by unfavorable growing conditions.

"FOOD FIGHTS FOR VICTORY"

This week Wright county and the whole state of Iowa will start the ball rolling in one of the biggest food production efforts that has yet been made in the observance of a "Food Fights for Victory" program.

Wright county farmers have to consider this vital issue from many angles: crops, machinery, livestock, dairy, poultry, gardens, labor. But 1 of the questions, which is assuming much importance in planning for the year's food production, is reaching the acreage quota of soybeans as set up by the AAA in order that the demands for soybean oil for various uses be satisfied and that soybean meal for both eastern and local producers may be more adequate.

Soybean Quota

The soybean acreage quota for Wright county this year is 51,000 acres which represents an increase of 14 per cent above the acreage planted in that crop last year. Many other counties have been assigned increases of 100% to 300% over last year.

To date approximately 27,000 acres on the 2,200 farms in the county have been signed up for a soybean crop, without considering 300 farms which have not yet had planting intention sheets filled out with the AAA office.

There are only about 300,000 acres of tillable land in the county, and with a corn acreage quota of 151,000, a soybean quota of 51,000 and a reasonable amount set aside for other uses such as oats, hay, and pasture, it looks as if there is hardly enough land to go around. On the other hand, it would take only about five to seven more acres of soybeans on each of the 2,200 farms to reach the county quota.

Is That Too Much To Ask?

Five to seven more acres of soybean crop might mean a little less cash income to the farmers, comparing production per acre and price per bushel between corn and soybeans. However, there are other important essentials to be considered.

The products of soybeans are vitally needed now all over the country as well as for lend lease.

Soybeans have proved their worth as a soil-building leguminous rotation crop with corn, replacing oats, which depletes the soil nitrogen.

New Local Industry

Of more importance than either of these two is the fact that we have a responsibility toward and take pride in the new industry located in the county and near Belmond, an industry which gives great promise of building a better city of Belmond and a better community.

While it is generally understood that the General Mills Soybean Processing Plant will not have difficulty in securing enough soybeans to begin operation when construction work at the plant is finished, Belmond and Wright county certainly want to show their appreciation by producing their fair share of soybeans in this first year's operation of the General Mills plant.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

One of the most pernicious beliefs that has come out of this war is the idea that since we have been able to achieve full employment and high wages producing armaments, there is no excuse for not achieving the same goals in peacetime by producing a flood of automobiles, refrigerators, and luxury gadgets ad infinitum.

When asked the question, Why does it always seem so easy to find money to prosecute a war, and so hard to find it to win the peace? Dr. Harley L. Lutz, Professor of Public Finance, Princeton University, replied: "The peace economy must remain solvent. When we get into a war, we give the government complete dictatorial powers over everybody. It can conscript labor; it can force men to work; it can set wages, it can confiscate income and property; it can suspend all rights; The so-called war prosperity rests on this foundation of actual, although not nominal slavery."

We have consented to these things because the war must be won at any price. But tax spending for the mere sake of spending, as was done during the pump priming days, must end. Normal exenses of government must be cut to the bone and people must be taught to save. Either that, or we are on the road to destruction though we win the war.—Belle Plaine Union.

While working in printing offices during his youth the editor of this paper was a member of a printer's union. But the officers did not run that union. The union members told the officers what they wanted and an officer who went against his orders did not remain in office long.—Humboldt Independent.

It is safer to trust a political candidate who can change his mind and accept something new than a candidate who is too set in his thinking and who blindfolds himself against progress.—Marshalltown Times-Republican.

What would men look like were it not for the fair sex? Even on the fighting front, soldiers start shaving and cleaning up, when the army nurses arrive. The women of the world help keep the opposite sex clean. And the more womanly and refined they are, the more respectable in every way men become. Some men will not admit it, but without women they would soon degenerate into pitiful monstrosities.—Albert Lea Tribune.

Prittle... Prattle....

Without a doubt, in my mind, this year's Bronco basketball team had championship possibilities. Three more points added to their score in the final game played against Eagle Grove in the sectional finals would have placed them in the district at Webster City and according to the outcome of that playoff they would have gone on to the sub-state.

P—P

Madrid beat Boone, Boone has a win recorded in the books over Webster City while Eagle Grove defeated the Lynx twice this year and did the same thing again in the district finals last Saturday night, after winning from Madrid the night before. So the Broncos had an equal chance with Eagle Grove of winning that tourney.

P—P

Now look what happened at Mason City's district in which Hampton won the championship in last Saturday's class A game against Forest City 60-43. The Broncos couldn't overcome the Forest City jinx in either of the two games played this year, yet they defeated Hampton 36-27 in the last game played during the season just closed. So on the basis of that record the Broncos could have taken the trophy at Mason City.

Anyway it will be interesting to follow the teams from Eagle Grove and Hampton on their way through the sub-state tournaments and it is possible they will each play at a different site depending on the dividing line for the NE and NW sub-states.

P—P

Most of the male sex think nothing of matching pennies, but what will they think about matching the new ration tokens?

P—P

Now if I could say that I had never held a job for more than 30 days, I could definitely predict that the war will end in 30 days after my induction.

P—P

They are telling the story of a local farmer who imagine it, told his hired man that he was fired. The hired man replied, "To —— with you, I'll tell you when I want to quit."

P—P

The recent publication of a news item in the Independent once more brought to its publishers the problem of what to put in the paper and what to leave out.

It is a problem that besets every weekly newspaper publisher, yet there is only one way to solve it. Our thoughts on the subject were well expressed by Ward Barnes in his "Human Interest" column recently.

P—P

"The Eagle's policy relative to running court news is still the same. If you want to stay out of undesirable print, do not do something which rates a spot in the court news column. You like to read it when it is the other guy. Anyway, let us repeat: When your escapade gets on the court docket over at Clarion, we simply print it. Yes we know you have parents, a wife or a sister, or maybe a grandmother who will be hurt more than you by the undesirable publicity.

P—P

"We can fix it up for all time this way. YOU do the worrying BEFORE you get in trouble. Then you will not need to ask us to do your worrying after it is too late.

P—P

"After you have gone and done it, it is no use to worry about you and yours. We worry then about somebody else doing the same thing. We print the news because IT IS NEWS. And we hope that somebody reading the play your misfortune gets, will prevent him (or her) getting into the same kind of trouble.

P—P

"No this will not do us any good, printing the above. But we do mean it and if you get on the court docket, get indicted, thrown in the county jail, or what have you, in she goes."

Planting inferior seed in 1944 will be just as disastrous as to supply our fighters with defective ammunition. Only the best of adapted, high yielding varieties, properly tested for germination, cleaned and treated will be good ehough for 1944. We must eliminate guesswork in this battle for food.

Some day—may it come soon!—the transition from war to peace will be accomplished. For that day, too, the railroads are preparing.

On the ROCK ISLAND we are pledged to carry on through the war, vigorously and resolutely...to provide even finer transportation in the post-war rehabilitation days. Trains will be better...schedules faster...there will be a degree of travel comfort never before experienced.

Jensen-Lieuwen Say Vows At Sutherland, Iowa

MRS. LELAND LIEUWEN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Jensen was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday morning, March 9, 1944, when Miss Edith M. Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jensen of Sutherland, became the bride of Leland A. Lieuwen, Seaman second class of the U. S. Navy of Farragut, Idaho, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen of Belmond, Iowa. The double ring service was solemnized at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Alfred Jensen of Des Moines, president of the Danish Lutheran churches of America an uncle of the bride. The ceremony was performed before the fireplace which was decorated in white and green, the bridal colors. The mantel was centered with large white calla-lilies and snap dragons which were banked with ivy and bouquets of spring flowers were arranged throughout the room.

The bride was lovely in a lake blue dressmaker suit with navy blue accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias and baby calla lilies. As she descended the stairs she was met by her father who gave her in marriage. She was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. M. Jensen, as matron of honor, who was dressed in a two-tone blue and brown suit with brown accessories and wore a corsage of yellow jonquils. The groom wore the Navy dress blues and his attendant, Glenn Baker Jr. of Belmond wore a brown suit. Mrs C. B. Jensen, mother of the bride, Mrs. A. C Lieuwen and Mrs. John Lieuwen, mother and grandmother of the bridegroom, wore corsages of roses and sweet peas.

Nuptial music included a prelude of flute solos by Miss Leona Witzenburg of Pella, college friend of the bride; two vocal solos "In My Garden" and "If I Could Tell You" by the bride's sister, Maryellen Jensen, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Phil Jordan another sister of the bride. Mrs. Jordan also played Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus for the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional. Following the Lord's Prayer by Rev. Jensen, Miss Maryellen Jensen sang "A Wedding Prayer" composed by the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony a three course wedding dinner and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's colors of green and white were carried out in appointments and menu, at one long and one small table. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, the latter in the Navy uniform, centered the bridal couple's table. Green tapers in crystal holders and vases of flowers flanked the centerpiece. Place cards and nut cups were in keeping with the color scheme. The Misses Leona Witzenburg, Eleanor Lake of Ames and Mildred Pfeiffer were waitresses. They wore white aprons and white carnations. Mrs. [illegible] assisted by Mrs. [illegible] [illegible].

Covers were laid for twenty-eight, the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jensen, Maryellen and James Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen, Mrs. John Lieuwen, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Baker Jr., of Belmond, Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Jensen of Des Moines, Mrs. F. O Griffen of Britt, Mrs. H. M. Jensen, Marilyn, Sally and Janet, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Jordon. Karen, Mary Catherine and Jean Mrs. Katie Schoening, Mrs. Kittie Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jensen.

The couple left Thursday afternoon for a brief wedding trip before the groom reports back for duty at Farragut on March 17. The bride will make her home with the bridegroom's parents at Belmond.

Mrs. Lieuwen is a graduate of the Sutherland high school. She graduated from the Lawrence Conservatory of Music at Appelton, Wis., in 1942 where she was a member of the Kappa Delta Sorority and Sigma Alpha Iota. She has since been music supervisor at Belmond which position she recently resigned.

The bridegroom graduated from the Belmond high school and attended the Iowa State College at Ames before enlisting in the U. S. Navy.

Machines Fight For Victory
TUNE UP FOR FOOD PRODUCTION
PREPAREDNESS IS THE KEY
Every truck and farm implement is now a war machine. They must all be ready for the big 1944 Food Front offensive.
It is just as important for us to get these implements in readiness for the big push this spring as it is for the gunner of a flying Fortress to make sure his turret can be swung into instant action.
Time is short to make repairs and replacements. Tune up first the machines you will need first. Overhaul tractors. Check disk, seeding machines and corn planter next, the cultivator, haying and harvesting machines come next.
Order repairs early. Install them as weather permits. Preparedness is the key to all-out food for war production.

Livestock Losses and Feed Losses Help Hitler!
Demand for meat, milk and eggs in 1944 will be the greatest in the war period. Add 3 pounds Dr. Hess Panimin to 100 pounds of feed.
Preventable livestock losses cost Wright county farmers $500,000 a year. Reducing the losses from disease and parasites is more important than ever in 1944. Use Dr. Hess Dip and Disinfectant.
1 To reduce losses from cattle grubs, sprinkle backs of grubby cattle with Rotenone dust and rub in thoroughly with hand. Repeat in 30 days if necessary. Beef catttle will put on 7 pounds more weight in the following 30 days with the same amount of feed. Dairy cows will produce 10 to 20 per cent more milk.
2 For a thorough worming of sheep use PTZ, the phenothiazine remedy of Dr. Hess and Clark. We can supply PTZ in either pellets or powder. Worm pigs with PTZ powder.
3 Carbolineum will keep mites out of your poultry house for one year. For dusting use Lee's or Hess' louse powder or Sodium Fluoride.
RAT CONTROL WEEK
Governor Hickenlooper proclaimed the week of Mar. 12 to 18 as Rat Control Week.
It is reliably reported that rats destroy and consume food and feed valued at 10 million dollars annually.
It is estimated that each rat on a farmer's place costs $2.00 a year in feed and damage losses.
Kill Those Rats Now Before They Get Your Baby Chicks
We carry most of the leading Rat killers, poisonous and non-poisonous.

Oats Iowa farmers can increase oat yields 13 bushels per acre by planting Tama, Boone, Marion and Control varieties.

Soybeans Uncle am needs soybeans. Make every hour of labor count by planting adapted varieties. Space rows closer together. Apply finely ground limestone to acid soils. Plant before May 20. Inoculate seed.

Corn Plant best yielding varieties. Check germination test. Use treated seed. Plant 4 kernels on rich soil. Fight the weeds early. Weeds are fifth columnists this year.

Once an abdominal wound was almost sure "curtains" for a soldier. But butter, your table butter, is working a battlefield miracle. Mixed with eggs, alcohol, sugar, it is poured into the open wound —and saves many a life.

This is one of the many special uses for butter. The big reasons why it must be rationed are: 1. More people at home can afford butter than ever before. 2. Our armed forces and fighting allies need this highly nourishing food . . . as they need many other foods.

There's enough in American abundance for all if you just use your head —and listen to your heart.

Another place entered was looted of 55c in change and the concern's invoices and business papers were scattered on the floor. The other business place reported 15 or 20 pennies taken.

IOWA LEADS IN THE Battle for Food
THREE BIG YEARS 1941-1942-1943
1944 ...WILL WE COME THROUGH?

Iowa must produce 10% of the nation's food in 1944. Our share of the nation's 4th War Bond quota was 1¼%. Therefore our responsibility in producing the nation's food is eight times as great as in financing the war. Both are important, but we must not fail on the Iowa food front.

Punctuality

This is another important heading under which many things are listed. Especially in wartime punctuality should be observed. We should be punctual at our work; we should make every minute count, and we should have something to show for our work when we get through. This last item is very important. Now in wartime we should make it a point to do away with wasting time. Time is precious and every moment should be utilized doing something worth while. As the old saying goes "Opportunity knocks but once." It we are not punctual about making the most of our opportunities, they will pass us by. You hear many people say "Oh, if I had only done that while I had the chance." Punctuality could be applied in a case like that. People often think they have all the time in the world in which to do a thing—then before they know it the opportunity has passed. We should get things done while we have the chance. 'Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today" is another good adage with much meaning. What would be a practical motto for everyone.

Too often the tendency is to be prompt in things which you enjoy doing, but in the things which are difficult, promptness is not quite as important. Usually the things which are the hardest to do are the most worthwhile

Features of the Week

Hello, everyone! It's that certain time for our "Features" again. This week we have two questions in the Question Box.

The first question is "Which branch of the service of the United Armed Forces would you join, Why?"

Lee Robbins: "I would like to join the U. S. Air Corps if I could, because I like "going up in the air."

The second question is "Which is more interesting in your opinion, country life or town life? Why?"

Norma Robbins: "Country life Although I do not live in the country, I think it is more interesting because of the many things "going on" in and about its life."

Rosie Lauden: "Well, seeing that I live in the country I naturally think that country life is more interesting because I have never lived in town; but I believe country life could be made still more interesting (How about it, country people?")

Mrs. Ralph Larson is spending two weeks with relatives in Forest City.

E .C. Kienenberger went to Mason City Monday to bring his son in law Francis Finn to the Kienenberger home. He has been ill with pneumonia for seven weeks but is now recovering.

ENGLISH LITERATURE

Pupil. Mares Eat Oats (Marsey Doats!)

Oh my! The English Lit. class has taken a turn for sorrow With William Wordsworth in our lives, we just can hardly keep a straight face. We do admit, tho', that he knows his stuff.

We're leaning how to drive in science class. That is, we are learning about the parts of the car, like the gears, carburetor and the clutch.

We are learning to type business letters in typing and find it lots of fun along with lots of headaches. Here's hoping that we study the other kind of letter writing soon. (You know the kind I mean.)

Ye Olde Melting Pot
EARLY AMERICA SHOWED US HOW

HELP YOUR COMMUNITY DRIVES
..and You Help America

In Colonial days when a family faced misfortune, kindly neighbors set up a melting pot before the door. The community was quick to contribute, because lean and perilous years taught our forefathers that only by helping one another could all survive and earn security in a land of growing opportunities.

Today, when this hard-won security is in jeopardy, our country and many of its citizens need a helping hand. The Red Cross, the War Chest, the scrap and salvage drives and other calls on each community are realistic reminders of the pioneer spirit that bound our nation together . . . that gave us the highest standard of living the world has ever known. When we help our neighbors we help our country.

In every community, Budweiser is known as the Perfect Host to a host of friends. To serve your neighbors beer is simple hospitality, but to serve them Budweiser is a gracious compliment . . . and, it makes your simple wartime meals taste better.

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum • Munitions • Medicines B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper Soap and textiles—to name a few.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Sorry Judge, my shipment of suspenders still hasn't come in. Some articles are mighty scarce these days. I don't get anywhere near as much as I could sell."

"With the war going on, Frank, we've got to expect those things. It's true of luxuries just as it is of necessities. Take whiskey, for example. There's a real shortage in that. It's to be expected when you realize there hasn't been a drop of it distilled in this country since way back in October, 1942.

"The only thing distillers have been making during that time is war-alcohol for the Government. So, I wasn't surprised a bit to read how bootlegging and black markets have sprung up around the country as a result of the dwindling supply. Our 13 years of prohibition proved that if fo'' n't get legal whiskey, they'll get illicit . Sure hope the shortage doesn't la g. I'd hate to see this country tu o the bootleggers again."

Editorial Comment

It's here, students The last quarter of this school year. How does that make you feel, glad or sad?

Most of you are probably thankful that the time flies so fast but those of you who aren't coming back will not be in such high spirits when enrollment time rolls around next fall. It is hoped that this year's freshmen sophomores and juniors will return with new vigor.

Although the last lap has begun it is not too late to improve your grades for the year. Make the most of these remaining nine weeks.

Belmond School One Of 4 County X-Ray Centers

Cost To Be Defrayed By Wright County T. B. Association

The student body of Belmond High School will have the opportunity to take part in a countywide tuberculosis case finding program Thursday, March 23. In this program every student as well as members of the faculty will have miniature chest x-rays taken by experts from the State Department of Health.

Belmond is one of four centers in the county where this work is to be done. The other places are Clarion, Eagle Grove and Dows.

In case any suspicion of the disease is detected a follow-up full size x-ray will be taken. All expense for both miniature x-rays and full size x-ray will be defrayed by the Wright County Tuberculosis Association from funds raised thru the sale of Christmas seals. There will be no cost to the pupils.

A moving picture showing the importance of this x-ray program was presented to the high school Monday of this week. At the same time Miss Soehren Wright county nurse, gave a short talk urging all students to participate.

Each student in high school will be given a permit card to be signed by the parents and without this signed card no student will be x-rayed.

The purpose of this program is to detect any cases of either childhood type or active type of tuberculosis so that preventive measures may be taken before the case becomes serious.

3 Groups-7 Soloists Of Music Dep't In Contest

Many Health Defects Found By Nurse

Hope to Reach 100% Mark In Vaccination

Over 25 per cent in the first six grades have been found that have not been immunized for diphtheria and small pox. This is an exceedingly high percentage for this day and age.

The school nurse, Mrs. Peterson, hopes to have, during her stay, this school reach the 100 per cent mark for vaccination. The health cards of each pupil, are also being brought up to date. Many pupils have been found to need glasses, tonsils removed, and dental attention. Also several children in the grades are underweight. The school wishes to have a follow up program so that these needs can be corrected.

An effort is being made to give immunization by the State Health Department and conducted by local doctors. At his time the approval of the State Department for such a plan has not been received.

All these music groups and soloists are to be presented in the contest under the direction of the music instructor, Miss Schroeder.

first appearance with the A. I. B. girls at Belmond, Lois Perisho, who just finished the season with Zearing High School and Mary Johnson, an all state girl from the strong Seymour High school team. Lois Perisho, a fast breaking, hard driving girl, can play either guard or forward. Mary Johnson, one of the best shots in the girls basket also named on the all state team last year and no doubt should be named on the all state team again this season, should develop to be one of the leading scorers for the A. I. B. in the National A. A. U. Tournament.

The Pepsi-Cola girls, composed of last year's A. I. B. team who were runners-up for the national championship last season, have compiled a very impressive record this season. So far, the only games they have lost have been to the A. I. B. girls.

The starting lineup for the Pepsi-Cola girls is composed of Jeanette Haas, twice All-American forward from Rhodes, Iowa, one of the best long shots in girls basket ball; Phyllis Zinn, national free-throw champion from Sulphur Springs, Iowa; and Mary Link All-American forward from Farrar, Iowa. Miss Link is one of the cleverest pivot post players in A. A. U. basket ball. These girls hold down the forward position.

At the starting guards will be Betty Bruns, fast, hard driving guard from Winterset, Iowa; Eleanor Lira, twice all stater from Numa, Iowa, who played two year regular guard for the A. I. B.; and Thelma Jolliffee, all stater from Haveloc, Iowa, who was on the A. I. B. squad last season. Reserves for the Pepsi-Cola who will see plenty of action are Eva Tometich, all stater from Numa, Iowa, who has been hampered all season by a bad knee; Margie Arends former all state forward from Kamrar, Iowa, who plays either guard or forward; Maxine Ashba, also mentioned on one of the all state teams with Maxwell, Iowa, two years ago; and Elizabeth Brinkema twice all state from Kamrar, Iowa.

Both teams use a slow breaking offense built around their star pivot post players. The game will be played under the A. A. U. rules which is a much faster game and resembles the boys rules with the exception that there are six players instead of five.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lieuwen, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Lieuwen and Mrs. John Lieuwen were Sunday dinner guests at the C. R. Powers home in Kanawha.

Breeder Mash Pays
To a very large degree the mash you feed to your hens determines the quality and livability of the chicks you get from your hatching eggs. The developing chick must depend entirely on the food stored in the egg for the proteins, vitamins and minerals it needs to make it a strong, vigorous chick.
BIG GAIN SPECIAL BREEDER EGG MASH is made according to the tested recommendations of the best poultry nutritionists in the business. It is especially designed to pack enough of the required proteins, vitamins and minerals into the developing chick to make it healthy and lively and bring it through the critical "baby chick" days without setbacks.
Assure yourself of quality chicks and profitable chickens. Ask your dealer for Big Gain Special Breeder Egg Mash.

RED CROSS SENDS NEWS OF ANN GOPLERUD

NAPLES — Shortly after Ann Goplerud, American Red Cross staff assistant arrived in Italy, she became a feature attraction as vocalist of "The Griffins," a GI orchestra that has been playing throughout North Africa, Sicily and Italy for the past year.

Bernard S. Cogan of 27 West 44th St., New York, in charge of the Red Cross theatre in Naples, discovered that Ann could sing and how! 'The Griffins" were appearing at his theatre and she 'tried out" with the orchestra. Although they had been well received before, the orchestra is now one of the greatest attractions on the theatre's schedule due to Anne's beauty as well as her talent.

Ann, who lives at 431 Walnut Street, Osage, Iowa, attended Grinnell College, completing her work there in 1939. She taught public school music in Belmond and Ames, Iowa, before joining the Red Cross as a staff assistant overseas.

Clark McNeal, chairman of the War Fund Campaign said today, "I wish to thank everyone who helped—committees, workers and all those who contributed—to put the Belmond Chapter over the top." Mr. McNeal indicated that there was no doubt some who, because they were not home or had moved to a new location, had missed a personal call by one of the many Red Cross workers. Such persons are asked to leave their contributions with Mr. McNeal or at the First State Bank.

The contributions in the War Fund Drive were collected from various divisions of the Belmond chapter territory as follows:

Plans were made to move into the new Legion home which was recently purchased. After the meeting lunch was served by the committee.

To Help Homemakers Analyze Garments For Makeover Possibilities

In attics or other storage places —even pushed back in the clothes closet—most families will find garments no longer used by members of the family, Miss Elizabeth Deihl, county extension home economist, will help Wright County homemakers analyze such garments for makeover or remodeling possibilities within the next few weeks. Belmond, Pleasant and Norway township homemakers will meet in Belmond on Wednesday, March 29.

TRAIN DERAILED AT ROWAN

Final Report Made On Iowa War Chest

Contributed More Than $1.10 Per Capita

More than $1.10 per capita was contributed in Iowa to raise $2,525,244 for the USO and 16 other war-related appeals included in the National War Fund, it was announced this week by E. F. Bisbey, chairman of the Wright County War Chest. The announcement was made following an executive committee meeting of Iowa War Chest at Des Moines Thursday at which Carl Weeks, Des Moines, president of the state Chest, stated that Iowans contributed 118.38 per cent of the state's assigned quota of $2,127,500.

Only two states exceeded Iowa's percentage of quota raised, it was stated, they being Oregon and North Dakota.

Iowa, also, was the only state in the union that campaigned on a basis of allowing all county War Chests to retain in their own treasuries all overages subscribed. Chairman Bisbey states. As a result more than $350,000 is now to the credit of the various Iowa counties against the 1944 quota of these counties and the state as a whole, he stated.

Stress Need Of Soybeans At Food Alert Meetings

Many Other Production Problems Discussed

A hugh soybean production definitely is needed if our war plans are to be met, was the opinion of specialists speaking at Food Alert meetings being held in Wright County.

Ed. Dyas, crop specialist, speaking at Belmond and Eagle Grove, stated that three million tons of an eleven million ton needed supply of protein feed would have to come from soybeans. 400 thousand tons of soybean flour would be used for human consumption. Hugh supplies of oil are needed for both human and industrial consumption.

H. B. Vanderlip, County AAA chairman, reported that total farm sign-ups indicate that Wright County will have about 36,000 acres of soybeans this year compared to 40,000 acres in 1943 and a 1944 goal of 51,000 acres, if present plans remain unchanged. Dyas urged farmers to plant approved varieties of innoculated soybeans for larger yields. He also recommended narrower spacing between rows if tillage and harvesting equipment would allow it.

Dr. C. L. Lush, Research Professor of Animal Breeding at Iowa State College, reported on new experimental work in swine breeding that is being conducted that may have far reaching effect on future hog production for the Iowa farmer.

With the army and lend-lease already contracting for 50 per cent more processed fruits and vegetables, the need for victory gardens will be greater than ever. Both town and country people were urged not to relax their gardening efforts

Labor shortage will be more acute this year than last. Some increased acreage of hybrid seed corn production will make the problem of finding detasselers more difficult. Many of the workers available for detasseling last year have accepted full time work in other fields.

Reports from soybean processing plants showed that the plant at Eagle Grove is now processing beans and the Belmond plant is expected to be ready for operation shortly after the middle of the year.

Harold Simerson, manager of the Hemp Plant at Eagle Grove reported that fewer farmers will grow hemp but the acreage per farm will be larger. A few farmers will have 100 acres or more. About 800 acres are needed to complete their acreage for 1944.

Food Alert meetings to be held in this vicinity this week include:

Dedicate Fundamental Baptist Church

Add Many Improvements In New Location

Dedication services for the Fundamental Baptist Church will be held at the church next Sunday at 3:00 p. m. and 7:45 p. m. with the Reverend A. D. Mohr, pastor of the Grandview Park Baptist church in Des Moines as guest speaker.

There will also be meetings at 7:45 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, March 27 to 29. The Sunday services will include guest ministers and friends. Special music and singing will be provided by junior and senior chorus choirs, vocal quartette, duets and solos. All are welcome.

Improvements on the church home were commenced in July, 1943, at which time the church was moved from its original location on highway No. 69 to the corner of Main street and Fifth Avenue S. E.

The building was originally approximately 45 by 60 feet, constructed of wood with a semi-circular roof. In February 1943, the interior was completely covered with nu-wood.

In its new location many improvements have been added, including a full basement, 45 by 80 feet, which is equipped for a kitchen, furnace room and main basement auditorium used by the Sunday School and also for social and recreational purposes; a pastor's study and a nursery room on either side of entrance hall on the front of the building; complete plumbing facilities in the basement directly underneath the two new rooms.

The grounds are yet to be finished, with landscaping to be completed during the spring. A neon electric sign will also be added to the front of the building.

A large portion of the work connected with the remodeling and improving was done by members and friends of the church

WE SHOULD VOTE!

All too frequently we hear unjust criticism about decisions of our officials in public office, while many of us do not have the right to criticize.

Last week there was a school election and from the whole town of Belmond only 27 votes were cast.

Our first interest in the conduct of affairs by organizations or political groups should come by supporting candidates for office with our votes. If we do not have enough interest to do that, then we certainly do not have the right to offer criticism later on.

Next week there is another election in Belmond, and although only one ticket has been announced which means there is likely to be little if any competition, it will give our candidates for the various city offices a feeling of confidence if the whole town supports them with a generous vote.

GREATER WAR EFFECTS IN 1944

We are going to feel the effects of the war in 1944 a great deal more than has yet been the case.

Recent draft quotas indicate that a great many more men—some of them who seemed to us essential on the home front—will be entering the armed forces. So that the folks left in our little community will have to buckle down still harder in order to get the necessary civilian work done.

Many of us have thought it was difficult to get along on three gallons of gas per week on A coupons, but announcement was made last week that A rations would be cut to two gallons on the 22nd of March.

Food rationing last year kept many houswives on their toes in planning appetizing meals. This year with even more food needed for lend-lease and our increased armed forces, it looks as if the civilian supply might have to be stretched to the limit.

LADIES' PURSES LUXURIES?

We saw an ad the other day urging ladies to buy their new spring purses before April 1st, the date when luxury taxes are to be increased to 20 per cent.

We can't understand why anyone should put a woman's purse in the luxury class. T'was a time, to be sure, when the unusually large size of women's purses attracted the attention and much witty, if not sarcastic, comment of style-consienceless men.

But nowadays ladies' purses—and big ones—are what we consider a real necessity, a place to carry the essential daily or weekly needs of the average woman when she is away from home: ration books, key case, billfold or change purse, driver's license, note book, address book, powder compact, rouge, lipstick, comb, mirror, nailfile, cleansing tissue, handkerchief, aspirin tablets, a small bottle of hand lotion, cigarettes and matches if she smokes.

Any woman can tell you that we have not exaggerated in mentioning the above list of articles as necessary contents of a lady's purse.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

New York City is plowing new ground with its special classes for "delinquent parents" announced last week. This delves at the problem of badly behaved cihldren nearer its roots than most methods do.

A woman widely known for her successful work with "problem" children declared recently that there were no delinquent children, but only delinquent parents. Her view coincides with that of nearly all workers in this field. But parents are usually eager to learn.

The Chinese have always held parents responsible for the misbehavior of children. Chinese - American children appearing in New York city courts average only two in ten years.

The new program which the New York 18th precinct committee for the physical and moral welfare of children has inaugurated is surely built on a sound basis. If the courts cooperate by ordering parents of delinquent children to attend, the experiment may be emulated elsewhere.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Reporter has been rather disgusted with statements coming out of Washington recently giving the civilian population a crack because of over optimism. It seems that we had no right to hope that the war would be over in Europe this year.

No! The only thing that could have given us that idea was a statement to that effect from the commander of the forces that will make the cross channel invasion, General Eisenhauer.

Washington is rapidly losing the confidence of the people for the asinine way it is handling so many of our affairs.

Get away from Washington and you find the average citizen giving the war effort splendid backing. The most recent proof of that statement is the way people bought bonds in the 4th War Loan Campaign. Now just wait and see how we do in the Red Cross War Fund subscription. It is a safe prediction every citizen will do his part and the 200 million dollars asked for will be over-subscribed. — Rock Rapids Reporter.

It's a little difficult to get an all-around viewpoint on the war. The holding of our advance in Italy is disquieting when compared with Russian sweeps. But perhaps the Russian front was drained to hold us in Italy. At first blush we look good in the Pacific, yet we are a long way from vital Jap bases and from a prime objective—destruction of the Jap fleet. And the building of a huge army in England is good but not as yet productive of anything more than a threat. Time works yet on the side of the Allies. The air bombardment destroys the potential ability of German armies to resist invasion, but it is a time consuming process. We can afford to wait—for a premature invasion would be expensive in blood.—Kossuth County Advance.

—V—

No wonder the Congress gasped at the suggested federal budget for the next fiscal year—one hundred billion dollars for one year's costs. Pencil pushers have been trying to work out a picture of what that sum means. Maybe this will do it: dig up a million dollars a day, every day, Sundays, holidays and all, year after year for just ten days less than 274 years, and if you have lasted that long, you will have dug up that hundred billion.

We must win the war, but it is not disloyal to share the growing feeling that federal non-war spending must be cut to the bone, commencing now.—The Dakota Farmer.

Here's a citation for one patriotic Martin county girl. She was engaved to the young man she thought she loved. The fellow got himself into an occupation that he hopes will keep him out of the army. "Nothing doing" says the young lady. "I'll marry a soldier, never a slacker."—Fairmont Sentinel.

C. C. Christie doesn't know it but the $1 he lost to Hoyt Klemme on the Goldfield-Klemme game during the sectional basketball tournament has changed hands for the same reason several times. Klemme paid the buck to yours truly on the Belmond-Eagle Grove game and I turned it over to Charles Studebaker on the Eagle Grove-Hornick game. Studebaker held it momentarily and gave it back when Hampton beat West Waterloo. With the state finals coming up this week that dollar can go most anywhere.

The cartoon seen recently picturing two doughboys and a native girl in North Africa with the gag line "Does she look all right to you or have we been here too long" reminds us of that story told by a local fisherman about the old toothless Indian squaw. (Censored).

Editor and Publisher: An Abilene, Kansas, newspaper of 1878 has inspired a state employe with an idea for selling War Bonds:

The early Kansas daily clippings follows:

"Hug socials are now the rage. It costs 1 cent to hug anyone between 15 and 20. 25 cents from 20 to 30, $1 to hug another man's wife, bachelor girls two for a nickel ,and woman lecturers free with a chromo thrown in."

Many times the publishers have been asked why the names of those who go to Des Moines for their pre-induction physical haven't been published. Only last week [illegible] received a directive from the state selective service board requesting that names not be published principally because of the embarrassment that might be caused to those who didn't pass.

It has been our experience that those who didn't pass are the first to wish for some "tangible" evidence that such was the case. These young fellows are seen regularly and it is natural for people to wonder why they are not in service or getting ready to go and criticism is soon voiced. It [illegible] me that if "embarrassment" is [illegible] only reason, the state system [illegible] do these men a great favor by [illegible]lowing all names of those who are called for pre-induction physicals to be published.

AMERICANS LIKE GAMES

Germans like goose stepping—with somebody to give orders—soldiers all lined up like toys, with somebody to do the thinking.

In America, we like to see one team of factory owners and factory workers playing an honest competitive game against another team of owners and workers—to see which can turn out the best product for us at the lowest price.

Of course we want a referee to see that there is no tripping, spiking, or slugging—just clean, healthy, competitive play.

Sometimes, 'tis true, the referee gets obnoxious and tries to hog the limelight or even to throw the game to one team. Then's when we start throwing pop bottles!

"Mister, I've been working my heart out for you for a long time now. I haven't grumbled or kicked because I come from a good family where our motto is HARD WORK AND LONG SERVICE.

"That doesn't mean we have the miracle of everlasting life. I'm just a combination of honest material and honest workmanship but even that has its limits. I've gone along on all the tough jobs and never quit . . . but now I'm asking you to give me a break, for your own sake as well as mine.

"Before we go into the next tough job take me down to the John Deere Service Shop for a going over. There are a few sore spots, some loose joints that hamper me, and I think my wind would be better if my valves and ignition had a check-up. Those service men down there are old friends of mine, they know me and what I need. How about it? Or do I have to quit against my will?"

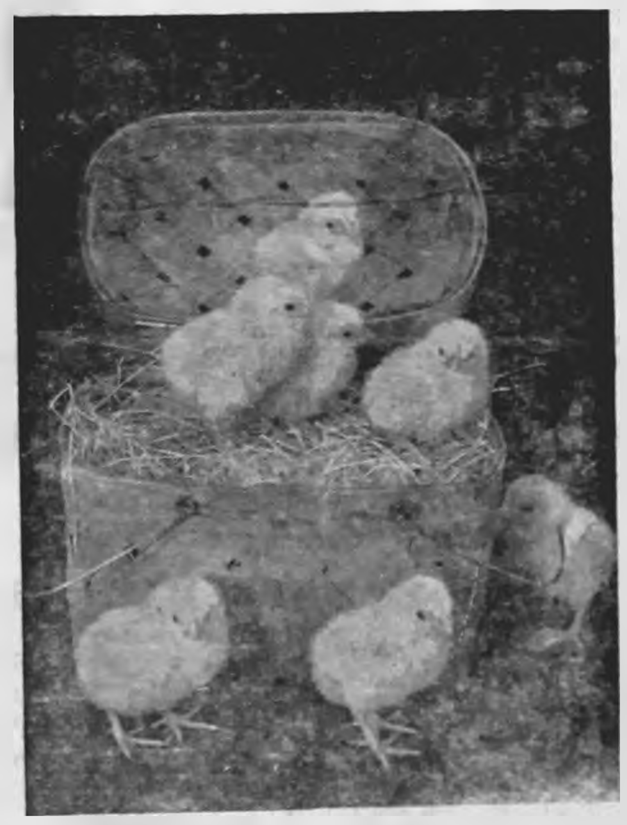
Tips that mean $ $ In Egg Production



Provide 100 Hens With

60 to 75 ft. of roost space. 18 nests.
Two 8-ft. mash and grain troughs. Two 5-gal. fountains.
Darken nests. Change litter. Use ground corn cobs.

Feed Uniform Ration

Keep a month's supply of feed ahead, storing a week's supply in or near the hen house.

Keep All Pullet Flock

Give hens free choice 26% protein feed, whole oats, shelled corn, minerals and water. The hen is a factory. Keep it well supplied with egg building feeds.

JAKOB SWENSON

Jakob Swenson, born July 11, 1882, at [illegible], near Stavanger, Norway, was the next to the eldest of a family of six children, born to the late Mr. and Mrs. Zakariah Swenson of this city. While residing there he received his baptismal rites.

In the spring of 1887 he and his parents and his elder brother, Swen emigrated to America. The first Swenson settlement was made in LaSalle County, Ill., where his father engaged in farming.

He resided there until the spring of 1896 when he and his family moved west to Hancock county, Goodell, Iowa. In this same year he was confirmed at the St. Olaf church by the Rev. H. C. Holm.

Here, as a young man, he assisted his brother Swen, in farming, for a number of years. Later on he tired of farming and turned to carpentry work.

In January 1933 he moved to Belmond and helped operate the Swenson Tire and Battery Station in connection with his youngest brother Sidney Swenson, of this same city.

He worked here until the condition of his health forced him to leave his business in the late summer of 1943. After a lingering illness he succumbed to his death at the age of 61 years, 7 months and 25 days on Tuesday afternoon, March 7, 1944, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Rise where he had made his residence for the past four years.

Always calm, patient, and steadfast, he possessed a perseverance and faith that was most enduring, and won him a multitude of friends.

Surviving members of the immediate family are: Swen, Belmond, Iowa; Mrs. Carrie Ohme, Leland, Illinois; Mrs. Josephine Clark, Chicago, Illinois, Alfred, Muskogee, Oklahoma and Sidney also of Belmond, Iowa. He leaves 15 nieces and nephews, 6 great nieces and nephews and numerous other relatives. His father and mother preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Trinity Lutheran Church with the Rev. O. M Severseike officiating. Music was furnished by a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. A. C. Hanson, soprano; Mrs. Wilmer Hauge, alto; Christ Rise, tenor and Wilmer Hauge, bass. The interment took place at the Belmond cemetery.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"

"In 'The Stars and Stripes'...the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"

"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"

"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control.'"

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

The Board of Supervisors of Wright County met in adjourned session at the courthouse in Clarion with the following members present:

T. J. Henry, Chairman; H. C. Pinkham, Wm. Fisher, Chas. Helden, and A. W. Smith, with the County Auditor in attendance.

Whereas, there is now pending before the Congress of the United States a bill, H. R. 2126 (S-971), which would authorize funds for postwar highway construction, a portion of which funds would be available for projects located on the Secondary Road System, and

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors of Wright County desires to secure for said county any such funds that might be available to said county, and

Now therefore be it resolved: That the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, on this 10th day of March 1944, recommends that the following projects be considered by the State Highway Commission and approved subject to the requirements of the Federal legislation if and as enacted and the rules and regulations governing same:

UNITY

(by Mildred Newgard)

Nowadays when we hear the word, "unity", we associate it with the war, or the unity of nations. That is probably the most pressing need of the present day—complete unity of the Allied nations.

What goes to make up the unity of nations? The unity of the people, of the nation, of course. For nations to be unified, the people must be unified in one general cause.

Unity must be very strong, not to be vulnerable. Many things arise which tend to break up unity. Concerning the war effort in the United States, the fifth column has been for the purpose of destroying unity. The inside saboteurs have done their best to plant distrust in the minds of the American people. Their best has not been good enough, however, for they have not succeeded.

The murderous blow at Pearl Harbor was to disrupt our unity, and to cause extensive confusion in which mistakes would be made by us and to the advantage of Japan. That didn't work either.

Petty grievances among individuals should not be tolerated. This is an all out war and our own private wars should be disbanded. We can not work together to fight a common enemy when we are fighting among ourselves.

7th and 8th Grade News

Friday we had an old fashioned spell down to see who would go to the spelling bee. We found that Eu'alia Boller will represent our school. Close in the competition were Carol Van Buskirk, Lucille Wilson, and Eugene Waage.

In arithmetic the eighth graders are studying prisms and the seventh grade is studying interest.

"Tip"

Freshmen and Sophomore News

In American history we are studying about the growth of the west.

In English we are studying the dictionary. We are studying the syllables and the diacritical marks

In geometry it seems two girls never have their minds on geometry. We are studying the rhombus. Well, these two certain girls wrote down rumba instead of rhombus.

We are studying about the good old state of Iowa and its government in citizenship. The other day Darwin Nelson was sent out of class so he could wash his face. Darwin, it seems, was chewing a piece of lead, which made his face all BLACK!

"Tip"

Junior News

We've been studying Keats in English literature, and enjoy him very much. We have also been enjoying the reading of sonnets and odes, which are typical of the Romantic Period. Content cards and questions are our main worry. Charles Lamb, who wrote the familiar essay on the roast pig, is our next author.

Senior science is still about cars, and their parts. We are studying parts such as the gear shift, brakes, which include mechanical and hydraulic construction of a car, and the starting of a car. Three of the class received drivers' licenses last Thursday.

We are still on letter writing in typing, in fact we will be for a LONG time.

"Tip"

Senior News

In sociology we are studying "Problems of the Physical and Mental Well-Being". The chapter concerns population problems.

In biology we have just finished the study of birds and are drawing the interior parts of the bird. We are going to study "Conservation of the Larger Wild Animals" as our next topic.

Features of the Week

Hello, everyone. How does this typical March weather affect you? Well, anyway, lets see of we can't brighten you up with some special feature.

THE QUESTION BOX:

The question for this week is "Which is, in your own opinion the smarter—boys or girls? Why?

Mi'o ("Mike") Berhow: "Girls"

Lorin Fjetland: "Boys, because they know all the answers—(to certain questions). But when it comes to geometry, the girls know all the answers." (It must be that Lorin can't get that certain subject.)

CHARACTER SKETCH

He was forward on our basketball team and will probably play left field in baseball.

Yes, George is liked by quite a few girls in school, and is always turning round and talking to Lois Ann Avery, while in classes the attention is diverted to Cleola Boller.

Well, I guess that about ends our sketch for this week except that our character's full name is George Gerdes.

(by Junior Mayhew)

A PUZZLER'S ANSWER

Last week's question. "What is a "beetle"? (a war expression.)

The answer: "The Germans thought up an idea of having a tank controlled by radio and which contained a thousand pounds of high explosives. This tank could be run into our forces; however, the "Beetle" was a failure, for our artillery could destroy them before they caused any damage."

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE MONTH, MARCH

As we all probably know, March is named for Mars, the Roman God of War. The birth flower is the violet, and the birth stone is the bloodstone, which endows its wearer with courage.

Until next week—Cheerio!

Junior High Now Ready For Nine Weeks Tests

With the ending of the third quarter we were again faced with nine weeks tests. However, we have profited by our experience this year and have learned how to prepare ourselves for test time. We find that prompt and regular preparation of daily assignments, keeping all work completed and up-to-date, and regular attendance have a greater influence on scholastic achievement. Cramming is of very little value without these. Our class reviews have been somewhat beneficial.

Miss Sherwood conducted the spelling contests in the Junior High last week to determine the contestants who would compete in the school contest last Friday. A great deal of interest and enthusiasm were shown. There were some rather exciting and breathless moments in the finals of the five rounds. At first there was a preliminary written elimination. Only those with a certain percentage of accuracy were allowed to become oral contestants. There were five rounds in oral competition. The winner of each round was eligible for the school contest as a representative of his grade and thereby dropped out of the remaining rounds. The winners in the seventh grade were Janis Bailey, Janyce Larson, Kathryn Tracy, Marian Anderson and Jeanne Tyrrell. Eighth grade winners were Dorothy Kriens, Dorothy Severseike, Jimmy Pierce, Betty Duggan and Mary Joye Helland.

In The Bronco Corral

Spring is here!! It won't be long before nature starts touching up the picture in green. When this happens it is a sure sign that picnics are just around the corner. Oh Boy!

Have you noticed: the long faces after receiving report cards? that the Senior class play hasn't been chosen? George S.'s "slick necktie, "I glow for you in a big way" (You'd have to be in the dark [illegible] that), the Gunner's wings [illegible] been wearing? "Ozzie" [illegible]!!

The Seniors have just eight more weeks of school. (There's nine for the rest of you). How about it Seniors, are you glad? What a silly question!

What goes on in second period government class is dubious but it's one sure thing it's not boring. If you think so you might step out in the hall. If you can't hear them in your classrooms.

Can someone offer any advice on the question: Just who is it that J. E. B. really likes. (There are several who would like to know).

How is the War Stamp purchasing coming? Keep it up!!

Betty Duggan and Jeanne Tyrrell Will Compete In County Spelling Contest

Betty Duggan, 8th grader, and Jeanne Tyrrell, 7th grader, will represent the Belmond grade school in the Wright County Spelling Bee at Clarion Saturday morning.

Betty won first place and Jean second in a contest that included five representatives of each grade from four to eight. Betty won when she spelled "miscellaneous" after Jean missed the word. She then spelled "lyric" to be declared winner.

The two girls will compete with other spellers from all over the county at the court house Saturday at 9:00 A. M. The contest will consist of a written section to be followed by an oral spell-down.

Interior Decorating On Senior Home Ec Agenda

The Senior home ec. class is studying interior decorating. They found floor plans and drew to scale and then drew each room to scale. An intensive study of how rugs were made was also included.

The girls are now decorating each room of their houses indicating style of furniture, color of rugs and drapes. Also special reports on glass ware and the buying of sheets have been given.

One Day Vacation On March 31. Teachers To Atttend Annual Meeting

Friday the 31st will be a day of rest for us students. Well, at least we won't have to attend school.

There is a meeting of the North Central district of Iowa State Teachers Association at Fort Dodge. Most of the Belmond faculty will attend that meeting; others will visit school at other towns and cities.

Fifth Grade News

The winners of the spelling contest in the fifth grade room last Friday were Marilyn Ellis, Helen Gabrielson, Myron Trager, Don Faris and Donald Grillo. Marilyn was first in both the written and oral.

Isobel Negrete is back to school again after having the flu.

Taste and Baste Club Plan Pot Luck Supper

Baseball and Track On Spring Athletic Program

B. H. S. spring athletics are soon here with baseball practice starting next week if possible and track beginning soon after. Baseball has been accepted enthusiastically and it looks as if there will be a good turn out next week when Coach Lansing calls for recruits. Track prospects are bright too, for in our ranks are many fast, strong and limber followers of the cinder-path. Let's get behind our coach and our school and put baseball and track over in a big way.

Freshmen Home Ec Girls Knit, Crochet and Sew

The freshmen girls started the second semester by learning to knit and crochet. After that they made notebooks on color harmonies and basic fabrics. Tests were made with different colored material held by the girls face to see which color suited her best. Samples of different hems and seams were made. Their first project, an apron was started after that. At the present all the girls are working on their second project which is a blouse. After this is done they can make anything they wish. At the end of the year they plan to have four projects completed.

Sows Need Help

A sow with pigs must answer the demands of her litter on the average of once every 62 minutes—and a good sow must produce a total of 400 to 500 pounds of milk during the time she suckles her litter. To meet such heavy demands, the sow must have liberal amounts of feed rich in protein, vitamins, and minerals.

BIG GAIN PIG & SOW RATION combines in the right proportions an abundance of the things needed to (1) Increase the flow of milk and prevent nursing loss of weight in your sows, (2) Protect the health and increase the rate of growth and gain in the baby pigs by providing an ideal supplement to the sow's milk.

Prevent nursing loss on sows and increase your pig profits with BIG GAIN PIG & SOW RATION.

May Apply For Canning Sugar Now

Applications Accepted At Any Time During Season

Applications for home canning sugar may be filed now either in person or by mail with the local War Price and Rationing board, it has been announced by C. C. Benson, chairman of the board. Applications will be accepted at any time during the canning season.

Coupon No. 40 in Ration Book 4 may be used for purchase of five pounds of canning sugar any time between the present and next Feb. 28. Not more than 20 additional pounds for home canning may be allowed by the local board to each ration book holder, depending upon the facts presented in the application.

Chairman Benson emphasized that OPA has been advised of a critically short supply of sugar for the nation and that allowance reductions were made for commercial users in order to permit the same amount of home canning sugar this year as last. This was done, he explained, to promote a record year of fruit canning.

Because of the critical supply, applicants are urged to ask only for the amount needed at the time, thereby preventing a rush on the markets. A ration book holder may file more than one application so long as the total amount asked does not exceed the maximum of 20 additional pounds for home canning.

THROW AWAY

Many persons have asked what they should do with the cover of Ration Book No. 1 after expiration of Shoe Stamp 18 on April 30. The reply of OPA is "Throw it away!"

Belmond Participated 100% In Miniature X-ray School Program

Belmond was among four schools in the county which showed a 100% participation in the miniature film program conducted last week as a part of the fight against Tuberculosis, Miss Wilma Soehren, Wright county public health nurse reported today. The other three 100% schools were Woolstock, Goldfield and Dows. Rowan and Galt had 99% attendance, Eagle Grove 95% and Clarion 87%. 20 rural teachers also took advantage of the program.

1159 films were made in the county and included high school students, high school personnel and rural teachers. The pictures were taken at no cost to the individual, as the entire program was paid for out of the sale of Christmas seals.

It is planned that the miniature film program will be repeated every three years so that in time every child will be given the x-ray. It is the best known and most thorough procedure found to combat tuberculosis.

Seek Solution To Shortage Of Farm Labor

Hybrid Corn Producers To Meet April 12

An acute shortage of experienced farm laborers and a dwindling supply of labor for short time and emergency help is jeopardizing total production of food and war materials in Wright County. To relieve the situation, local farm labor committees will be set up in every community to register and recruit labor from every available source.

Most serious threat for the immediate future is the shortage of farm help available for seed bed preparation and planting time. There are 37 unfilled requests for full time farm labor at the county extension office and no help in sight to fill them. No record is available of farmers who need help but have tried other sources.

Hybrid corn producers from Wright County and surrounding counties of Hamilton, Humboldt, Franklin, Kossuth, Cerro Gordo and Hancock have been invited to Clarion on April 12th, by county extension Director Aaron R. Bowman. They will discuss the problem of recruiting labor for detasseling corn for hybrid seed producers. Labor recruited for detasseling was used last year for many other jobs after the detasseling was finished.

A recent check of women who assisted in emergency work last year shows that approximately 25 per cent have accepted full time employment and will not be available this year. New sources of supply will have to be found.

Achievement Day For Farm Women Is Today

Mrs. Raymond Sayre, State Chairman, Farm Bureau Women's Committee of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, will keynote Wright County farm women's Achievement, March 30, today, at the I. O. O. F. Hall in Clarion. She will speak on school code revision.

Miss Elizabeth Diehl, county extension home economist, says the Achievement Day will be more like a women's annual meeting than the Achievement Days previously held. The three-fold purpose for holding wartime Achievement Days is to inspire women for the wartime job in the farm home; to express appreciation for work well done, and to inform all people in the county of the wartime educational program. In addition, the women will exchange ideas concerning the 1944-45 educational program.

JOHN SCHULTZ DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Henry Schultz received word that his brother, John Schultz, a former resident of Belmond, passed away at Oxnard, California, on March 23.

Sgt. Mosiman On Furlough

Home After Two Years

Wounded On Italian Front

Rollin Mosiman, Sgt. Technician, is spending a 30-day furlough in Belmond after overseas duty totaling exactly two years and one day. Mosiman was in the second contingent that landed in Ireland early in 1942. He left the states Feb. 18, 1942, and returned on Feb. 19, 1944.

During that period he was also in Scotland and England and took part in North African and Italian campaigns.

Starting his army services in a machine gun squad, he was later transferred to the kitchen detail where his first job as a cook was preparing apple cobbler for 90 officers. He speaks too of baking beans in 15-gallon quantities and confesses that he really doesn't care much for beans any more.

While in Italy they were able to prepare a few hot meals, but most of the time the men lived on "K" Rations, and the kitchen details were, therefore, kept busy with other jobs such as carrying ammunition, rations, communication wire etc. from supply stations up to the front.

It was during this kind of duty, while carrying food and water to wounded men on the front lines that one of Mosiman's group stepped on a landmine. One of the men was killed instantly and Mosiman was seriously injured when hit in the back. He says "I was knocked unconscious, but when I came to I was still standing up. Even now, it makes me shiver when I talk about it."

Among the awards that have come to Sgt. Mosiman are the Purple Heart, the Good Conduct Medal and a ribbon for pre-Pearl Harbor enlistment.

He cant' speak too highly of the hospital, medical, and nursing service in the armed forces. After he was wounded in November, 1943, he was taken to an evacuation hospital just back of the front line. He says "There I received exceptionally fine care where American nurses work right along with the doctors, practically on the battle front." From November until he arrived in Belmond three weeks ago, Mosiman had been to seven different hospitals, two hospital ships and two hospital trains.

While in Belmond Sgt. Mosiman has been visiting at the homes of two sisters, Mrs. Paul Steenblock and Mrs. Pete Daniels. He leaves Saturday for Finney General Hospital at Thomasville, Georgia for further observation.

Held Special Meeting March 23

The stockholders of the Farmers Creamery Company met in a special meeting Thursday, March 23, at the Library basement in Belmond. W. H. Thompson, Vice-president and Secretary of the Omaha Bank for Cooperatives, was present to explain the advantages of and the procedure for changing the company to a cooperative organization.

After the reading of the new Articles of Incorporation, a motion was made that they be adopted. The results of the vote on the motion were—Yes, 114; No. 1. 38 shares were not represented.

The name of the new organization will be the Belmond Cooperative Creamery. Operation under the new articles will begin April 16, 1944. Every patron will be a member of the organization and will share in its profits. Stockholders of the Farmers Creamery Company will receive a cerificate of interest for $19 and $1.00 membership in the cooperative for each share if eligible for membership; if not eligible (stockholders who are not patrons) they will receive a certificate of interest for $20.00. All stockholders are urged to turn in their stock certificates immediately so that they may be issued their certificates.

April 2, 3, 4 Replaces "Standing Room Only" "Johnny Come Lately"

"Standing Room Only" with a cast headed by Fred McMurray, Paulette Goddard and Edward Arnold will be shown at the Lyric Theater on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, April 2, 3 and 4.

"Standing Room Only" is a comedy of war-crowded Washington, following in the wake of "The More the Merrier" and "Government Girl." It doesn't have to take a back seat to either of its predecessors and has some new tricks of its own to show them both. It's a smart, polished and wackily delightful comedy of errors.

Call To Arms On The Home Front

You are asking, "What can I do?" There are things you can do—things that are simple and easy yet so vital and necessary, things that can be done during the ordinary routine of household tasks. You can help with Salvage. It is important!

TIN CANS

Gather your tin cans. They are of no value unless properly processed. If every housewife in the nation saved as little as two cans in one week, it would mean enough scrap steel to make the steel used in the hulls of three heavy cruisers and the tin used in 20 submarines.

Bring your tins to your grocer when you shop, or if you have a large quantity, bring it to the Tin Can Depot (Cato Griesy's Machine Shed west of the Ford Garage.) A truck load of tin cans was recently taken from that point.

PAPER

Save your paper for Boy Scout paper drive to take place in a few weeks. Process paper, magazines, etc. by tying securely in bundles 12x18 inches high. Waste basket paper should be put in a box or bag.

From the day the soldier goes to war until he gets his honorable discharge, he is dependent on paper, literally. He lives, trains, travels and fights with paper. Every scrap of paper is needed: boxes, cartons, store bags, envelopes, newspapers, magazines, corrugated paper and wastebasket paper. Watch Independent for notice of Scout paper drive.

FATS

Fats are coming in by large quantities at our meat counters. Bring in all you can save and get paid for this much needed war commodity. All know how important is the need for fat. Keep it coming. Iowa's 19[illegible] fat quota is 4,600,000 pounds.

Mrs. H. L. Gowdy, Local Chairman
Woman's Salvage Committee.

AMAZING PUZZLE—

The making of laws, the amending of laws, and the repealing of laws are time-consuming efforts.

For instance, just take a look at the federal income tax problem, which is only one phase of our whole intricate tax collection system. Experts have been working for months to get the federal income tax on a pay-as-you-go basis. Now, before the thing has even had a year's trial, committees in Washington are thinking up ways to change the requirements, instructions, exemptions, deductions . . . before returns for another year are due to be filed.

We, who have been looking forward to a new and simplified tax form, are about ready to give up in despair. We spend hours trying to memorize - or at least become familiar with - the instructions and requirements. Only to find when another year rolls around that we have to start again at the very beginning to fit together the pieces of this amazing tax puzzle.

WELL KNOWN HABIT—

It is getting to be a well-known habit – Belmond has gone "over the top" again.

In the Red Cross War Fund Drive held recently, the citizens of this vicinity had contributed $3846.25 on Mar. 22 and at that time there were still several reports incomplete.

Compare this figure with the quota of $2100 assigned to the Belmond Chapter, and you can readily see how well the Belmond community responded to this war-time need.

WHEN ARE THEY GOING?

We have been wondering where they are going to use all of the men who expect to enter the armed services in the near future, in addition to the millions who are already in training.

However, at least a part of them will be replacing veterans released from service in World War 2. An announcement last week stated that over 4000 Iowa Veterans had already received their mustering-out pay.

WHAT IS INFLATION?

Inflation has been well described as "the ruthless process whereby sacrifice is imposed inequitably upon a people who have lacked the unity, the courage and the intelligence to impose that sacrifice equitably upon themselves."

Is there danger of inflation in the United States?

Yes, because the national income of individuals after taxes, in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1943, will be 130 billion dollars and the amount of goods and services available only 85 billion dollars, the difference of 45 billion dollars representing the inflation threat.

What would happen if we had inflation?

Prices would rise so fast that no increases in wages could keep up with them, the purchasing power of savings accumulated in the hope of providing a competence for old age would deteriorate. Bonds and other fixed obligations fixed in dollar amounts would decline drastically and the whole price structure would be disorganized, creating suffering, privation and probably chaos.

How can inflation be avoided?

Purchase of War Bonds.
Ceilings on prices, wages and rents.
Limiting consumer credit.
Rationing all scarce articles.

WITH OTHER EDITORS—

The New Dealers continue to point out that the Republicans haven't any big men to run against the President in the 1944 campaign. What is a "big" man other than a little man that happens to catch the public imagination?—Northwood Anchor.

This column's choice for the last 4 years has been Willkie. The times and the political battle ahead call for a really big man who would make a great president, and in this writer's considered opinion Willkie is the only republican of that stature now in sight, not excepting even the governor of New York.—Algona Advance.

There are millions of adults in this country who are getting grossly exaggerated ideas of the value of their services and they can hardly be blamed for that. It is the result of the administration's policy of paying too lavishly for nearly everything in connection with the war, ever since the gigantic defense program was started in 1939.—Traer Star-Clipper.

The records show that the weekly earnings of war workers have been advanced 29.2 per cent since 1941, and still if local employers advance their employee's wages the New Deal will crack down on them.—Clarion Monitor.

Now that we've been cut down to just about enough gasoline to get us to the filling station and back, another old and puzzling question arises into prominence once again. Whatever became of all those inventive geniuses who from time to time have announced discovery of ways to make satisfactory motor fuel by some such simple process as mixing bicarbonate of soda with tap water or dropping an aspirin tablet into a gallon of sassafras tea? The story as it's usually told is that these potential benefactors of mankind sold out for handsome fortunes to the big oil companies, which promptly hid their formulas away in vaults.

But even the big oil companies ought to be tempted by the dollars they could pluck with a fair gasoline substitute these days.—Cedar Rapids Gazette.

A young woman from the hinterland, now employed in Washington, was asked by a curious and admiring relative what important position she was filling in the nation's capital. She replied: "work in the data analysis group of the aptitude test sub-unit of the workers analysis and manning tables of the bureau of labor utilization of the war manpower commission." —Story City Herald.

Swiss-born Erica de Meuron stepped on United States soil for the first time July 19, 1940. With her husband she was in flight before Hitler. Source of their income, largely Paris real estate, was in Nazi hands.

Today the name Erica de Meuron is a nationally known mark of elegance in women's dresses. Miss Meuron has more than 100 people working for her, making the hand-knitted, sports-type wool dress she has originated.

Question her about her success, and she will tell you: "The secret is America. It can happen only here. So many told me that there were no more opportunities in America. Maybe you have to come from another country to see it in true perspective. But I want to say this — the opportunities here are still fabulous."—Nation's Business.

So you think government gives the people something, do you. Listen! Government has no funds of its own; no magic formula to create wealth. It has ONLY what we give it. "In the showdown", points out a smart student, "the government cannot support US. We must support the government." Let's keep that fact straight in our thinking.—Northwood Anchor.

After finishing 'boot training' it is always possible that yours truly could be sent to Shoemaker, Calif., where George Hansen now is. Eva, who brought the whole thing up, remarked that maybe she wouldn't feel quite so much at ease if she knew we were both there together.

Now I wonder why she said that? Could be she hasn't forgotten the trip we took to "Rapid Dam" several years ago.

George, who is the editor of the Fleet City News, managed to 'cut the mustard' and change the sheet from a mimeographed paper to a printed four page newspaper, a decided improvement and much more attractive. He not only edits the paper, which appears every other week, but steps into the back shop to help make it up and print it.

The inability of Americans and British to get started below Rome and on the beachhead is getting to be embarrassing, particularly when the Russians are running wild all over the map. Radio commentators have begun to be apologetic and critical. The war is in a rather critical stage—maybe it is strategy to fool the enemy. Perhaps it's something like the Russian-Finland war of some years ago, when the Russians let themselves be pushed around a bit and thereby fooled the Nazis (and the rest of the world) into thinking they weren't so hot. Then when the real battle started they warmed up in a hurry. Let's hope that's the reason for the heartbreaking delay below Rome.—From DED's Hodgepodge in the Kossuth County Advance.

When rationing came into effect on gas and tires people were quick to classify everyone as an "A" book holder or a "B" or "C" book holder. Now they all are conscious of how old the men are and whether they have any ailments or not. It is no use trying to keep your age a secret now. Everyone knows whether a man is of draft age or not.—T. FREE-FOR-ALL, EXCEPT—

If a neighbor butts in, both the husband and wife usually — and rightfully — turn on the neighbor.

People who own businesses and people who work for them are like a married couple. They are really in the same boat and have mutual interests. But sometimes, naturally, differences in opinion do arise.

And they have learned, sadly, what happens when they have a temporary falling out and get hysterical and call in a bunch of politicians to settle the difficulty.

Pretty soon, the politicians are running both the businesses and the workers.

Both sides wish they had fought it out manfully between themselves instead of letting a third party horn in.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I was just tellin' my brother Fred this morning, Judge...there's never been a time in our lives when we got to live up to that old sayin' 'United we stand, divided we fall' more than we have to today."

"How true that is, Herb. And for the life of me, I can't figure out why, at a time like this, some folks insist on raising a question like prohibition. I can't imagine anything that would tickle our enemies more than to get us folks over here taking sides against each other, arguing about an issue like that. We've got a he-man's job on our hands to win this war and we can't be wasting our minds, our money and our strength fighting about something we tried for nearly 14 years and found couldn't work.

"I say there's a time and a place for everything, and this is no time or place to be doing any fightin' except the kind that's going to win the war."

"HE'S SURE MAKING A HOG OF HIMSELF ON THAT CARGILL!"

Something to pin on your conscience

EACH MONTH, 16 to 17% of the pay of our Armed Forces participating in the Payroll Savings Plan goes toward the purchase of War Bonds. That's what the men who are doing the actual fighting in this war think of the importance to Victory of buying bonds and more bonds. Think that one over!

WE'LL FIGHT 'EM WITH EGGS!

That means produce more eggs. That means give the hens what it takes to make eggs. That means, on the Dr. Hess Research Farm, add DR. HESS POULTRY PAN-A-MIN to the ration.

PAN-A-MIN is a two-job product, it supplies the hen with both tonics and minerals. Tonics stimulate appetite and the consumption of feed. Minerals are as essential to egg production as the proteins and carbohydrates in grain.

Dr. Hess & Clark get as many as 23 extra eggs per bird per year from their PAN-A-MIN birds. We think you'll get more eggs if you use PAN-A-MIN. Will you try it?

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY

The High School and Junior High students enjoyed a party at the Hall last Tuesday evening. The party was to celebrate the sale of magazines by this school. The losing side was host to the winning side.

The party lasted two hours and a half during which time games were played, a tasty lunch was served and to coin an old and well worn out phrase, "a good time was had by all".

"Tip"

NEW BOOKS

With the remaining proceeds from our magazine-selling contest, we are purchasing new fiction and non-fiction books. This will be a great improvement in our library, for it has been dwindling down for some time.

Primary News

The children of the primary department have been studying food for better health. Ever since they can remember, they have been hearing mother and dad say "Drink your milk, or eat your lettuce, or eat your carrots, etc." They are still hearing it at home and now more and more in their health class at school. They began to wonder what it was all about, so they have invited Mickey and Dickey Rat (two tame baby white rats) of Iowa State college to come and live in their school room and eat the foods that Pa's, Ma's and Teachers say that children should eat. They chose the tame white rats as rat's life for one month is equal to three years in a child's life. The body functions and development are similar to the human body. They are going to feed Mickey and Dickey the same foods the average American family gets (meat or eggs, potatoes, gravy, bread, butter, navy beans, any kind of pie, oatmeal, coffee, candy, and a little milk. Dickey weighs 54 grams and is to be the naughty litttle boy who refuses to drink his milk and eat his lettuce and carrots but eats lots of candy and drinks coffee. Mickey weighs 52 grams and is to be the good little boy who always eats his food. And in addition to the above foods he likes milk instead of coffee. He eats all vegetables and fruits and he eats candy when mother says it is time for it.

The children take turns caring for the rats. The food is dried and measured except the fresh foods for Mickey. The rats are weighed each week. Both are very lively and healthy. Up to now they have had the same food and weigh almost the same.

Intermediate News

The whole room is talking about the show "Lassie Come Home". Fifteen pupils out of an enrollment of twenty-eight have seen the show.

7th and 8th Grade News

Arithmetic consists of interest in the seventh grade. The eighth grade is learning about volumes.

"Tip"

Freshmen and Sophomore News

In citizenship we have just finished a month unit test, and it was thought to be one of the easiest ones given, but the ones who took it thought differently. We are now ready to study about our relations with other countries.

This week in history we have been discussing Money, (the gold and silver standards) and the McKinley and "Teddy" Roosevelt administrations.

Are you ready for geometry? Well here it comes. We have been learning "two" new theorems every day besides the problems. This week the algebra class has been trying to finish up with pairs of linear equations and start something new.

Our vocabularies have increased somewhat, but not as much as they could have in English. I believe the dictionaries are being used more now than they have been all year, because of us learning abbreviations, the standing of words, and foreign words, with their meanings. We also had to give reports on some proper names.

"Tip"

JUNIOR AND SENIOR NEWS

In English literature, the junior and senior students are learning about the life and contributions of Samuel Coleridge, a scholar and a poet of genius. His only drawback was his habitual taking of drugs in his latter life. We find his two selections "Kubla Khan" written about Khan, an emperor of China and Asia, and "Christabel", which is the struggle between the innocent heroine, Christabel, and a witch named Geraldine, are very interesting. The two selections are but fragments of Coleridge's genius, so Mrs. Emmons is having the class write the ending of "Christabel". Everyone is awaiting results!

Transportation facilities these days are "out of the question", but it doesn't do one any harm in "dreaming" does it? This is what we are doing in senior science—studying about the bus, railway, etc., and wishing whole-heartedly that we could travel with the ease today as they did when our text book was published - 1937.

When you open a can of salmon, (who has salmon, at the present?) do you ever wonder what happened to the salmon before it was put in the can and wonder, too, what might have happened if it had been allowed to live? The biology class is finding this an interesting story—the life story of the salmon. Just think of it—another six weeks almost completed. Yes, we were warned last Wednesday that our biology examination would be in the very present future!

The junior girls have been pretty excited lately—because most of them have their "formals" for the banquet.

In sociology we are now studying "Social Aspects of Health" and about "Socialized Medicine". We are also writing reports from other books.

Features of the Week

Hello, everyone. What weather, and its spring too. Anyway, its supposed to be, for Monday the 20th (because of leap year) was the official day.

But let's see what happened during the week by reading the "Features".

"Tip"

THE QUESTION BOX

"What is your favorite comic strip? Why?"

Darwin Nelson: "Superman, because I'm going to be just like him (Gee, gorsh!)".

Elsie Gerdes: "Oaky Doaks, because that is the only one I read and I think it is the most interesting".

"Tip"

A CHARACTER SKETCH

This person is a sophomore, whose grades show that lessons aren't neglected. She minds the teachers, (so far, anyway) and she has many friends.

Shall I describe her to you? Well, first of all, she is five feet, five, light brown hair and blue eyes.

Yes, I guess that's about the end, but I forgot something—her name. It is Miss Gladys Mayhew (know her?).

"Tip"

INTERESTING FACTS

Let's go back to the month of January, where we find that it received its name from the ancient Roman diety—Janus, the god of gates and doors—hence the beginning of all things. The birth flower is the beautiful carnation, and the birth stone is the garnet, which endows its wearer with the virtue of constancy.

Perhaps it is an old dresser or table that you no longer are using. Or maybe you have an extra stove you don't need, or a set of books you would like to get rid of, it might be something big, like a house or lot, or farm.

Or it could be that you need something and would like to buy it, but do not know where it can be found.

STORM CASUALTIES

Four hundred and fifty telephones were victims of the recent storm that left ice on the lines and poles in the Clarinda vicinity It took the telephone company employees three or four days to complete repairs enabling all telephones to be back in service.

TO THE WIND

First-class mail tied to a newspaper bundle thrown off a train at Cylinder was strewn over the ground when the rope broke. Some letters were sucked under the wheels of the train, some scattered on the ground while others were blown into a nearby creek. Some of the mail was cut beyond recognition or redemption while some letters could be partially identified. Tractor coupons included in the mail were returned to the ration board in torn envelopes.

On Masera Island, up in the Persian Gulf, where there is not a single tree standing and the wind blows across the island ceaselessly, Red Cross field men brought fishing tackle, books and writing paper to service men. Most welcome gift from the Red Cross was clippers for hair cutting—the boys had been without a barber for months.

In Africa, Red Cross field men flew in Army planes, hitch-hiked in supply trucks, bumped in jeeps over bombed convoy routes, through blinding sand storms and glaring sun to help men with personal problems and emergency communications, and to deliver magazines and books, cigarettes and chocolate to isolated posts and bases.

In India, a sergeant was sentenced to the guard house for disorderly conduct. His officer couldn't understand the boy's behaviour. He was a nice kid—he'd never gone to pieces before.

The officer asked the Red Cross Field Director to see him. The Red Cross man discovered a very worried boy. His wife had not been receiving his allotments, she wasn't well and needed an operation. She thought the soldier must have cancelled his allotments and a misunderstanding had arisen between them so that she was no longer writing him.

The field man got in touch with the Red Cross chapter in the boy's home town immediately. It took care of her, financed her operation and saw that she had adequate funds to provide for herself until the allotment again came through.

When the Red Cross man explained what had happened to the soldier's Commanding Officer, the latter promptly released the boy from the guard house. From then on the boy was all right. His worries were over, and the Army had gained a good fighting man.

All over the world, in every theatre of war and active battle front go the American Red Cross field men—helping soldiers with major and minor personal problems, bringing them recreational items such as magazines, books, comfort articles, athletic equipment and re-establishing their contact with home. These men share the conditions and hazards under which the soldiers fight. They also share their lives. They are on call day and night whenever they are needed.

G.I.'s overseas have many problems. Often home seems very, very far away. With the Red Cross there at hand wherever he may be, the soldier knows he can always get in touch with home — that he need never feel alone with problems he doesn't know how to solve himself. More than 3,000,000 service men passed through Red Cross field men's offices last year.

On the mud clogged roads of Italy, through the far jungles of New Guinea, on lonely desert posts, Red Cross field men take your place beside your boy. In order to continue this service, the Red Cross urgently needs contributions from the American people to its $200,000,000 War Fund drive this month.

Elect Gerhard Thompson President of Beekeepers

Gerhard Thompson was re-elected president and Forrest Coulter Secretary-Treasurer of the Wright County Beekeepers at their annual meeting at Clarion on Thusday, March 23.

F. B. Paddock, apiary specialist from Iowa State College, discussed the outlook for honey production. Paddock stated that the mortality rate of wintered bees is below normal for the state but for Wright County it is better than average. Stores for wintering bees are low and it will be necessary for supplemental feeding of sugar syrup at once to prevent heavy loss until the honey flow starts.

Beekeepers who ordered package bees early to increase their colonies will probably get delivery fairly early. Southern producers of package bees will not be able to fill late orders because of labor shortages in the south.

The State Highway Commission is cooperating with beekeepers to provide more pasturage by not mowing the entire space along highways until the honey flow is mostly over. This is the supplement the pasture and hay lands plowed up for war crops.

Army and Navy supplies of beeswax are extremely low and all supplies produced may be taken for them. Complete uses of beeswax by our armed forces is not known, but it is known that one use is a spray to protect against poison gas burns.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY

A discovery valuable to airplane pilots in wartime as well as an aid in peacetime was made by Kenton May and Fred B. Williamson May, formerly of Anamosa, was working in an aircraft plant in Bufaflo, New York, when he and his general foreman, Fred B. Williamson, discovered a process that would make undistorted vision a reality in cabin enclosures for planes. May, now a seaman first class, is stationed in England with the Seabees and is doing construction work.

QUITE A FALL

Sergeant Neil Schissel of Decorah should be able to survive almost anything after his recent escape from death. He fell 1,200 feet from an airplane, receiving serious injuries but none critical. His parachute failed to open, as did the emergency parachute. The accident occurred at Ft. Benning, Ga.

EDUCATIONAL RIDE

The first grade students of the Sheldon public school and their teacher, Miss Dorothy B'esie, enjoyed a train ride to Hull recently, The excursion was the first train ride for the pupils. Not only was the ride a thrill to the youngsters but educational as well. One of the train executives explained the many different department and workings of the train.

Nutrition Council Will Unify Food Program

To unify all food campaigns in the Food Fights for Freedom program is the objective of nutrition councils throughout Iowa and throughout the nation. Mrs. Lynn Thompson, Wright County Nutrition Chairman, reports that the 1944 program will be based on a schedule that supports specific action objectives at different times of year.

Extension, school and community food programs will be keyed to this program. The first and last quarters will see emphasis on keeping the home front pledge to "Buy only what I need: but no rationed goods without giving up ration stamps, and buy goods at legal ceiling prices." In addition, a no-point food campaign will emphasize use of abundant foods in order to make scarce products go as far as possible.

April and May are gardening months and will be launched with a "Grow More in '44" Week March 19 to 25. Every family will be encouraged to plant or have a part in a victory garden.

Conservation of food, while it will have an important place in every phase of the year's program will be emphasized in June, July, August. Canning, freezing, drying, bringing, storage will be promoted as methods of preserving fruits and vegetables. At the same time, conservation of nutrients through proper preparation and cookery and conservation through prevention of waste will be part of the program.

Using food most productively for health and strength will be emphasized in September. Planning and serving balanced meals using plentiful foods will be the main objective at that time.

Announce 4-H Banner Swine Producers Awards

Twenty-five Iowa 4-H Club boys who assume responsibility for the care and management of the hogs on their respective home farms and who make outstanding records with their 1944 spring pig production will be honored as "Banner 4-H Swine Producers", according to work received recently by the county extension office.

The number of pigs marketed per sow, the amount of pork produced per sow and the approved swine production and management practices used will be the basis for the awards. The 25 boys will receive Banner Swine Producers Achievement Certificates and medals from the Iowa Swine Producers Association. Any 4-H club member enrolled in the 4-H Club swine management project who assumes all or a major part of the responsibility for the care of the hogs on the home farm is eligible for the award. Swine herds must include four or more sows farrowing.

All 4-H members interested in enrolling in this project and local leaders can get details about awards and the requirements at the county extension office.

Mrs. Fred Hess and son Pfc. Merle Hess of Waverly visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mikesh on Tuesday afternoon.

Remove Expiration Dates of Food Stamps

Announce New Point Values

Major relief for the nation's 600,000 retailers from the burdens of food rationing has just been announced by the Office of Price Administration, in directing the removal of expiration dates from red and blue stamps, used for buying meats, fats, oils and processed fruits and vegetables.

From now on the red and blue stamps in War Ration Book Four will be good indifinitely, just as shoes and sugar stamps are. Advance notice will be given if it is found necessary to retire any food stamps.

There is no change in the rate at which stamps become good.

NEW MEAT POINT VALUES

With estimated civilian supplies of meat for April showing but a slight decrease from March, new meat ration point values which were effective last Sunday, April 2, show virtually no change from the present, the Office of Price Administration has announced.

All popular fresh cuts of beef, pork, veal and mutton will continue during the next month, at the low point values set for March.

The point value of butter remains at 16 points, the same value as has been in effect for some months.

NEW POINT VALUES IN EFFECT

Point values of all frozen fruits and vegetables, accounting for about 6 per cent of all rationed processed foods, will be at zero for the period which began April 2 and runs through April 29.

WRITES ABOUT CHRISTMAS SPIRIT IN PRISON CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Jenison have just received another letter from their son Kenneth, a German prisoner of War, at Stalag, this one written the day after Christmas. He writes about Christmas in the prison camp as follows:

"The Red Cross had a surprise for us. Besides our weekly food parcel, we received a Christmas box. It contained three cans of preserves, peanut butter, two cans of creamery butter, fruit cake, chocolate bars, fruit bars, hard candy, 12 packages of cigarettes, two handkerchiefs. Everyone had a lot of fun decorating the barracks. I think that everyone had that old Christmas spirit which makes it just that much easier to get along O K"

Meeting Is Wednesday April 12

Hybrid corn producers and County Extension Directors from seven counties will meet at Clarion on Wednesday, April 12th, at the invitation of Wright County Extension Director, Aaron R. Bowman, to discuss the problem of securing labor for detasseling the 1944 Hybrid corn crop, and for other agencies needing emergency workers.

The meeting is called for 2 p. m. at the courthouse.

Invited to meet with the hybrid corn producers will be other industries and agencies who also may use emergency labor for short time; or who will be affected by the discussion on wages, recruitment and releases of emergency labor for detasseling.

Floyd Johnston, State Supervisor of Emergency Farm Labor, will attend the meeting and discuss method, procedures, and availability of foreign and prisoner labor for emengency use. District Extension Supervisor and the United States Employment Service representatives will also attend the meeting.

Counties who have been invited to attend the meeting, in addition to Wright County, are Hancock, Cerro Gordo, Franklin, Kossuth, Humboldt and Hamilton.

Chief purposes of the meeting will be to secure information relative to the number of detasselers that will be needed to assure a high quality crop, a discussion of wages for detasselers so that different wage scales will not conflict and the use of similar methods of recruitment of emergency workers.

Wright County will have approximately 2400 acres of hybrid seed under production, or an increase of 500 acres over 1943. Over 700 detasselers were used last year. Many of the emergency workers used last year have accepted full time employment and will not be available this year. There is not much chance of obtaining workers from outside the county, so new sources of emergency workers will have to be tapped.

The files of emergency workers in last year's recruitment were used extensively as a source to secure needed workers all over the county.

Coming here from Camp Carson, Colo., Pvt. Boughton had spent about a year and a half in Alaska, where his company had been on guard on different outposts of the Aleutians at times within view of Kiska.

Boughton mentions particularly the terrific wind on the islands. He said, "At times the wind was so high that our instruments, which register up to 110 miles per hour, failed to record the velocity." The huts in which they lived were built partly under the ground in order to combat the high winds.

EASTER DAY

Easter is the festival of Christ's resurrection, and is the most joyous day in the Christian year, the foremost in dignity of all its commemorations. Easter has this pre-eminence, not only because all the other festivals are derived from it, but chiefly because it commemorates the great historical fact and fundamental truth upon which the whole structure of the Christian religion rests.

It corresponds with the Passover of the Jews, and in the early church pascha designated the festival of the crucifixion; later, it meant both the festival of the crucifixion and the resurrection, but after the fourth century it was limited to the latter feast. The term Easter was first used when Christianity was introduced among the Saxons, and is traced to Eostre, a Saxon goddess, whose festival was celebrated annually in the spring.

Easter is the celebration of an event and not an anniversary. No one knows the exact date of the resurrection, and the date which should be celebrated was fixed by the Council of Nice in 325 A. D., as the first Sunday following the vernal equinox (March 21). It may come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25. From 1916 to 1965 Easter occurs forty times in April and ten in March.

Easter determines a long series of ecclesiastical days from Ash Wednesday to Trinity Sunday; for not only the days before Easter but those after it are reckoned from it.

COOPERATION DOES IT!

Last week we were pleased to see the Dows newspaper—the Wright County Reporter—come out again in a regular, full-size printed edition after several months' publication in a tabloid size.

While all newspapers, particularly the smaller ones, have had hard going the last year or more with the armed services claiming more and more of their skilled workers as well as the editors and owners themselves, it seemed to us that the Dows paper was particularly hard hit when it was forced several months ago, because of the labor problem, to omit one week's publication.

But the very next week, the Wright County Reporter was in circulation again and reached the home of its many subscribers on time. Why do you suppose this was made possible?

We think we know the answer. The subscribers of the Wright County Reporter wanted their own community newspaper, the business men of Dows understood the need, value and importance of having their own hometown newspaper. Everyone interested was willing to cooperate in the finest manner with Mrs. J. Sheldon Thomas, who was pinch-hitting for her husband in the management of the paper while he served in the armed forces, in order that she could continue publication even under the most trying circumstances.

We congratulate Mrs. Thomas on her accomplishment and also offer neighborly good wishes to Carl M. Johnson, who as the new editor and publisher is taking over some of her responsibility.

X-RAY PROGRAM IS HIGHLY COMMENDABLE

In December every family in Belmond had a chance to buy Christmas seals, funds from the sale of which are used to help treat, control and wipe out the disease, tuberculosis.

Recently we had evidence in part of what is being done in this important health program, and it is of particular interest to us because it was done right here in Wright county. We refer to the miniature x-ray film program conducted for high school students and teachers in which there was an exceptionally high participation—Belmond was 100%.

With the plan of repeating these films once every three years, the T. B. eradication program should show better and better results, since these x-ray films constitute a most satisfactory way of checking on the possible early beginnings of the disease in the human body during the years when it so often gets its first hold.

SALVAGE!

We were reminded again last week that there is still great need of salvage. In Belmond we are asked to continue saving TIN CANS, PAPER AND FATS. This is a small thing to do and yet one that really helps.

It will be an easy matter for housewives to do a two-fold job in the next few weeks. Clean house and help the Salvage program at the same time. Housecleaning always means disposing of unsightly collections of tin cans, paper, etc. that have piled up in some corner of the basement or closet or attic. And if you haven't already gotten in the habit of saving waste fats, do that each day. So keep your home free of unnecessary collections of waste and help with SALVAGE.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

A man in the East recently filed suit for divorce because his wife wouldn't let him enjoy worrying about the war. She danced around the room in gay hats, played light numbers on the piano and tooted Yankee Doodle on a tin horn every time he looked down cast and in general tried to keep things on a happy plane in their home.

Such is an extreme case, but we know a couple right here in Clear Lake, who enjoy worrying about the war. We challenge anyone to talk to them for more than two minutes without ending up on the subject. They read all of the newspapers and magazine articles on the subject; listen to every radio program and search through maps by the hour.

Naturally everyone wants to be well informed on the war and world news but people like that should take time off to toot a tin horn and listen to a program of music once in a while instead of 'specializing' on the war until they can't think or talk about any thing else. It almost seems as though wars are designed for people to worry about—and usually those who have no children or relatives in active service do most of it.

We believe this proves more than anything else that entertainment of all kinds is needed for diversion more today than ever before. Regardless of whether it is war or any other subject, it is too bad that some folks can devote so much of their time to worrying over it—and enjoying the worry. They really need a divorce—a divorce from themselves. — Clear Lake Mirror.

We notice that the newspapers over in England are still trying to elect Roosevelt for a fourth term. Why not let the people of the United States elect a president of their own choice? This country is not attempting to tell England who to choose as its prime minister.—Hampton Chronicle.

When a writer refers to himself editorially as "we", how many does they think they are? We would like to try it myselves some time, but when one scratches our heads one never knows which the next thought is coming from.—Ackley World-Herald.
